

Aggie Sports

A. R. MENGER, Editor

C. M. FLORER
Assistant Editor

Aggies Rout Trinity Tigers 26-0

*****
* DROP KICKS *
*****

Those much touted Trinity Tigers who were going to give the Aggies a severe test, according to some few of the erstwhile sport writers and public opinion, were handed a severe drubbing to the tune of 26 to 0. The Aggies, always fighting, fought a noble battle and were rewarded with a glorious victory. Revenge is sweet; and the bitter taste from the dregs of their scores on the sacred Kyle Field have been overcome. The Tigers as ferocious as they were, have been lashed to submission by a bunch of FARMER boys.

26-0

Propoganda spreads its tales of woe and glory our way and tells us that there is one at S. M. U. who has again assumed the name and characteristics of a "Wild Bull." That must be the same "wild bull of the Brazos Bottoms" that made more gains for the other team when last year the Farmer lads made him look very much like a "gentle cow browsing along the green grassy stream banks." Lets get mean, gang, we can and will do it again this year!

26-0

Already we are hearing the thunder of the approaching storm from the Sewanee tribe in the Tennessee mountains. Thrice have they journeyed to Texas soil in an attempt to carry home a banner of victory but thrice have they failed to taste sweet victory; twice have they tasted bitter defeat. They come again this year with vengeance in their very souls. Everyone is preaching "Beat the Farmers." Old Aggie gang, we can't let these "furriners" invade and conquer. We can beat them, gang, but we got to get down and fight—fight hard all the time old army. Make 'em like it!

26-0

"Doleful" Doc is getting his men whipped into the usual shape already. Some of the stars of his club have returned to the hospital in a "high fever"—the consequences of a hard workout the evening before. Big and strong men they all are—as sick as they are, when a game is on hand they leave the sick bed and play the game of their careers. "Doc's" tale of woe and the sickness of his men tell the world who is not out. But it won't be long now before the casualty list will swell—to swell proportions.

26-0

It is quite true that the Aggie Fish have a wonderful array of football material this year. But let no man—no matter who he be—predict too far

(Continued on Page 10)

JESS HAWLEY TELLS FOOTBALL SECRETS

Noted Dartmouth Coach Reveals How a Light Team Can Win by Rhythm.

Jess B. Hawley, famous Dartmouth football coach whose team last year smashed time and again through heavier opposing lines, winning every game played, says that the secret of the spectacular Green success lies in rhythm.

"Rhythm, more than anything else, is the factor responsible for such success as I have had as a football coach," he writes, revealing how he has applied science to football to obtain his spectacular results. "Timed unison in thinking and acting gives eleven eager men on a football team an almost irresistible advantage over another eleven that has not learned to co-ordinate the actions of individuals into team rhythm. It is one of the most essential qualities of a successful football team, both as an offensive and as a defensive measure. I have proved this, time and again, during my years of coaching at Iowa and at Dartmouth."

It is an engineering fact, he points out, that eleven men, timing their motions with an exactness that enables the eleven to hit the opposing line as one man, can smash through much heavier opponents with an ease that would be utterly impossible if the shock of attack were untimed, unsynchronized, without rhythm.

In the systematic planning of team structure and development says Hawley, the successful coach should analyze each player for the following inherent qualities, listed in the order of their importance:

Courage, physical skill, and mental capacity. The last item includes ability to understand theory of plan and its details, fast decisions and initiative, and co-ordination of brain and brawn.

"Courage, the great self-effacing heart of a man, that is vital," declares Hawley. "Without courage, intellectual caacity, brawn, skill—all sink into nothingness.

"Two years ago Larry Leavitt, Dartmouth fullback, gave a striking illustration of what sheer courage will do. We had gone up against a team that displayed unexpected ability. Leavitt was not in the best physical shape, and we were holding him back for what we considered a

(Continued on Page 10)

AGGIES BATTLE WITH PIRATES SATURDAY

First Game on Kyle Field This Season.

The Aggies play their first home-game of the season Saturday, when they take the field against the Southwestern Pirates. This game will give the members of the cadet corps their first opportunity to show that they have that old "stuff." They can't get the real Aggie spirit until they have seen the team out there fighting for them, and from all reports the team is going to have to show plenty of fight against the Pirates in order to win.

Southwestern battled Baylor to a standstill last Saturday and the Bears were lucky to win. Baylor scored against them with a lucky forward pass in the last second of the first half, but the rest of the game was played in midfield. The Aggies hope to do better than that against the Pirates.

This game will enable the Aggie coaches to pick a winning combination to go against Sewanee at Dallas and it is expected that nearly all the members of the squad will see service Saturday.

TRACK STAR LOSES FIRST RACE

Mr. Johnnie J. Crump, the renowned leader of the Aggie cross country squad, and noted all over the Southwest for his prowess in this "Esquival chasing" sport, may be a great track man and a noble gentleman, but he's a poor politician. For the facts of the case are: Sunday afternoon the Seniors met and elected the usual class officers and were preparinig to adjourn when Johnnie, disappointed because he wasn't elected president of the class, set a new precedent and nominated himself as College Mascot. Shocked by his gall, one of his roommates, Lieutenant James C. Langford, nominated "Elmer", a little nonchalant Spitz perp to run against Johnnie. Fortunately the dog won—but Johnnie ran a close second.

As has been said before, this is a hard year on champions.

Swimming is deep stuff to some and merely a matter of form to others.

English Prof—What was the occasion for the quotation: "Why don't you speak for yourself, John?"

Soph—John Alden was trying to fix up a blind date for his roommate, Miles Standish.

TRADITIONAL DOPE GLEEFULLY UPSET

Cochran, Schley and Whittaker Were Outstanding Stars on Tiger Eleven.

Playing straight football with a few passes mixed in, the Texas Aggies triumphed over the Trinity Tigers by a 26-0 score on Yoakum Field, Waxahachie, last Friday afternoon. The Tigers did not once get within the Aggie 30-yard line.

The Farmers scored their first touchdown after eleven minutes of play. Starting from the A. and M. 30-yard line, Hunt, Colgin, Woodman and Simmons started a drive down the field that terminated when Woodman plunged over the initial score of the game. Hunt's try at goal was unsuccessful. The feature of this play was a pretty 40-yard run by Hunt that started the Aggies on their way.

The second Aggie touchdown came early in the second quarter when Woodman plunged over the Tiger line for the second time for a touchdown. Later on in the same quarter a try for field goal by Woodman fell short from the 40-yard line.

The Tigers threw a scare into the Aggie supporters when they started a determined passing game that carried the ball to the Aggie 30-yard line. The Farmers held and the ball was in their possession in mid-field when the half ended.

The third touchdown came when Huffman made a poor punt from his own goal line and gave the Aggies possession of the ball on the Tiger 25-yard line. A penalty put the ball within scoring distance and Hunt and Woodman advanced it to the 1-yard line where Hunt drove over for the score. Woodman kicking goal.

The old triple pass play, Hunt to Colgin to Woodman for 20 yards, followed by a run of 30 yards, gave the Aggies their fourth and final touchdown. Woodman successfully kicked goal.

The Tigers made a determined effort to score just as the game ended. After Pettit recovered an Aggie fumble on his own 26-yard line the Trinity backfield started a drive down the field that ended on the A. and M. 35-yard line when the final whistle blew.

Hunt, Woodman and Colgin did most of the ball carrying for the Aggies, while Simmons and Burgess showed up well. Simmons especially establishes himself as a good interference runner. The whole Aggie

(Continued on Page 9)

Let's Haul Down the Pirates Jolly Roger!