

The BATTALION

No Man's Thinking is Better than His Information.

—D. S. T.

Published Weekly by the Students' of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas.

VOL. XXIII.

BRYAN, TEXAS, MARCH 18, 1925.

NUMBER 21

SAY AGGIE

The time of the year has come when a little compelled work is almost unbearable. Sometimes it's called spring fever; at any other time of year it's laziness. But the effects are very easy to see. What has been merely a grumble becomes a pronounced gripe. Everything gets its share, especially the mess hall. In fact, it has almost become a custom of the school to gripe at the food served in the mess hall. A large part of the time this complaint is well founded, and although improvements have been repeatedly made, the quality and quantity usually drop back to its original state. On the other hand, the way in which the food is eaten is as bad or worse than the food itself. A great improvement has been made along this line this year, but still about the only rule observed is the survival of the fittest. Perhaps a little more attention to the way we eat would make the meal more satisfying.

"How come big boy" that your thoughts are only of today and you leave tomorrow's problem for tomorrow? You usurp the privileges of the class above you, never thinking that by natural succession you will be a member of that class soon. Then it will be your problem to educate the underclassmen to take only those things that they are entitled to.

Strange as it may seem, the so called Senior Section was supposed to be occupied only by fourth year men and letter men and not by all the "important" men in the student body. It has been that way as long as the present Senior Class can remember only formerly, the underclassmen seemed to understand that seniority was taken into consideration even at baseball games. Be fair to yourself for you will get everything in the course of time.

How many Seniors have started talking for a Senior Week that we would all appreciate? Don't leave it to the other fellow; suggest to your own professors that it takes a few days to wind up the affairs of four years in proper shape. Get to work and let us see if we can not be assured of the week before the last day of school.

IMPERSONATOR WIDELY KNOWN TO APPEAR HERE

W. Powell Hale Will Give Versatile Program in Assembly Hall Saturday.

Rev. Matthews, of the Y. M. C. A., has announced that he has secured the services of W. Powell Hale, impersonator, of Jefferson City, Tennessee, who will appear at the Assembly Hall to give his program next Saturday night. This entertainer was a school-mate of D. X. Bible, and it is at the latter's request that Rev. Matthews is bringing Mr. Hale here.

The lecture supplementing the regular Saturday night program at the Assembly Hall last week proved so popular that it has been decided to make an effort to make a feature of this sort, a permanent one. In securing Mr. Hale to appear here, the Y. M. C. A. is presenting an artist who is fully capable of entertaining an audience of the most critical sort, and it is really an injustice to Mr. Hale to ask him to appear before Aggie-land as anything but a solo performer.

Mr. Hale appeared at Tulsa University recently for an entertainment similar to the one he will give here, and within two weeks he was asked back for a second engagement before practically the same audience, which is rather a unique thing for an impersonator to be able to boast of in these days of such numerous and varied entertainments. The advance motives concerning Mr. Hale state in part, "In matchless mimicry the work of Mr. W. Powell Hale stands out as representative of the highest form of artistry in this particular line of entertainment."

Mr. Hale has a reputation that places him among the first. There are few men on the platform who have at hand a greater variety to choose from; he has appeared on a number of college programs in which he appeared from seven to ten successive times, giving in each case a full program without a single repetition. It is said that in each portrayal his acting and his changes of voice and expression are so remarkable that the audience forgets that there is such a

(Continued on Page 2)

AGGIES SUCCESS MARKS CLOSE OF FAT STOCK SHOW

Band, Stock Judging Teams and College Herds Bring Many Honors to College

With the close of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, comes the news that A. and M. College won considerable praise and honor there; that the various judging teams representing the college were victorious in the week's competition; that the band won a warm place in the hearts of the many people who thronged the Coliseum; and that the animals owned by the institution were triumphant, carrying honors and prizes.

The judging teams did exceptionally well, the livestock team winning first place and a number of individual prizes. The dairy team carried away its share of prizes and honors for the college by winning their contest.

The A. and M. band was a center of attraction. It played throughout the week. On last Friday night, which marked the end of the week's playing for the band, the members of that organization were honor guests at a dance at the Meadowmere Country Club. A rather novel and unusual engagement was the band's appearance on the theatre stage as an added attraction at a vaudeville show. The band drew crowded houses at all performances and derived much pleasure from the new experience.

Victor's Prince, an A. and M. steer, was proclaimed grand champion of all breeds in the Southwestern Exposition. The animal was led in the grand march down the main street of the city and was placed on exhibition in the lobby of the Texas Hotel in an improvised enclosure. There he remained all day Friday, bearing on his horn the purple ribbon of grand champion. A conspicuous sign stated that he was bred and exhibited by the A. and M. College.

The College won a large number of prizes. In addition to winning the grand championship of all breeds of steers, the college carried twelve first prizes in the fourteen classes entered with its steers; eight first places out of fourteen classes entered with its

(Continued on Page 2)

INAUGURATION OF ANNUAL PARENTS' DAY ON MAY 3-4

Parents of Students Will Have An Opportunity to Visit Sons and Inspect College.

A. and M. College will observe on May 3 and 4, its first annual Parents' Day. It has been customary to honor Mother's Day at the College for many years, but a time when the parents of the students could come to College for a friendly gathering has been lacking. May 3 and 4 will be set aside as the time for instituting annual Parents' Day, which will hereafter be observed as one of the big days in the College year.

The Dallas A. and M. Mothers' Club has had much to do with instituting the event. In February Mrs. H. L. Peoples, first president of the club, and Mrs. Kirk Hall, an honorary member since the beginning of the club, were at the College to talk over plans for the Parents' Day with Dr. Bizzell, who was enthusiastic over the idea. May 3 and 4 were chosen shortly afterward as the most favorable days for the event. Committees to work out details will be appointed shortly.

Instituting a Parents' Day at the College has been a goal toward which the A. and M. Mothers' Club has striven since its organization, March 3, 1922. Plans for the further co-operation of the Dallas Club with President Bizzell and the committees for the institution of the fete will soon be announced. The occasion of this day should be one of the most enjoyable of the whole year. Commencement, which is a favorite visiting time at the College, is a busy time when faculty, student body, and visitors have their hours overcrowded with services, ceremonies, programs, and entertainments incident to graduation. Parents' Day will be the time of the year for a friendly gathering of parents to visit their sons and to become better acquainted with the faculty and the College.

Student:—"I want the life of Caesar."

Librarian:—"I'm sorry, but Brutus has beaten you to it."—Ex.