And when a girl begins to forget that you deserve a little consideration for paying for the show and jitney and feels as if she is handing out gracious favors by letting the fellows call, her date list slumps off something terrible.

When you tell a bird about a new girl ain't it funny how he don't ask if she's good looking but wants to know right off what make she drives?

And another good thing about the shimmy—it conserves shoe leather and you know that is no small consideration.

And, oh yes, that box of candy she fed to him the other night, "I gave her that!"

When we are at home our mode of exercise about the first of the month takes for men dodging bill collectors but this little old traditionary custom of coming out to tell the top-sergeant good-morning is sort of popular down here about March the first.

Entomology, the young mongrel mascot of the season, went to Houston for the Xmas holidays and down to Austin for the games and then at his age began eating at Sbis's and we haven't seen him for a week! We should have warned him, doggone!

CORPS DANCE SATURDAY NIGHT

To carry out the perfect week end which had been started with the "T" dance on Friday night in Bryan and also as an opportunity for everyone to loosen up for the R. V., a corps dance was given Saturday night. The A. and M. Five offered the music for the occasion and registered a hit with the crowd. They performed exceptionally well taking into consideration the length of time they have been playing together and everyone predicts a jazzy future. The out of town element lent much enthusiasm and interest to the affair, as civilization always does. A program of approximately eight dances was completed and the beauty of it all was there was no buttons, etc., to be swept up the next morning. The little verse

"Hush little shimmy
Don't you cry,
You'll be respectable
Bye and Bye"

doesn't apply particularly at College Station because the shoulder roll is confined strictly to reveille exercises. The latest as seen that night was the "chaparral run."

These corps dances are to be given as regularly as possible between now and the R. V. Hop in April. So come out and make mates of those two left feet.

SCHOOL OF VETERINARY SCIENCE CELEBRATES TEXAS INDEPENDENCE DAY.

On Tuesday, March 2, Dr. S. N. Blackberg in charge of the Department of Physiology and Pharmacology, entertained all the students and some of the members of the faculty of the School of Veterinary Medicine with a turkey dinner and supper.

Since Dr. Blackberg is a bachelor, he gave the dinner at the famous J. B. Dunn ranch near Wheelock. The students, together with Dr. Blackberg left College Station in an auto truck about 8:30 a. m. At Bryan Miss Lola Wilson joined the party from where the trip to the ranch was made. Jocularly reigned supreme, especially since the sophomores left their paddles at home, and the freshman were for the first time socially equal to the members of the other classes. After about an hour's ride, the party arrived at the Ranch House of Mr. J. B. Dunn where they were heartily welcomed. The home was very artistically decorated with carnations, red and white, being the color scheme.

After a short trip around the ranch, Miss Lola Wilson, Dr. Blackberg, J. P. Mockford, and some other members of the party, took a trip to the woods in a wild violet picking contest. After about one-half hour, the party assembled, but Miss Lola Wilson was among the missing. A search for the lost guest of honor ended after thirty-five minutes in finding Miss Wilson with the largest bouquet of violets, the winner of the contest.

After returning to the ranch house, the party, consisting of thirty members which was now joined by Dr. and Mrs. Francis, Mrs. Marsteller, and Dr. Ball, was seated for dinner. On the table before this joyous group were the following very delicious foods and goodies: Roast turkey and dressing, boiled ham and gravy, potato salad, macaroni and cheese, marshmallow sweet potatoes, olives, pickles, celery, fruit salad, ambrosia, ice cream and cake.

After the glorious repast, the contented joyous party was entertained with some "jazz" music. Then followed a baseball game in which the young ladies present made a grand showing. Miss Lola Wilson pitched for one team and Miss "Birdie" Dixon was tosser for the opposing nine. The outstanding feature of the game occurred in the second inning when with two men on bases, Miss Wilson struck out the next three batters.

Following the baseball game, the various members tested their ability as bronco busters, the young ladies displaying great riding ability. Then followed an auto ride to Wheelock.

Upon their return, the remaining roasted turkey was carved and another delicious meal was enjoyed by all present.

Mr. J. B. Dunn then entertained by telling the past history of Texas, narrating several interesting but hair-raising Indian stories. After a little dancing, the party departed for home, arriving at Bryan at 12:05 a. m.

It was indeed a very joyous day, and all present expressed their most hearty thankfulness to Dr. Blackberg giving the outing, and to Mr. J. B. Dunn and family for the planning and preparation of such excellent meals, and for the hospitality shown them.
