

Aggie Championship Hopes Go Up in Smoke

NINETY-FOUR TEAMS IN TOURNAMENT

Horseshoe Pitching Meets with Wide Acclaim.

The ancient art of "horseshoe" pitching has been revived at A. and M. College under the supervision of Mr. Walter Pemberthy, who is director of Intramural athletics.

This term "Intramural" was derived from the latin phrase "intramura," within the walls, so within A. and M. there are fifteen branches of sports ranging from football to horseshoe pitching. Every man is invited to enter any of the contests that he is interested in.

At the present time ninety-four teams of doubles have been entered in the horseshoe pitching tournament and considerable interest is being shown. Some of the participants have made excellent showings. Johnnie Sloan, San Saba, and R. A. Klutz, Princeton, make up the team now leading, with E. H. "Nig" Stevens, Slagle, La., and E. T. "Satch" Fuller, Beaumont, running a close second.

AGGIES HORSES BALK AS DALLAS WINS POLO MATCH IN HOUSTON

Dallas won over Texas A.&M. College 12 to 4 in the second of the series of polo games Saturday.

Cecil Adkins and Dudley Mayer, playing in top form, were responsible for all the Dallas scores. Mayer led with four. Stick work, which was regarded as particularly good, of Coyt, Beck and DeBogory, indicated that the Dallas team will make a determined bid for the tournament championship.

The Aggie squad rode hard, but were handicapped for lack of mounts. Many times they had the ball out in front but failed to land it when the ponies became unruly. Captain Amend probably was the outstanding Aggie player. His hard riding and mallet work figured in all the Aggie's scores.

Little Girl: "Mother, there's a man in the kitchen kissing the cook."

Mother: What! In my house! Send her upstairs immediately."

Little Girl: April Fool! It's only father."

Father (sternly): Son, what does this 60 mean on your report card?

Son (in innocent tones): Don't know Dad, unless that was the temperature of the room.

LONGHORNS OVERWHELM THE AGGIES

Field Men Show Good Marks.

The Texas Longhorns repeated their triumph over the Farmer track team, winning the final dual meet of the season, 71 to 46. The meet was run off in slow time, Cockrell showing only 10.3 in the 100-yard dash. Hargis flashed 45 feet five and three-fourths in the shot, while McKenzie did 45 even. Smith uncorked a good javelin heave with 170 feet four inches, and Shepherd lifted himself over the bar at 6 feet 2.

CONFERENCE MEET AT RICE MAY 12-13-14

Winner Doubtful.

The annual track and field meet of the Southwestern Conference will be held at Houston, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 12, 13, and 14. The Rice Owls will act as sponsors for the occasion.

In times gone by Texas has usually lead the field by a big margin with the Aggies second. But this year the Owls have a strong squad, and inasmuch as the meet is being held in their territory promise to bid strong for Conference honors.

Texas promises to be strongest in the dashes and in the field events, but with so many competitors are not liable to come out as well as they expect. The Owls are strong in the distances, while the Aggies will be favored to win the hurdles, the forty yard dash, and the mile-relay. S. M. U. has Hooper, who will bid strong for honors in the mile and half-mile.

Every school in the Conference with the possible exception of Arkansas has teams entered and under favorable weather conditions several old records will probably fall. Such men as Shepherd, Cockrell, Gooch, and Jackson of Texas, Brunson of Rice, Hooper of S. M. U., Taylor of Baylor, Parker, Kennedy, and Crump of the Aggies, and others equally as famous in Conference track circles will be on hand to vie with each other for individual honors.

Preliminaries will be held on the 12th and 13th and the finals will be run off on Saturday the 14th.

STEERS WIN AS AGGIES LOSE TO RICE

Aggies Stage Comeback in Second Game.

The Aggies lost the first of a two-game series in Houston to the Rice Owls 4 to 2. The game was won on hits off Wyman who had trouble getting them out for the first time this season. He was touched for 9 hits, 3 in a row in the 7th and 2 in a row in the 8th. Both teams played consistent baseball throughout the game, the Aggies making 3 errors and the Owls making 2.

The second game was featured by the star playing of Capt. Tucker and the pitching of Sikes, who started the game but got into trouble in the 2nd inning by walking 3 men and allowing one hit. Hillin relieved him and pitched until the fourth when Rothgeb sent him to right field and placed Sikes back on the mound. On second attempt he pitched peerless ball and allowed only one hit. This, coupled with eleven Aggie hits, and Rice eight errors made it easy pickings for the Aggies who won 7 to 3.
