SOCIETY OF AGRICULTURAL ENGINEERS ORGANIZED

At a meeting of all students registered in Agricultural Engineering, or specializing in this branch of Agriculture, held in the Agricultural Engineering building last Friday afternoon, an organization was perfected, bearing the title of "Society of Agricultural Engineers of Texas A. and M. College." A committee composed of two men from the Junior class and two members of the second year two-year Agricultural Engineering class, submitted a constitution which was adopted by those present. The following officers were elected: P. T. Montfort, president; J. C. Dykes, vice-president; G. W. Turner, secretary; E. H. Varnell, treasurer.

Plans were laid and the work of the society was outlined for the remainder of the school year. Steps will be taken at once to become affiliated with the national organization known as the American Society of Agricultural Engineers.

Any student who is registered in this course or specializing in Agricultural Engineering, is eligible for membership and is urged to join. Visitors are cordially invited to attend our meetings. Attendance at these meetings will substitute those of the monthly Agricultural Assembly, which has hitherto been compulsory for Juniors and Seniors in the School of Agriculture.

Professor Scoates, head of the Agricultural Engineering Department at College and one of the five members of the Council of the National Society, and all instructors in the Department were elected honorary members of the society. In co-operating with these men, some of whom have had experience in this work in other institutions, we expect to have one of the best organizations on the campus.

A. AND M. HAS NOT LOST AN INTERCOLLEGIATE GAME SINCE LAST SPRING.

Thirty-Fourth Straight Victory.

In a record which has never been equalled in the Southwest and probably not in the United States, all intercollegiate games which A. and M. has taken part in for the session of 1919-20 have been victories for the Aggie teams. This is a record of which every cadet, alumnus and Faculty member should be proud. Never a time has the present student body humbled. The athletes should be proud to be members of such teams and the coaches should be proud in turning out these victories. This is the best athletics year the college has ever had and every high school man in the state should learn of these victories. It is a whole summer's conversation for every Fish when he goes home in June. So loosen up and tell the home folks and your friends about and throw out your chest when you do it. Very few students in other schools have so much to crow over.

INTER-COMPANY ATHLETICS.

Inter-company men are priming themselves for the baseball season which will start immediately among the different companies. The Casual company men, who were fortunate in securing the sweaters in inter-company football championship, plan on putting a formidable team in the field, but all the companies are to be represented and the championship will be hard to win. The race will narrow down to two or three live contenders in a month of play, however. Battery B, which won the sweaters in basketball, claim to have some good baseball talent and several other companies have some good material and no doubt the race will be a merry one.
