 Her father: Then you ought to be abolished by the health board for maintaining a nuisance.

NEFF SETS NEW PISTOL RECORD

J. Neff of Laredo, a junior in mechanical engineering at A. and M. made what army officers here declare is an unusual record in pistol shooting in the course in that branch of military instruction here recently.
 In pistol match shooting over the regular course at a 4-inch bullseye, Neff made a score of 296 out of a possible 300. Thirty shots were fired. Two clips of five shots each were fired over a distance of twenty-five yards at the rate of thirty seconds to the clip, two clips over a distance of fifteen yards at the rate of eleven seconds to the clip, and two over a distance of twenty-five yards at the rate of fifteen seconds to the clip. Only four of the thirty shots hit outside the bulls-eye.
 Lieutenant A. E. Michelsen, U. S. A., is coach of the pistol team this year, being assisted in the work by Lieutenant R. D. Powell, U. S. A.

CAMPUS PLAYERS TO PRESENT "LIGHTNING."

The Campus Players will present "Lightning," a play in prologue and three acts, Saturday evening, May 28, in the Assembly Hall, at the request of the committee on arrangements for the commencement program. This play was first presented in New York at the Gaiety Theatre, August 26, 1918, and had a two-year run. In 1920 it opened at the Blackstone Theatre in Chicago, playing to packed houses for one year. The play is full of humor, tempered with that which is never allowed to become oppressive. It promises two hours of wholesome entertainment as the initial opening of the commencement program.

A merry young man from Podunk Went out to dance while still drunk But the floor was so slick And his tongue was so thick That his social standing was sunk.

METHUSELAH LOST IN GREAT FLOOD.

According to a research study by the Brooklin Inter-church council it has been discovered that Methuselah was left in the flood by Noah and met his death in this manner.
 The report refers to Genesis 5:25 to show that Methuselah was 187 years old when Noah's father, Lemech, was born; and to Genesis 5:28 which says that Lemech was 182 when Noah was born. Genesis 7:6 states that Noah was 600 years of age at the time of the flood and a total of these figures gives a result of 969 years. Now according to Genesis 5:27 all the days of Methuselah were 969 years and he died, so according to this Noah must have left his grandfather out of the ark and he perished.

Jazzically Speaking.
 "To attain happiness," says a lecturer, "one must vibrate in tune with one's environment."
 According to that, a man with St. Vitus dance at a jazz concert would be in perfect bliss.

Bride: "I don't think you love me as you did, Bertie."
 Husband: "What makes you think so, dear?"
 Bride: "For three days now you haven't been summoned for breaking the speed limit on your way home."

1st Englishman: He made his money in American Dry Goods.
 2nd Ditto: What are American Dry Goods?

1st Englishman: American Novels I guess.

From Yeast to Vest.
 "V'y is a pancake like der sun, Ike?"
 Ike—"I dunno. V'y?"
 "Because it rises in der yeast and sets behind der vest!"

He: "I do hope you will pardon my dancing on your feet—I'm a little out of practice."
 She: "I don't mind your dancing on them, it's the continual jumping off and on that aggravates me."

How's This?
 To settle the argument we propose: Gentlemen prefer blondes because blondes know what gentlemen prefer.—Stanford Daily.

Minister—Would you care to join us in the new missionary movement?
 Flapper Fanny—I'm crazy to try it. Is it anything like the Black Bottom?

TEXAS PRODUCTS IN DEMAND ABROAD.

The growing favor of American goods throughout the world is indicated by the many requests for the purchase of a varied assortment of farm and factory products received during the week by Ernest L. Tutt, Manager of the Southwest District Office of the U. S. Department of Commerce in Houston.

The "Wants" of thirty-seven foreign countries ranging from ambulances to carnival specialties and including stove polish, sewing machines, radio sets, bicycles, imitation pears, confectionery, hardware, toilet preparations, canned goods, printing presses, washing machines, aeroplane accessories, soap, automobiles, and motorcycles have just been listed for the information of firms and individuals engaged in export trade.

As examples of the inquiries, breakfast foods are wanted by Denmark. Canada is asking for canned fruits and vegetables. Yellow and white corn meal is sought by Barbados and Java is in the market for flour. Flour is also numbered among the requirements of Brazil, Egypt, Italy and Morocco. Italy and Morocco also are asking for grain and wheat. Germany, East Africa, Denmark and Belgium need canned and dried fruit, and Italy is looking for rice. Leather and leather goods are in the request from Denmark, France, Sweden and Egypt. Brazil wants to buy gasoline, and lubricating oils and greases are demanded by Egypt.

Willie (to rich old uncle): "Uncle, make a noise like a frog."
 Uncle: "Why?"
 Willie: "Cause when I ask daddy for anything he says, 'Wait till your uncle croaks.'"

—LISTENING—

The mocking bird had hushed his praise
 Of summer breeze and soft still night;
 Had hushed his song of silver moon
 Whose rays reflected soft and light.

He cocked his little head and harked:
 He heard a clear, sweet, lovely note,
 The clearest tones of Silver Taps
 Heard on the air, sweet and remote.

The lovely notes rang out upon
 The summer, blossom-scented air;
 They told of how a boy had died,
 (An incident, Alas! not rare).

Again the silver notes rang out,
 (The night was still, the hour was late),
 The bird still harked, and found at last,
 A call he could not imitate.

MYSTIC INDIA.

An epic in free verse.
 It fairly reeks with the Orient.

Dear Me, it cannot was, how time she flew.

Wake up! Wake up! the dawn is here,
 The air is charged with atmosphere,
 My old man's also charged with beer,
 And listen! Hear! I greatly fear,
 My clothes are charged, the shoes I wear,

The hats I smash, the pants I tear,
 My socks, with holes at which I swear,

No buttons on my under—B. V. D.'s
 Small wonder is it that I sneeze,
 The cold wind whistling 'round my knees.

Won't someone pass the whiskey, please?

The smell of spring, a pleasant stench,
 A nurse is seated on a bench,
 Feeding her child a monkey wrench.
 Police! This guy has got my goat!

Breathes there a man with soul so dead

That Listerine won't cure it?
 "Avast! Skipper, A Storm!" cried he.
 And the quarter-back kicked the goal.

"Young man, why do I find you kissing my daughter?"
 "I guess sir, it's because you wear rubber heels."

Our conception of the heights of competition—a traveling salesman and a sailor rushing the same girl.

Wife: Oh, dear! Did you miss a step?

Husband (lying at foot of stairs):
 No, by dear, I hit every blessed one of them!

"Jahnnny," said the professor, "write a sentence which will have a touch of reverence, have a mention of royalty, and be a little risque."

Johnny thought a minute and then wrote, "My God," said the Princess, "Take your hand off my knee."
