REMEMBRANCES OF SUMMER CAMP.

If you really want to know, you might ask "Gap" Drisdale how much a new marksman medal will cost. He must be a good marksman, because he fired from stand number 3 and marked up nearly all of the targets on the range.

Charlie Reagan found a good substitute for the popular old rolling pin. After he had greeted a fair lady, she overpowered him with a pretty green parasol. Don't tell anybody about this though; it's a request of Charlie's.

O. D. shirts don't wear very well without B. V. D's. You can prove this by any man who roosted in "Hell's Half-Acre"; all of them tried it once. The names of this personnel are to be withheld, but there are many ways that you can find out just what the half acre referred to is.

***

Some of the boys fell in love too. Of course this is too serious to be personal, but Louis Clay might tell you more about the feminine attractions in the Alamo City than the Bat staff knows.

One might think that Major W. S. Nicholson had been dealing in real estate during the summer. He spent most of his spare time trying to dispose of a well-stocked hog ranch.

***

"Ham" Willis went to his kennels almost every day to bring out a new Russian Wolf Hound. He had them for sale, and there was always a good market for his valuable dogs.

After "Casey" Bonnett had reached the pinnacle and was allowed to drill the company one day, he made this report to the Officer of the Day: "First Company, all accounted and present for, Sir!" Can you beat it?

***

After all though, the camp was a very successful one. San Antonio might have one regret, though; it might be that Colonel Roberts has moved his office away from the Gunter roof and has decided to cast his lot with the Belles of Bryan for the next few months.

POLA NEGRI AND JACK HOLT IN "THE CHEAT"

Queen, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Here's Pola Negri as you've never seen her! In a sympathetic role. As a foolish young wife who bargains her soul for luxuries and—keeps the bargain. The strongest emotional part ever written—and the one actress to give it soul.—Adv.

A beautiful, luxury-loving woman, a poor man's wife—trying to live the lavish life she was accustomed to—spending borrowed money with which to do it—losing heavily at the gaming table, hoping to make a killing—till desperation takes her to a man of millions—who drives a hard bargain and relentlessly tries to collect. What was she to do? What did she do? Here, without doubt, is the greatest situation ever created. And you know what Pola Negri can do with it!—Adv.

The man who "Can always get away with a bluff" usually isn't bluffing.
