LETTER FOR YELL LEADERS.

We have observed an increasing sentiment among the students to give recognition to the Yell Leaders for the invaluable work which they do. For years A. and M. has had a state-wide reputation for rooting and team support. Much of this is due the constant effort of our Yell Leaders. Their influence remains years after distinguished students are forgotten and men of military genius have faded into oblivion. The stunts of Yell Leaders are handed down as traditions and they are ever viewed in the same rose glare with the historic stars of the gridiron, track, court, and diamond. Why not send them away in their days of graduation with some tangible insignia or mark of merit to indicate the untiring effort they gave in promoting the best interests of the college. The Battalion favors the awarding of a "T" with a megaphone across the upright part of the letter. Do they not deserve such recognition?

THE "BUGHUNTERS" PICNIC.

Another traditional custom of great reputation at A. and M. prior to war conditions was the annual picnic given to the college by the "Bug-hunters", students in the school of Agriculture. This event is endorsed by college authorities and the few students now in school who recall this old time gala day place it on equal plane with such momentous occasions as the Spring Festival Days and the Final Dress Parade. Far removed from the amusements and entertainments of cities as we happen to be, we must provide our own means of enjoyment. When the "spring-fever days" come such an outing will be highly appreciated and the only successful means of holding such an event is to consider it in sufficient time to allow for removal of all objections and barriers in the way.

THE WACO TRIP.

During the many trips the student body has made to Waco during the Cotton Palace the warmest hospitality has been met with and such an impression has been left with the citizens of Waco each year that their invitation has been repeated from year to year. It should be an ever-present thought in the mind of every student of A. and M. while in Waco that the reputation of the school as a whole depends upon the conduct and actions of the individual. One man can easily bring discredit to the entire institution by thoughtlessness, carelessness, or rude conduct. Bear in mind that we are guests while in the city and act accordingly. Especially is this true of cadets in uniform for one man in uniform is more conspicuous than a group in civilian clothes. Let us enjoy the journey to the fullest, but let us leave our hosts with assurance that they have been pleased with us.

AN EYESORE.

In a Student Opinion article elsewhere in the Battalion a suggestion is offered whereby the appearance of the area between the "Y" and Mitchell Hall may be improved before visitors arrive at College Station. We consider this an excellent suggestion and believe that the student labor of the Buildings and Grounds Department could be utilized. If not, the student body en masse would not refuse their assistance in improving the prevailing condition. We realize that the workmen have not completed the "Y" addition but much of the debris could be removed.

STUDENT OPINION.

Sweaters Without "Ts" for the Yell Leaders.

There is no school in the South that believes any stronger in supporting the football team and other athletic teams with yells than does A. and M. Every year the yell leaders are confronted with the responsibility of drilling a rooting club into form. This means work that is unceasing in its nature. Several circumstances have arisen this year to raise the question: Do we really appreciate the services and responsibilities of our yell leaders? Without a doubt, the spirit of A. and M. shows that the majority of the students do. We are thankful for the services of the yell leaders, but did it ever occur to you that thanks is all that the yell leaders ever get? It has occurred to the writer that our appreciation should go beyond mere thanks. The yell leaders should be given some token of our thanks. Some schools award a letter to the yell leaders, however, I am only suggesting that the yell leaders be given a sweater as an appreciation of our thanks. Each company presents its captain with a watch at the end of each year. Why not let the student body contribute a small sum for sweaters for the yell leaders?

On November 15th we play Rice. On that day thousands of people are going to visit our Campus, many of them for the first time. All of us, we are sure, wish to give them the best impression possible about everything concerning this school, from the conduct of the students to the appearance of the Campus.

The space between the Y. M. C. A. and Mitchell hall in its present condition will certainly not help to leave a good impression with the visitors. The dirt and trash scattered all over that place causes the most beautiful part of the campus to be at its ugliest. We would like to call the attention of the proper authorities to this fact, and urge them, if possible, to have the place cleaned up at their earliest convenience.

A negro was holding a cow for a cross-eyed butcher who was to hit her in the head when he noticed the butcher's eyes.

"Is you gwine to hit whar at you looks?"

"Why, yes."

"Den hold dis cow yo'self!"

MEETING OF DENTON COUNTY CLUB

President John A. Pierce of the Denton County Club called a special meeting of the club in Pat Hamilton's room immediately after dinner last Wednesday. The meeting was called for to determine the amount of space the club wanted in The Long Horn. The president was instructed to secure one page for the club picture, and to investigate the cost of club pins.

Plans are being made whereby the club may have regular meetings and the men become better acquainted with each other.
