

BELTON CHORAL CLUB DELIGHTS ALL AGGIELAND

that the practice will remain constant in coming years.

Baylor Belton's Best gave the Cadet Corps and other attendant's at their annual visit a most wonderfully enjoyable time when their choral club delighted an unusually large audience in Guion Hall on Wednesday night. Thirty-five pretty girls formed the chorus and would easily have scored a big hit with the cadets had they only stood on the platform and not sung at all. But their program was extremely well rendered and takes its place as one of the biggest hits of the year in Aggieland.

The appearance of the girls on the stage brought forth a mighty roar of delight from the audience which was ever constant from that moment on until the end of the program, silencing only when they were rewarded with more. The time passed as tho' only a few minutes and it was over all too soon.

The pretty little Miss McCall's rendition of the Spanish Serenade on her violin was an example of perfection and she was forced to give some two or three encores before the audience would permit the resumption of the program. Miss Mabel Moore gave warning to the boys of Aggieland as to the danger of donning woman's apparel with her reading telling of the consequences the small boy suffered when he had no clean shirt and had to don one of his sisters in order that he might fill his date. Her rendition and expression were flawless.

The songs by the Trio and Sextette were among the choicest parts of the complete programme. The harmony and sweetness of the songs and their mistresses will not soon be forgotten.

A UNIQUE PLAN ORIGINATED BY DALLAS MOTHERS

at times. So it remains for that old abused box, to help one look for the "Silver Lining," whether it be morning, noon or night. The same old tune over and over again "does" get "old", and the A. and M. Mother's Club of Dallas, knows it, so here is what they propose to do.

The "Y" is going to file the Victrola records as the periodical shipments come in from the Mothers' Club. Any student at A. and M. is privileged to call at the office, pick out his selection, sign out, and the record is his for a week—a real live, and up-to-date Music Library. Men, it's hard to beat, these little tender things that Mothers will do. Now this statement is superfluous and need hardly be said, since we are AGGIES, but in passing we will mention that the honor system will be used for the care of the records and the successful operation of the plan. The library opens next week. Call by and make an early selection of the best ones.

AGGIES LOSE FIRST GAME TO TEXAS

defense which Coach Bible's men could not fathom.

Game Very Fast.

The game was one of the fastest of the year, the two teams going at top speed from whistle to whistle. The Longhorns were the first to score and at no time did they relinquish the lead. However, the Aggies were able to tie the score on two different occasions. The score at the half was 10 to 8, the Aggies being held to a lone goal the second period which with a free throw, gave them their total score for the night.

Stars for Texas.

The Texas team was thought to be seriously handicapped due to the absence of their star forward, Peyton, from the lineup, but Schuhart, who filled the position, turned in the best game of the night. He scored three baskets, all coming in the second half, and covered the floor in great style. Captain McCullough also turned in a great game. His defensive play was of the highest order while he looped two goals during the fray. Dennis, playing opposite Keen, was unable to cover the floor as fast as his teammates because of an injured leg. Barrett at forward and Robertson at guard also played high class basketball.

Aggies Off Form.

There were no stars for the Aggies as the team was no doubt playing far below their usual form. Captain Dwyer carried the ball down the court as in other games of the year but the Texas defense was too strong to get the much needed baskets. Ehlert, playing his first game since his return to the team, made a creditable showing. He made two baskets out of the few shots which he had and passed the ball well at all times. Keen, though covered well by the visitors, was able to make two baskets. Hartung broke up many Texas passes under the Aggie goal and but for this the score might have been much larger. Darby replaced Williams, who showed the effects of his recent illness, and showed up well though unable to score. He showed world's of fight though the game was lost.

The loss of the game now gives the Longhorns an even break with the Aggies for the title and it will be necessary for the local team to win the second game of the series in order to win their third Southwestern Championship.

The lineup: A. and M.—Dwyer and Hartung, guards; Williams and Ehlert forwards; Keen, center. Substitutions: Darby.

Texas: McCullough and Robertson, guards; Schuhart and Barrett, forwards; Dennis, center. Referee, Venne.
