

TRAGEDIES OF THE WEEK.

"Punk" Baker couldn't get interested in the party at all Friday night until eats were passed around. Then, greatly strengthened, he took heart and actually danced a few dances.

Saturday night's dance disclosed a potential social hound for the Junior class. "I" Company's masterful "top kick", R. A. Roberts, made his debut and incidentally gave the ladies a treat.

We said something about skating last week. And now along comes Texas, Juliette, and Lila to tell us that the station-master in Bryan is inclined to discourage the practice of that gentle art near the H. & T. C. station.

This same above mentioned triumvirate with the addition of Lois, gave a most interesting exhibition of this most recent fad on the military walk last week.

Wonder if "Chin" Anderson "fixed" it so Menke could have a dance Friday night. At any rate we heard a sweet young voice make that particular request.

"Poor Richard" says: "Be not the last to give up the old, nor the first to take up the new." We wonder if this will have any effect on the Bryan Belles and those military geniuses who will wear the shiny leather in '26? "Jelly" Priesmeyer is an authority on this omnipotent subject.

Doctor Marsh reports that Hebbert Allen is recovering slowly. No statement was made as to the condition of "Chee Chee" Schwab.

W. R. FREDERICK IS VALEDICTORIAN

Last Sunday, after dinner, the Senior class met in the "Y" Chapel to elect the valedictorian.

A previously appointed committee, of which Ed Flowers was chairman, had in a very systematic method made a survey of the entire Senior class. All men who were of sufficiently high scholastic standing were considered by the committee. Those who had this required scholastic standing; who were active in student affairs, and who were capable speakers, were presented to the class as candidates for nominations. From this list five men were nominated and upon voting, W. R. Frederick, president of the graduating class, was elected valedictorian.

Frederick is a student of Civil Engineering and ranks as one of the best in that department. In the military life of the College he is also a leader being major of the Artillery unit and a prominent member of the Ross Volunteers. This is a fitting honor to mark the close of his career as a student of A. and M. College.

SCIENCE TELLS US

It's dangerous to wear a safe for a watch charm.
A jelly fish cannot wear suspenders.
Elephants cannot be shipped by parcel post.
The cat never had any pajamas.
A pin has a head on only one end.
Never eat canned corn without first removing the can.
Indians did not invent the whooping cough.

SHORT X CHANGES

A COMPLAINT AGAINST COEDUCATION.

"My quarrel with co-education is that it is making men less humane at the very time when the world needs men who are more humane than they have ever been before" is the opinion of Rolo Walter Brown in an article written recently for Harper's magazine, entitled, "Co-education versus Literature."

"Men students in co-education colleges," he says, "avoid the 'humane' studies, literature, language, fine arts and sometimes history, because they regard these subjects as being especially appropriate for women. The opposite of this, he holds, is true in men's colleges. He explains this by saying "men are not going to lay bare their hearts, or give expression to convictions that are sacred, if women are sitting promiscuously about in the classroom."

A NEW KIND OF COLLEGE.

Alexander Meiklejohn outlines his plans for the establishment of a new kind of college in the January Century. He would limit his college to 200 or 300 students, would substitute for the present course system the study of an ancient civilization the plans for the establishment of a new freshman year, and of a modern one the sophomore year, followed by an intensive study of one field of knowledge during the junior and senior years, and that a closer comradeship of teacher and pupil might be persuaded to think for themselves, he would substitute the tutorial for the lecture method of instruction.

GIRLS WHO GO UNKISSED.

"There are some girls who are never kissed," according to an article in The Washington Star. "The Japanese lover, for instance, does not salute his betrothed in our fashion. He regards kissing as a queer foreign custom; it has no meaning for him. In China the kiss is considered disgraceful.

"But although the kiss is unknown or at any rate neglected in many parts of the world, nearly every nation has some form of salutation which corresponds with the European kiss. The Malays and the Eskimos greet each other by rubbing noses. Among the Burmees the form of greeting which denotes affection is to apply the cheek and draw a long breath."
