

Purina Mills Representative to Interview the "Ag" Seniors

Mr. L. M. Kishlar, representing the Purina Mills, will be on the campus March 12 to 14 inclusive for the purpose of interviewing Agricultural Seniors that may be interested in employment with the Purina Mills. His headquarters while here, will be at the Y. M. C. A.

For the benefit of those men going to the Livestock Show in Fort Worth, Mr Kishlar has arranged to interview them at the Texas hotel March 8 to 10 inclusive.

The Purina Mills are the oldest and largest manufacturers of commercial feeds in the world. They prefer to use agricultural college graduates because those men understand the necessity of supplying livestock and poultry raisers with rations that cut their cost of producing milk, eggs, pork and beef. The right type of men will find a position with the Purina Mills an unusual opportunity.

It is interesting to note that the Purina Mills employs more Texas A. and M. College graduates than any other college with the possible exception of the University of Missouri. There are, at the present 16 former Aggies on the Purina forces. They have formed a "Texas Aggie-Purina Club," and it is said to be a very active and progressive club.

Any Agricultural Senior interested can arrange interviews with Mr. Kishlar, either at Fort Worth or the College, by seeing J. H. Hayes, 16 Foster Hall. The Mills want several men from A and M. this year.

ALL WALES TEAM

Everybody likes a man's chorus, and in the Rhondda Welsh Chorus which will sing here on March 11th, we shall have an opportunity to hear one of the very best. The Welsh are famous for their group singing. One of the most interesting features of country life in the Welsh mountains is the singing contests which are participated in by choirs representing whole communities, and which call forth the same intense interest that we give to athletic contests.

The Rhondda Singers are a sort of all-Welsh team of singers who have been chosen from the victorious choirs of the country, and have widened their selection of songs to embrace all sorts of good music as well as their native airs. They bring fine recommendations from all over Canada and the United States, and cannot fail to give a great deal of pleasure to everybody who likes music in any form whatever.

It is probable that there will be a very large crowd at this concert, and for this reason students are advised to get their tickets as early as possible. Tickets for students are 50c.

ARCHITECTURAL STUDENTS RETURN FROM NEW ORLEANS

Inspection Trip Was A Complete Success

The members of the group of seniors and juniors that made the annual architectural inspection trip returned to College on Wednesday, February 25. The group, consisting of thirty-one seniors and juniors, together with Professors June and Lindsey, Mrs. Lindsey, the latter's mother and C. M. Porter, who made the trip to visit relatives in New Orleans, left College on Wednesday, February 18, and arrived in New Orleans on the following day. The trip was made in a special car which was kept at Pullman City during the entire time the group stayed in the Crescent City.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday were spent in inspecting some of New Orleans' outstanding buildings. The Hibernia Bank Building, a twenty-three story superstructure, the Federal Reserve Building, the Post Office, the Customs House, the Court House and the old Government Mint, one of the oldest government buildings in the country, were among the structures that were inspected. Of special interest was the old French quarter, the original site of New Orleans, which was visited Friday. One of the features of this part of the city was the old French Market, and it is here that several magnificent cathedrals may be seen, among them the one that was erected in anticipation of Napoleon's expected visit.

On Sunday the group scattered, many visiting with friends and relatives in the city and the majority taking a forty-mile ride on board the pleasure boat "Capitol." The following day was spent inspecting the campus of Tulane University and also that of Newcome College. Two of the old French cemeteries were also visited on this day.

With the real work of the trip over, Tuesday saw the group scattered over the entire city witnessing and enjoying the novelty and carnival spirit of the Mardi Gras. That evening the members assembled and boarded the car preparatory to leaving New Orleans and Wednesday noon found them back at College.

Betty: "Dear, these cakes are hard as stone!"

Mahlon: "I know. Didn't you hear her say, 'Take your pick,' when she handed them round?"

House mother: "What time did he leave last night?"

Girl: "Oh about ten."

House mother: "Don't lie to me. I heard him say as he left, 'Just one.'"
