MUSTANGS RUN AWAY FROM A. & M. DALLAS

Bedford of S. M. U. Was Bright Particular Star. Aggies Had Trouble With Mustang Court.

Dallas, Texas, Jan. 22.—The S. M. U. Mustangs took both games from the Texas Aggies by the score of 13 to 9. The Mustangs used a close five man defense that held the Aggies powerless and the Aggies long shots over the heads of the defenders went into the low rafters.

FIRST GAME.

The Aggies, worn from the series with the Bears in Waco, did not show the old speed that they have demonstrated on the home court and were outscored by the Mustangs in the first game. The Mustangs used a man for man defense and held Darby powerless until late in the game. Bedford, a rangy forward that learned his basketball with the Centre College Praying Colonels, was the individual star of the night. Captain Gill and Washburn broke up the Mustang offense time after time but they were unable to supply the offensive spark that the Aggies lacked and that the forwards seemed unable to give.

Coach Bible used a shifted line-up with Damon and Wilcox at forward and Darby at center but the shift seemed to do little good. The low rafters and the poorly lighted court of the Mustangs seemed to upset the Aggie offense.

THE LINEUP.

S. M. U.	Position	A. & M.
Baird (c)	R. F.	Damon
Bedford	L. F.	Wilcox
Henry	C.	Darby
Runnels	R. G.	Washburn
Brooks	L. G.	Gill (c)

Substitutes for S. M. U.: McIntosh for Runnels, Jones for Baird, Baird for Henry. For A. & M.: Duckett for Wilcox, Brient for Damon, Wilcox for Brient, Dealy for Wilcox.

Field goals: Bedford 3, Henry 1, Runnels 1, Darby 1, Gill 1.

Free Throws: Wilcox 1, Darby 2, Duckett 2.

Referee: Sweeny.

SECOND GAME.

Bible again shifted his lineup for this game, using Dealy at guard and sending Washburn at forward, but the change apparently did little good. The Mustangs again formed their close defense and did not allow the Aggies close shots. The long shots went into the rafters and the Mustangs were able to loop enough goals through the splendid work of Bedford to win the second game 16 to 9. Bedford ran wild throughout the first half and before the gun fired he had chalked up four field goals. He was watched in the second half and did not succeed in making a single

A. & M. FRESHMEN VICTORS OVER ALLEN ACADEMY

Took Long End of 27 to 15 Score. Baker and Mit Dansby Starred For Freshmen.

In their second match game of the year, the Freshmen defeated Allen Academy last Wednesday night by a score of 27 to 15. Coach Pierce has developed a highly creditable organization in his team and as soon as they put aside some of their nervousness, they should be able to capture all the games on their schedule.

Baker and Hamilton looked to be the best members of the Allen aggregation although Mitchell did some good defensive work at guard.

For the Freshmen, Dansby was probably the outstanding man. Invariably he was breaking up Allen's attempts to bring the ball down the court. Tucker was high point man in the game with six field goals and one free-throw. Baker, all-Battalion guard, was covering the floor and he played a steady, consistent game.

LINE-UP.

Tucker	R. F.	Burtis
McConaughy	L. F.	Hamilton
Dansby	C.	Baker
Baker	R. G.	Mitchell
Tapp	L. G.	Rogers

Substitutions: Allen; Sealy, Lewis; Freshmen: Smith, Walton, Perkins, Wilcox, Blunt, Shelton, Floyd.

Field goals: Allen; Burtis 1, Hamilton 2, Baker 2, Rogers 1; Freshmen; Tucker 6, McConaughy 1, Dansby 5, Tapp 1.

Free-throws: Allen; Baker 1, Mitchell 1, Lewis 1; Freshmen: Tucker 1.

point but the Mustang lead was too great for the Aggies to overcome.

Washburn played a splendid game at his new forward position and had the other men played up to his form they could have downed the Mustangs. The team was considerably slowed up on account of the road trip and the colds that they had caught en route but the Mustangs had a good team and the Aggies would have had to have been in splendid shape to have beaten them. THE DOPE BUCKET.

Coach House issues the baseball equipment Saturday and the diamond stars go to work next week. There are holes to be filled in both infield and outfield (I mean in the personnel as Sully has the infield in pretty good shape) and you boys that were high school stars or starlets ought to go out and see if you can't make that team. There are many men in this school that are good ball players that have never gone out and now is the time for them to spread their stuff.

Did any of you ever notice that P sweater that the "Sportwriting Sergeant," Gentry, wears? I got to wondering where he made a P and he wont say where it came from. I figure it might be Princeton or Purdue or Peacock or, maybe, Prairie View. Most likely Prairie View.

That shift that D. X. made in the basketball lineup sure looks good. Damon, Wilcox, and Brient are all mighty good men but they lack the offensive strength that Washburn brings to the forward post and Dealy is covering his territory in aggressive fashion. Stay in there gang and fight 'em. We aren't out of the race by any means. If we can win all of our games except one with Texas and S. M. U. or Baylor licks Texas once, we win! Didn't know we had that good a chance, did you?

Let's get on the line with this gymnasium proposition. We are asking for student opinion on this proposition of giving the slim remnants of our trust fund to the gymnasium fund and would like to hear from some of the students on the question. Personally, I have no objection to giving my part of the trust fund to such a good cause. By the time that trust fund account reaches us each summer, we have forgotten that the College owes us anything and I don't believe that it could go to any better cause than this gymnasium. We need the building and this is one of the we can help.

BASEBALL MEN ARE ITCHING TO PLAY BALL

Practice to Begin With Warm Weather; Prospects Are Looking Good for A Winning Team.

With Old Sol peeping through the clouds long enough to bring a few warm days at a stretch, the baseball men are beginning to crave practice. The warm sunshine loosens the soupers, and many of the diamond stars can be seen tossing the ball around on the campus in preparation for the day when Coach House sends out the call for daily practice. Before long the crack of bat meeting ball will issue from Kyle Field and the Aggie baseball team of 1924 will begin striding down that thousand mile walk toward a successful season.

With the Texas Longhorns boasting of a veteran aggregation to begin the season with, it would be foolish for the cadets of Aggieland to emit sounds that would indicate they thought they had a chance for a championship, but nevertheless the Aggies will have a good team and should the Texas pitching staff slip at the critical moment, the Farmers would stand as good chance as the next one to grasp the pennant from the falling Longhorns.

The Aggies will be captained by Jack Forgason, one of the best maskmen in the conference. Jack is a .300 hitter, has a powerful throwing arm, and, above all, is a thinking catcher and a fighting leader. Under his direction the Aggies will stand ready to take advantage of every break, and often a young team can stack away many wins by this method.

Johnson, first baseman, and Chapman, third baseman, are the only letter men to return to contest for infield positions. Johnson took over the initial corner in mid-season last year and, performed in a very creditable manner, while Chapman was brought in from the outfield to plug a hole at third. Stieneker and Craig, squad men from last season, will try for infield positions and several good prospects are coming on from the freshman squad.

Two holes must be filled in the outfield, for Puckett is the only veteran of last year's team to return for a garden position. Gill may be shifted from the box to the outfield if his arm is not in shape to enable him to take his regular turn on the mound, and the other ball-hawk will have to be chosen from the new men.

The Aggies will be strong on the pitching slab and that is usually the test of a collegiate team's strength. Lefty Rogers was very effective last year and Gill had a great season playing summer baseball. If these men reach their last season's form Coach House will have few troubles
