

FESTIVITIES PASS WITH ENJOYMENT AND SATISFACTION

Dances for which A. and M. is noted gained another step in their progress toward fame with the passing of the past week end festivities. Although underestimating the crowd just a bit, the Ross Volunteers are to be congratulated for the splendid showing made in their most recent attempt at presenting three days of good times and dancing to the student body. Never has there been seen a prettier, more attractive, entertaining and delightful group of girls at this institution and the invitation has been extended to each and everyone of them for a return visit to our midst.

The Queen's Ball on Thursday night opened with the grand march being led by King Komus III or Pinckned Price and her majesty Miss Babe Rasburry of Dallas town. For the first time in history the attempt was made with success to complete a program. Wm. Stewart's orchestra, consisting of eight pieces furnished the music and scored several hits with the "Beale Street Shimmie", "Beale Street Blues", "Memphis Blues," "Taxi", etc. Neat programs were presented which bore the significant expression after the last dance "Yea, verily, the best is yet to come." For such was the case.

Friday night witnessed everyone in white uniform, the grand march starting promptly at 9 o'clock, being led by Capt. W. T. Burns of the Ross Volunteers and Miss Ballard also of Dallas town.

At the eleventh hour Capt. Burns was presented with a watch as a token of appreciation by the company, the presentation being made by Robert Blair Goodman of Corsicana. The affair closed at 3 a. m.

As ever the Saturday night dance proved to be the best of the three because of its informality, coupled with the realization that this was the last round of the festivities. Stewart's Band displayed a brand of music never before seen in these parts and simply carried out the natives. All's well that ends well, and so with the week end which was brought to a close with this dance.

Congratulations are in order to everyone for helping to make the affair one grand success by their presence and attitude and general conduct and behavior. The R. V.s sincerely hope that their efforts have met with a success seldom equalled in past years.

RESOLUTIONS OF BATTERY "A" F. A., UPON THE DEATH OF MRS. A. E. KENNEDY.

On Monday, April 19, 1920, Mrs. A. E. Kennedy, the mother of our respected classmate, Lloyed R. Kennedy, was called to her reward.

Therefore, be it resolved, that the heartfelt sympathy of the officers and men, of Battery "A" be extended to L. R. Kennedy and relatives; that we deplore the misfortune that has taken his mother from this world, and that we acknowledge a distinct feeling of regret for his loss, and herewith offer our sincere condolence to his family in that great grief, and would have them remember that—

"A mother's love, its meaning who can measure;
Or would such deaths of hallowed mystery sound?
Outside the heart of God so rich a treasurer has never yet been found."

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be furnished the Ft. Worth Star Telegram, and the A. and M. Battalion for publication, and that a copy be sent his immediate family, Mr. A. E. Kennedy and children.

COMPANY A MEN FIGHT HARD

Company A leads the first battalion to mess three times a day and two of her men, Walters and Humphrey, helped show Texas U. some of the ole' Aggie fight Monday night. "Hump" was the first man to participate in the first intercollegiate wrestling and boxing match ever held at A. and M. Did he throw him? Ask someone who saw the match. He proved superior in every way; he out-manuevered his Texas opponent and soon had his shoulders resting peacefully on the mat.

Walters followed Humphrey and was unlucky in getting a man to fight. He naturally looked bad to the Texas coach and had to be weighed. It was the first time the little fighter had been weighed in a stock judging pavilion and he didn't know when to halt the scales. As a result he got a man heavier, but it pleased him very much. "Little Wally" gave him several of those left handed punches and soon had the bout going his way. Both men fought hard and for a while it looked to be a tie but the A. and M. representative had more of the "stuff" than it takes to win. YOU KNOW!
—So at the close of the third round the referee held a bloody glove high in the air and yelled, "Walters—A. and M.—the winner."
