STUDENTS GIVE UP COLLEGE TO ENTER MATRIMONY

Friends and relatives of two prominent young Houstonians, both thought to be at the University of Texas, were startled Monday by their appearance in Houston and the announcement that they had been married on October 1 at Buda Texas, near Austin.

The young people are now Mr. and Mrs. John S. Stewart, Jr., Mrs. Stewart before her marriage was Miss Cornelia Ennis Cargill, 19-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Cargill of 4000 Bute Avenue. They were members of two of the city's most prominent families. Mr. Stewart is 21 years old.

The families refused to discuss the wedding and the young people could not be reached. That it was an unquestioned surprise to both families was admitted. Recent dispatches carried mention of the pledging of Miss Cargill to the Beta Phi society at the university.

Stewart graduated with high honors last year at the Agricultural and Mechanical College and had gone to Texas University for a post-graduate course. Miss Cargill was in her first year. Neither will go back to school, the families announce.

The two had known each other for some time.

Stewart was a member of the class of 1919, being Captain of Company C, and editor-in-chief of the Longhorn. The Battalion extends congratulations and best wishes.

PORT ARTHUR SOCIETY ORGANIZED AT A. AND M.

For the first time in the history of the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College, organization has been established from Port Arthur. Heretofore, such an organization was not possible due to the fact that very few of the Port Arthur boys attended this College, but conditions have now changed and A. and M. is getting her share of the student body leaving from Port Arthur for college.

The organization was formed for the purpose of having all the Port Arthur boys of this College to get acquainted, especially the Federal students that the Government is sending, and second to create more A. and M. pep in the home town.

The organization is not as large as the student members would like for it to be, but in view of the fact that it is newly formed and everything must have its beginning, everybody is satisfied with the showing. Next year it is hoped that the organization will grow much greater and have more influence in this College.

The officers elected were: H. J. Japour, president and H. B. Willard, secretary-treasurer.

PICTORIAL CALENDAR TO BE PUBLISHED

A very agreeable surprise has been sprung upon the College students and College officials by the news of the publication of a Pictorial Calendar this year. The last book of this kind was produced in '16, edited by Manley Gibson. This year the Calendar promises to be a better, more handsome and cleverer book in every way. Every student and College official owe to themselves the purchase of one of these attractive books. Although cheap in price they are the best representation of the A. and M. College, its buildings and activities ever published. These Calendars are to be delivered before Christmas and to the man or woman who has a Christmas present to give they are a boon. Orders may be placed now with K. J. Edwards or E. E. McQuillen, 106 Bizzell.

AGRICULTURAL ASSEMBLY FOR AGRICULTURAL STUDENTS

Through faculty action it will be required of every agricultural student to attend every month a meeting of the Agricultural Assembly. Freshman and Sophomore students will have their meeting together, and so will Juniors and Seniors. In the former, matters of general agricultural interest will be discussed, and in the latter the head and members of a department in the School of Agriculture will have charge, each time having a different department. Senior students in the department will be required to talk about a subject, leaving it to the Juniors to discuss it and criticize the matter. Be it understood that this assembly has nothing to do with the Scientific Agricultural Society which is a student organization with no official character.
