SADDLE AND SIRLOIN CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

At a meeting of the members of the Saddle and Sirloin Club last week, the following were elected as officers of the club for the next school year: Percy C. Farris of Uvalde, president; N. E. Ryale, Jasper, vice-president; W. J. Fields, Sonora, secretary; and A. A. Storey, Lockhart, treasurer. Farris and Ryale are members of the present junior class, Fields and Storey of the present sophomore class.

For the benefit of those who are not informed as to what this organization is and why it originated, a brief sketch of its history and organization should be given. In 1919 the animal husbandry students of this college met, elected officers, and decided on a name for the club. It is to the class of 1920-21 however, that credit must be given for establishing the first by-laws and constitution. The primary object of the organization was to provide some means by which the senior livestock judging team could be sent to the International Livestock Show at Chicago and also the show at Kansas City, with the greater part of their expenses paid, thus enabling the boys who previously were lacking somewhat in funds at the time the trip was made to hold their places on the team. By means of the annual rodeo given in November, the club meets these expenses of the team. The basis of the organization was to promote interest in the animal husbandry work in this college, and in the animal industry in the state as a whole, and further, to create an organization through which the animal husbandry students and instructors may be brought into closer relationships both socially and educationally.

The club has long been one of the most active student organizations on the campus and under its newly elected officers it is hoped that the purpose for which it was organized will be pushed forward and greater benefit derived from its association.
