

LIVELY SCRAPS ON SCHEDULE OF GAMES FOR 1923

Sullivan Feels That Students, Alumni, and General Public Will Welcome Arrangement.

The complete schedule of the Texas Aggies for the season of 1923 is as follows:

- A. and M. vs. Sam Houston Normal Institute, Sept. 22, at College.
- A. and M. vs. Howard Payne, September 28, at College.
- A. and M. vs. Southwestern University, October 5, at College.
- A. and M. vs. Sewanee at Dallas, October 13.
- A. and M. vs. Louisiana State University, October 20, at Baton Rouge.
- A. and M. vs. Southern Methodist University, October 26, at College.
- A. and M. vs. Baylor University, November 3, at Waco.
- A. and M. vs. Rice Institute, November 17, at Houston.
- A. and M. vs. University of Texas, Thanksgiving Day at College Station.

In arranging the football schedule for the Texas Aggies for 1923, James Sullivan, Business Manager of Athletics feels that the students, alumni and the general public at large will welcome the arrangement of games. Out of the nine games to be played by the Aggies this fall five of them will be played at Kyle Field, College Station, Texas, one in Dallas, one in Waco, one in Houston and the fourth road game at Baton Rouge, Louisiana, filling the second year of a two-year contract with the Louisiana Tigers.

The Aggies' season opens early with a game with the Sam Houston Normal Institute of Huntsville, the newly elected member of the Texas Intercollegiate Athletic Association. This game is played September 22. One week later Howard Payne College journeys to Kyle Field for their annual game. Last season the Brownwood team gave the Aggies their first of four drubbings received last season and this game will be awaited with much interest. This team is coached by Arnold Kirkpatrick, an old Texas University star, and who has made a wonderful record with the Brownwood team. The following week, October 5, will find Southwestern University playing their first game of a three year contract at Kyle Field. This has always been a game of much interest and should prove a real test for Bible's eleven before they enter into the real big games of the season.

On Saturday, October 13, the Aggies meet for the first time in many years the Sewanee Tigers. This game marks the beginning of a three year contract between the two teams. The game will be played in Dallas on the opening day of the State Fair and will attract thousands of former students of both institutions. It is planned to make this day at the Fair "A & M.-Sewanee Day" and the old grads will anxiously await this game in order to get a line on their res-

FOOTBALL IS ALREADY IN THE AIR

Aggie Aspirants Will Assemble at Kyle Field on September 10th. Coaches Report September 1st. Outlook is Good.

We are come upon the season when the thoughts of the male of the species, young and old, turn to the dull thud of a certain inflated oval, sometimes commonly and vulgarly called a football. Already the camps of Texas, Baylor, and Rice are pouring out predictions for the year to come. The football season is something to conjure with and every institution has its well qualified forecasters who can tell you in advance of the season what different favorite athletes will do or will fail to do. Already Southwestern Conference honors are being awarded to some men of football promise while their institutions satisfy themselves with recounting the glories of past seasons.

It is just about time for things to start. On September 1 Bible will do the Arab stunt from Jefferson City, which nestles quietly on the banks of the well known Mossy Creek in Eastern Tennessee, and bob up smiling at College Station, the torrid. House will come in from Colorado, the cool. Anderson will descend from Sparta, Tenn., and Johnnie Pierce, infant member of the coaching corral, will hustle in from the Mound City of Missouri.

On September 10, Aggeland will be overrun with a herd of young buffaloes constituting the squad for the term of 1923. Already they are rattling their horns in different Texas towns and villages in preparation for the coming season. The football fever is being disseminated widely and in another three weeks the football fan will come into his own. Gradually King Swat will be pushed back off of the boards and the Great College Sport will come into its own.

Work in football fundamentals will be the order of the day. And oh! that long period of dreary, deadly workouts in those first hot September days! A good gallery will be present at Kyle Field, though, and that makes for good morale on the part of the tryouts. D. X. will not have to spend a great deal of time with fundamentals this season. The spring training season work this year will materially reduce the necessary preliminary instruction. So much so that Bible hopes to be well along with plays and plans of attack and defense within a very few days after the season opens.

The Aggies will have a pretty good machine to start with. Dubois and Eitt at center; Johnson, Forgason, "Spot" Hanna at guards; Dansby, R. O. Wilson, Leuty, Short, Waugh, Brazleton, Irvin, are among the outstanding tackles; "Puny" Wilson, W. W. Wilson, Jack Evans, Quinn, at ends; Knickerbocker, Berry, Pinson, Putnam, are quarters; while in the backfield are Captain Miller, Fay, Wilson, Neely, Poth, Gill, Kishi and a dozen others of good promise. Bible is going to have speed with which to work this season, a factor utterly lacking in last year's eleven.

The list of men who will respond to the training call follows:

JOHNNIE PIERCE TO ASSIST BIBLE WITH AGGIE LINE

HARD LUCK CENTER OF 1921 IS SIGNED FOR COACHING JOB BY ATHLETIC COUNCIL.

JOHNNIE PIERCE, Who Will Help D. X. With the Line This Season.

Johnnie Pierce, hard luck center of the 1921 football team, captain of the defense on that team, and one of the "smartest" football players ever to wear a Texas Aggie uniform, will assist Coach D. X. Bible and Assistant Coach House in whipping the 1923 Aggies into condition. Pierce will work with the line.

Since his graduation from the school of electrical engineering, Johnnie has been with the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., at St. Louis, Mo. While he has gotten along splendidly in that work his desire has been to engage in athletic work. Last year and the preceding season he spent much of his leisure time in helping out in athletic work at leading St. Louis educational institutions. He has gained some very valuable experience during those two years.

Bible has been very anxious to get someone to help with the team who knew local conditions and knew his system. He regards Pierce as one of the best coaching prospects ever turned out by the college and in view of Johnnie's vital interest in athletic work believes that he will make a splendid go of the job. Pierce will have charge of the line coaching under D. X.'s supervision of course.

In the fall term, Coach House, who is associate professor of physical training, will have his hands pretty well occupied with physical examination of Freshmen and remedial measures for the correction of their physical deficiencies. He will continue to
