

TRAGEDIES OF THE WEEK.

The door was locked and the shades were lowered in Apple Wards' shack last Sunday. Why was it thus?

There was a girl at the dance Saturday night that Bassett Orr would not turn loose. And lots of her other shieks, especially the stags, say it wasn't fair.

While on the campus this week-end a Rice girl saw Ed Capers wearing the white duck leggings which have become so popular with the staff-sergeants this year. "Oh look, see that boy with a white boot and a red boot."

It is rumored that "Co" Mowlan has applied to Colonel Todd for a very popular concession during the Thanksgiving holidays. As "Co" for further particulars, if interested.

Putnam, Magruder, and Harpole, the Fearless Fire-fighting Triumvirate, held a reunion on the campus this week-end.

And it might be mentioned here that a Miss Jennings, one of the fair week-end guests persisted in calling a certain young man Harpole who, they say, was really not Harpole.

There are two very distinct resemblances between Mule Wilson and the brilliant Red Grange. Both have injured shoulders and both are good looking—NO.

Some girls have whispered to us that dancing with Bob Berry is like walking on air.

And they say too that Charlie Waugh is the same fighting, slashing, lunging demon on the dance floor that he is on the grid-iron.

Muddy Torian showed his preference for the girls wearing black dresses trimmed in white fur until he tagged one that could dance--well not so well. He was forced to stay with that one so long that he has decided that from hereon out with him color of mourning is not black but black trimmed in white.

They say that "Kiwat" Irwin is attempting to acquire the beef trust so long held by Swift and Co.

But the tragical climax of the week came when Lefty Rogers, alias "Papa", blew up in a pinch.

ANIMAL HUSBANDRY JUNIORS HOST AT BIG BANQUET

A banquet was given in honor of the International Livestock Judging Team last Wednesday night at the Animal Husbandry pavilion with the Junior A. H. students acting as hosts. The guests were the members of the team, all those who had contested for a place on it, Coach Stangel, the members of the Animal Husbandry Department, Dr. R. P. Marsteller, the members of the Saddle and Sirlain Club, and the freshmen and sophomores who intend to specialize in Animal Husbandry.

The meal was planned by W. A. Duncan, supervisor of subsistence, and Chef B. D. Chumbley. A pig, donated by the Animal Husbandry Department, and roasted perfectly under the personal direction of Chef Chumbley, formed the substance of the banquet.

After the last of the guests had moved away from the board of cheer, George Ross, acting as toastmaster, called upon R M Priesmeyer, Business Manager of the Junior Rodeo, who presented each member of the team with a check for one hundred and seventy dollars, the proceeds of the rodeo. As they received the check, the seniors answered with a few terse, broken sentences that showed plainly how greatly they were affected by the responsibility that was theirs Speeches by Senior Animal Husbandry students, the members of the department, Coach Stangel, Professor Williams and Dr. Marsteller followed. All the talks bore on the same theme, being composed of congratulations and advice to the team.

The very atmosphere was charged with that old "Aggie Fight" and one had but to glance at a member of the team to see there both the response to that appeal and the will to bring back that bronze bull to A. and M.

ERECTION OF TELEPHONE POLES CAUSES INTEREST

The line of telephone poles which has been laid from the E. E. building on past Mitchell Hall and the Assembly Hall to the interurban track has caused more than a few students to wonder just what the new cable is for. Various opinions have been expressed, and the wide range of suppositions is a tribute to the imaginative powers of some of our students.

Some seem to think that new lights were being put on the campus, and others were inclined to think that perhaps a new type of wireless antenna was being constructed. It remained for one of our E. E. students to solve the mystery. He suggested that the cable might be a "booster" for the interurban line. Students other than E. E.'s are reminded that the word "booster" does not mean an advertisement when used in reference to power transmission.

The opinion of the E. E. was afterwards confirmed. The new cable is only temporary, and during the short time of its existence will carry power from the college generators to run the interurban while the converter in Bryan is being overhauled. This overhauling will require only a few days.

Students living in Mitchell Hall are informed that they should not be alarmed to see the kilowatts flowing along the line, and possibly an occasional coulomb.

Good news for all lovers of graphic pie

Graphic pie enough to satisfy the hunger of a life-time; no end of graphic mountains to scale and toboggan down. That's what the man who loves to analyze graphs and statistical symbols can look forward to when he comes with the electrical industry.

Economic study is one of many branches in this broad field. If you have thought of electricity as limited to engineers, this other side of the picture will interest you.

The commercial organization with its problems of distributing, selling, advertising; the manufacturing end with its opportunity for trained technical men; the legal and accounting branches—all this and more totals electrical industry.

It may pay you to keep this in mind against graduation.
