

be a realization of their fondest dreams.

With these things to fight for, together with the traditions and the name of the school, the team that Stewart sends on the field can be expected to turn in the battle of the season for the Orange and White. All of the men that have unfortunately been in the hospital before every game of the season but who always managed to crawl down to the field on the day of the game, will be in the lineup and these men include some of the best in the Southwest. These players have been living for the day to arrive when the Aggies would come to Austin for the annual battle with the University.

On the other hand, the Aggies are in a peculiar situation. They have lost only one game during the season and have amassed a large total number of points against two score some odd of their opponents. They have, perhaps, the best defensive club in the conference, together with a fair running and passing attack.

The entire team is in good condition, with perhaps a few exceptions. The coaches, Bible, Rothgeb, and Pierce, have left nothing undone in the way of preparation for the battle. Word received from the Longhorn camp is to the same effect. Their hospital list has been discontinued and will be ready when the referees whistle blows Thursday afternoon.

To concede an advantage to either team would be an act committed in gross ignorance of the traditions of the two schools. It will be a fight—a fight from whistle to whistle and the outcome will depend entirely upon the way the student bodies support their teams. The cadet corps will meet the first and only real opposition in yelling they will encounter the entire season. We must win, men, and to do it depends upon you.

PARADE OF CADET CORPS TO BEGIN DAY IN AUSTIN

expression of the spirit of every Aggie—and all ex-Aggies as well—will become a reality looked forward to with the keenest anticipation when the corps and officials of the college board the four special trains day after tomorrow morning. The outward aspects of the embarkation will not be different from the appearance of previous corps trips. Anyone even slightly familiar with A. and M. traditions, however, will unconsciously detect a feeling which will really permeate the air. That feeling has been evident for a long time, and on Thursday morning will culminate in what is destined to be the most successful corps trip since the Austin trip year before last.

Four special trains will carry the students, college officials, and Bryan people to Austin over the I. and G. N. road. The order in which the corps will board the trains will be the same as the order in which it boarded the trains to Waco on November 1. The first section will carry the First and Second Battalions of Infantry, the second section the Third Battalion of Infantry and the Air Service and Signal Corps, the third section will convey the Cavalry Squadron and the Field Artillery Batteries, and the fourth section will carry the Band, Civilian Students, Faculty Members, and Bryan people. The trains are due in Austin at eleven o'clock at the I. and G. N. station on 3rd street. The rate for the round trip is $5.45.

Rifles and side-arms will not be taken on the trip. Immediately on arriving in Austin, the corps will parade in a column of platoons up Congress Avenue to the martial music of our own Aggie Band. The Third Battalion of Infantry will justly lead the parade because of the unfortunate accident of the Waco trip which kept the Battalion out of the parade. Otherwise the order of march will be the same as it was in the Waco parade. As the platoons swing past the balcony of the Stephen F. Austin hotel they will be reviewed by Governor Pat M. Neff, Governor-elect Miriam Ferguson, President W. M. W. Splawn of Texas University, our own Prexy, Dr. W. B. Bizzell, and other state officials and dignitaries. The corps will disband at the temporary capitol grounds on Eleventh and Congress and everyone will then have an opportunity to get coffee and sandwiches. Free checking rooms will be provided at the Chamber of Commerce at the Elk's Club on 7th and Colorado Sts.

Our justly-famous cadet band will be conveyed to the stadium in time to lead the dedication procession on the field at 1:45 p. m. That band will reach the climax of a well-deserved recognition when it proudly marches on the field at the head of a distinguished gathering of state officials and other persons concerned in the building of the stadium. The sight of our band should be enough to cause the corps to demonstrate that widely-known Aggie spirit in a more determined form than it has ever reached before. It hardly seems necessary to remind cadets that they should be at the stadium by 1:30 p. m. Our band will be there. The dedication ceremony will be over by 2:15, and the real dedication—the football game—begins at 2:30.

The departure of the special trains for College beginning at 7:30 p. m., will mark the close of a day that is surely fated to be unforgettable. Many of the cadets will visit their homes after the game; others will come back to College to celebrate.

MEMORIAL FOUNTAIN ERECTED AT ENTRANCE TO Y. M. C. A.

A beautiful water fountain was recently installed on the left of the main entrance to the Y. M. C. A. The fountain is about three feet high and has four drinking places. It is made of Vermont marble and is artistically carved. On one side, the following inscription is found:

"In Memory of J. M. Woodson, Jr., Lovingly known as 'Peg'."

"Peg" Woodson was a student at A. and M. when the United States entered the World War. "Peg" joined the army and gave his life serving his country—and his is one of the fifty-two golden stars that are found on the A. and M. College service flag.

The fountain is a gift of the parents of "Peg" Woodson, and soon fitting dedication services will be held.
