And [illegible] or class prestige [illegible] cadence over the [illegible] for Miss Smith [illegible] course, we cannot help noticing certain ones seeming [illegible] about rushing the [illegible] elsewhere all are [illegible] Smith.

Miss Smith is from the fair city of Dallas, the city of the [illegible] seems that this [illegible] charms for her [illegible] A. and M. was suggested as a [illegible] sort. It is said [illegible] joy at the chance of being queen of A. and M.; whether she has changed her mind since having visited here for a year can only be decided next year. If she steps off the train with the other "sophs" from Dallas next September, then you may know that certain remarks [illegible] ful in their ravings to her; but if she goes to State to be a queen among other queens, you may know that the above mentioned gentlemen were not successful, and we will be safe in saying that A. and M. is losing her old line. So think fast gentlemen and use your wits to the utmost. In closing this tribute to our Queen, let us state here that Miss Smith has won the respect of every A. and M. student, and that is no little accomplishment. We hope to see her next year, and also wish she could persuade her sister that an agricultural education is far superior to an academic one. We stand as one for a "co-ed" school.
