A. & M. LOUISIANA DEBATE HELD LAST SATURDAY

At a banquet held last Saturday night, in the new annex, the A. and M. debating team made its initial appearance before an audience of approximately sixty people. The apparent exclusiveness of the debate was due to one to be held in March involving the same question: "Resolved: That Congress Should Enact Legislation Embodying the Principles of the McNary-Haugen Farm Bills." A. and M. took the affirmative side against Louisiana State University, who offered the opposition last week, but they will have the negative against Kansas University, with whom the next debate will be held.

Although there was no decision as to who won the debate, the general belief is that the experience of the visiting team gave them an advantage over the Aggies, who were appearing for the first time.

J. R. Wood, a member of the A. and M. team, was chairman of the debate. Dr. T. O. Walton made a short address welcoming the L. S. U. team and voicing his approval of the furtherance of debating at A. and M.

The board of directors of A. and M. College will be asked to sit with the board of regents of Texas University in Austin on March 21, for a further, and what may be the final, discussion of the subject broached by the A. and M. directorate for a division of the University oil royalty income and permanent fund.

Discussions have been under way for some time with the University regents unyielding. The A. and M. College claims a share of the fund as being a branch of the University. At the coming meeting, the A. and M. board will be informed that it would be a heavy loser by accepting a division and acknowledging in law that it is a branch of the University subject to the constitutional restriction imposed on the University that it shall not be eligible to receive any appropriations from the State for buildings.

Figures cited in support of the University's position fix the maximum expectancy of the oil royalty at $15,000,000, it now being $5,500,000, and, with the division suggested, two-thirds to the University and one-third to A. and M., the latter would receive approximately $5,000,000. That sum invested in bonds at 4 per cent would yield only $200,000. Taking the $200,000 as a part of the University would automatically render the college ineligible to receive further appropriations for buildings, is the contention made.
