

WEEK'S NEWS IN REVIEW.

the Axtel road near Waco. It is alleged that in the ensuing melee the club house was broken into, provisions raided, blankets were taken and destroyed, and the dance floor of the house was practically ruined in the fight. In addition considerable general damage is said to have been done.

The state press is a wonderful thing. Articles like the above are kept out of it through some mysterious means, and by like mysterious means the press manages to get absurd and untrue reports on its wires. Two weeks ago the A. P. carried a story telling of the resignation of a third of the Freshman class of A. and M. due to hazing, and last week the United Press gave out the information that bathing was forbidden for several days here due to the shortage of water. They were both good news stories, even to the commandant and president.

Colonel Charles R. Mayo, who is inspecting officer for all R. O. T. C. units of the Eighth Corps Area, was at the A. and M. College last week to inspect the various divisions of the R. O. T. C. unit. The review that was held for Col. Mayo was very good and met with his approval. Col. Mayo inspected all the various divisions, equipment, and material. He also visited several practice classes on Tuesday and was very well pleased with them.

The first annual Pecan Show will be held in San Saba, Texas, in November of this year, and A. and M. men will have an important part in its success and in its management. The Pecan Show is a new thing and will be nation-wide in its scope. It should develop into a tremendous thing as the pecan industry is growing yearly by leaps and bounds. San Saba is the heart of the greatest pecan section of the world and a logical place for such an exposition. Officers for the coming show were recently chosen as follows:

President, Dean E. J. Kyle, '99, A. and M. College; vice-presidents J. F. Rosenborough, '23, A. and M.; Senator T. H. Ridgway, San Antonio; J. H. Burkett, Clyde; E. E. Risien, San Saba; Secretary, Fred R. Brison, '22, A. and M. A long list of directors selected with the pecan growing interests of the State.

The A. and M. men mentioned are all experts in pecan work and have made many valuable contributions to the industry. Dean Kyle is one of the leading authorities on the industry in the world and has written several volumes upon the subject. J. F. Rosenborough and Fred Brison have both served as county agent of San Saba and are both well acquainted with every phase of the pecan business.

PLANS COMPLETE FOR
R. O. T. C. SUMMER
TRAINING CAMP

Estimated attendance of juniors at the Summer Reserve Officers' Training Camps the coming summer is placed at more than 300, an announcement of the camp schedule just made at the military department of the college shows.

The largest number of cadets will go to Fort Sam Houston, where the camp opens May 31, the number to go there being estimated at 232. These include 173 Infantrymen, 30 Signal Corps men, and 29 Field Artillery men. Major J. E. Sloan will be the camp commander.

Seventy-four members of the Cavalry unit will go to Fort Clark for the camp that opens May 31. Captain W. E. Buckley will be camp commander.

With Captain A. M. Guidera as camp commander, 24 members of the Air Corps unit will go to Fort Crockett, where the camp opens May 31.

Six of the cadets will go to the Edgewood Arsenal for training in chemical warfare service, the training there to begin June 17.

Cadets will be ordered to camp direct from the College following commencement exercises except in the case of those who will attend the chemical warfare service camp at Edgewood Arsenal.

OPPORTUNITY FOR SUMMER WORK.

Anyone interested in social work and has not definitely decided on any certain work this summer should see Mr. Cashion at the Y about joining a summer service group in New York City, carrying out the program of the Y. M. C. A. activities in that city. The work will be the supervision of athletics, teaching, social study, and other similar occupations that will require only a part of his time. All his expenses, except railroad fare will be paid. This will make a very desirable trip for someone, but whoever desires to take advantage of this offer should act immediately, as only twenty college students from the whole country will be selected, the allotment of the Southwest being only four.

BAPTIST BANQUET.

The Annual Baptist Banquet will be held in the new banquet room of the mess hall Friday evening at 7 o'clock. All Baptist students and campus people are invited and urged to attend.

Pity the poor pickpocket—he isn't doing business until he gets his hand in!

Sweet young thing: "And why do they call the Aggies 'Farmers'?"
Bright Cadet: "Because they all sow wild oats."
