THE SUNDAY BAND CONCERT.

For the first time in many a day the people of the College Community were favored by a concert by the College band. It was indeed a very great nerve soother considering the length of time that we have been forced to go without the most inspiring thing of all the universe, music. The rain man has been very thick-headed in the way he has handled his precipitations lately. It seemed to be the style to rain all the days of the week except Tuesdays and Thursdays, consequently knocking out all the fun and imposing all the work. The selections played were extremely appropriate and caught the public approval at once. The audience was always on edge waiting for what was to come next. Not being very proficient in interpreting music, no one would expect a burst of crashing sound and then a jump off into absolute silence. Tremendous crescendoes with blanks intervening were in order and were gratefully received. The music lasted for about an hour and a half, at the conclusion of which everyone departed feeling that the afternoon had been very profitably passed.

It might be of interest to know that the College band is going to make a number of records for the Edison Phonograph Company sometime this week. It requires no mean band to receive such recognition as this, although we live next to this band all the time and do not realize what it really is.

SENIORS TO STAGE ANNUAL CLASS PLAY

The Fortune Hunter Has Been Chosen for Annual Class Exercises.

Preparations are being made for the Second Annual Senior Play which will be staged on the Campus, Saturday night, June 21st. All students and campus people who were on the campus last commencement, will remember the success with which the Seniors put on "The Man Who Went." The '18 class was laboring under a somewhat difficult situation. The class was very small and the time and equipment was very limited.

This year Mr. R. D. Bracket has a larger number from which to pick his cast and he has started rehearsals in ample time to give the cast a thorough understanding of the play.

The play chosen for the occasion is "The Fortune Hunter". The Fortune Hunter has had a very successful season in New York and since on the road in the North and East. This play is classed by those who know, as one the very best. It will be a treat that the student body and campus residents are very rarely given the opportunity to enjoy.

The cast has been chosen and will be announced at an early date. Mr. R. D. Bracket of the English department will have charge of the play. Mr. Bracket has made this sort of work his life's business and is a man of wide experience. The cast is fortunate in having such a coach.

Y. M. C. A. CONFERENCE.

A. and M. is to be represented at the Southwestern Y. M. C. A. conference at Hollister, Mo., this year by three students. These men are T. Hall, W. P. Trice, and R. H. Maxwell. They will leave College Station Wednesday night June 4th, and expect to arrive at Hollister on Friday. The conference lasts until June 16th, but these students will not be required to return to College this season. Their railroad fare and their expenses while there will be paid by the College "Y".

Hollister is a most beautiful place, situated in the Ozark mountains and we are most sure all the delegates will have a most pleasant as well as entertaining trip. The corps wishes them a wonderful time.
