

$400,000 FOR BUILDINGS AT A. AND M.

Engineering Shops Building and Agricultural Building Are Begun.

College Station, Texas, Sep. 11.—The building sites at the A. and M. College of Texas for a new agricultural building and mechanical engineering shops building, to be erected at a total cost of $425,000 have been cleared and ground is about to be broken for their construction which will begin at once.

Both buildings will be modern in every respect and their completion will mark a great advancement in the efficiency of the two departments of engineering and agriculture.

The agricultural building will fill a long felt need of the School of Agriculture, the administration staff of which is still quartered in one of the first buildings erected on the campus. It will provide office and classroom space for the various departments of horticulture, agronomy, pomology, landscape art, entomology, floriculture, vegetable gardening, etc. and in addition a number of laboratories in the ground story. The building will be the central or administration unit of the group of structures used by this school and is so located that future buildings will be conveniently located around it. The cost of this building complete will be $250,000.00 and it will be in all respects modern and fire-proof. Toilets will be provided on each floor and rest rooms arranged for both stenographers and students.

The engineering shops building is designed to house the carpentry, pattern, machine, forge and foundry shops as well as class rooms and demonstration rooms in connection therewith. An enormous amount of steel sash, properly ventilated will give an abundance of light and air circulation in all parts of the building. Ample toilet and locker rooms are located in the basement, which is well lit and easily reached. In addition the basement provides storage room for the various shop units. The cost of this building will be $150,000 with an additional $25,000.00 for equipment such as machinery and shop supplies. This group of shops will replace the old ones destroyed by fire last spring and they will give to the A. and M. College one of the most modern and carefully laid out shop plants in the entire United States.

Plans and specifications were prepared by La Roach and June of the College Department of Architecture.

THANKSGIVING ON THE RIVER

To a little Ethiopian, who was swimming in the Nile,

Came up quite unexpected a hungry crocodile.

And with that chill politeness, that makes the warm blood freeze,
He said, I'll take a little dark meat without the dressing, please.

I saw her standing in the car,
Old, bent, and gray,
I could not bear to see her stand,
I looked the other way.
