

AGGIE FISH HAVE UNUSUALLY STRONG TEAM

Several of '28 Squad Show Varsity Ability. Undeclared and Unscored On.

Aggieland has a right to be proud of the squad furnished by the class of '28. They have, as yet, a team that has neither been defeated or scored on. Last week they met the strong John Tarleton team and carried away a well-earned victory. One of the most noticeable features of the game was the stonewall defense put up by the line at a time when a yard gained meant a score for their opponents. A fumble was recovered on the slime's one-yard line by a Tarleton linesman. A score seemed certain, but four thrusts were repulsed and the ball went over on downs.

Turner, first string quarterback, was a former member of the state championship Bryan High School team, and is playing a brilliant game for the Fish. In the backfield, there is also another former high school star in Joel Hunt. Hunt is also proving to be of Varsity ability. Last year he played on Paul Tyson's Waco Hi team, which was runner-up for the state championship. His speed and ability as a side-stepper has made him a valuable asset to the squad. Sykes and Willis have developed into two powerful line-plungers and in the Schreiner Institute game, it was by their line-smashing that brought the ball from their own forty-yard line to within scoring distance, only to be stopped by time out.

In the line, there is also to be found several high school and junior school stars. Sprout, at center, is a mountain of strength on the defense and is ably supported by Maufrias and Speed at guards. All of these men are just the type needed to fill in the gaps that will be caused by graduation. Captain Hill and Woodland, tackles, Calloway and Burney, ends, complete a line that has proved itself invincible.

On November 11, the Fish take on Allen Academy and then finish the season a few days before Thanksgiving with their annual tussle against the A. and M. Reserves.

So add a little sugar still
To sweeten that unpleasant pill
And give me—if you must and will—
The candid truth!

VIEWS ON JOURNALISM IN ENGLAND AS GIVEN BY MEM- BER OF CAMBRIDGE TEAM

The Varsity (University of Toronto) asked Gerald Sparrow, one of the members of the visiting Cambridge debating team, for an article dealing with student journalism in Oxford and Cambridge.

Wrote Mr. Sparrow: "You ask me, sir, for my impressions of University journalism in England. I pause to invent those impressions:

"Now undergraduates in England are divisible into four divisions:

- "1. Hearty men who row and excel in athletics.
- "2. Lugubrious men who are learned and excel in exams.
- "3. Ordinary men.
- "4. And journalists.

"Now the undergraduates who run the weekly papers—there are no dailies—are, again, either (a) Aesthetes, who write the reviews and editorials, and (b) Funy Men, who fill in the intervening spaces.

"The papers at Oxford and Cambridge—for there are many and all are in private hands—have nothing to do with the authorities, but are private enterprises. At each university there are two stable journals—one representing university thought and another varsity thoughtfulness.

"The Oxford and Cambridge press is a sensitive machine of public opinion and affords pleasure to those who write—and even to those who read."

SOPHOMORE CLASS ORGAN- IZES AND ELECTS OFFICERS

The Sophomore class held its first meeting of the scholastic year Friday at noon, October 31, on the second floor of the "Y" for the purpose of naming the class officers. Major O. C. Anderson, chairman of the election committee, presided over the meeting.

The following officers were elected: D. C. Arnold, I Company Infantry, a member of the football squad, of Del Rio, President; O. P. Puryear, I Company Infantry, of Beaumont, Vice-President; John P. Hall, Battery B, of Dallas, secretary-treasurer; and R. L. Edgar, Company A, Signal Corps of Cleburne, Historian.

Have you ever been married?" asked the judge.

"Ye-es," stammered the prisoner.

"To whom?"

"A woman."

"Of course it was a woman," snapped the judge, "did you ever hear of anyone marrying a man?"

"Yes, sir," said the prisoner brightly, "my sister did."

Whereupon he got life.

"The New Architecture"

A DISTINCTLY new tendency is apparent in architectural thought and design today. Architects are designing in masses—the great silhouette, the profile of the building has become of far greater importance than its detail.

There is a new vigor and ruggedness even in buildings which are conventionally classic in their detail. Masses mount upward, supporting the tower, accentuating its height. The new architecture is tending toward great structures rather than multiplicity of detail.

Certainly modern invention—modern engineering skill and organization, will prove more than equal to the demands of the architecture of the future.
