First Aid Instructor: What would you do if a man was pale, sweating profusely, unconscious, bleeding from the mouth, eyes and ears, and had a fractured skull and arms?

Student: I'd bury him.

INTRAMURAL ATHLETICS

The Intramural Athletic department, under the able leadership of Mr. Penberthy, has mapped out an extensive program of sports that will give every student in school an opportunity to participate in some branch of athletics. A system of managers has been arranged that will serve to keep interest aroused in intramural athletics during the entire year. There will be a unit manager for all sports in each company. He will be appointed by the company commander and his duties will be to organize and manage teams in all sports in his company. He will be awarded with a suitable medal if his team wins a championship.

In addition to the unit managers working in the company there will be an unlimited number of Sophomore "try-outs," who are trying out for Junior managers. They will work under the head of the Intramural athletic department assisting the Junior managers in running off contests, tournaments and meets. They will also help with the records. At the end of the year the two best qualified will be chosen as Junior managers for the ensuing year and will be awarded medals at the end of the first semester of their Junior year. It is desired that as large a number of Sophomores as possible try out. All Sophomores who are interested in sports are particularly urged to become Sophomore "try-outs."

There will be two Junior managers, who will be selected each year from the previous year's Sophomore "try-outs." They will work under the Senior manager in organizing leagues, meets, and tournaments. They will also keep the records under the direction of the Senior manager. At the end of their Junior year they will be awarded with intramural monogram sweaters.

At the head of this system of managers will be a Senior manager who is to be selected from the previous year's Junior managers. He will be awarded with a watch at the end of the year.

For the current season there will be no Senior manager, but the two Junior managers will be E. E. Scuddy and "Jelly" Holmes.

With each company having a team, interest in intramural sports will be greater than ever, as every man in college will have a chance to play on a team. About half the student body was engaged in intramural athletics last year and this year everybody ought to participate.

Basketball will be started by the first week in October. A tennis tournament with both singles and doubles will get under way about October 15. Volleyball will also start October 15. The intramural cross-country meet will be run in December, but October is not too early to start training for it.

The value of intramural athletics in the life of the college students cannot be stressed too highly and it is hoped that every man will avail himself of this opportunity for open-air exercise and the indulgence in his favorite sport.

some engineering course, with E. E. having the largest enrollment. A decided growth of enrollment in Architecture has been noted in the last few years; over one hundred Freshmen have already signed up for Architectural courses this year. This has made the department the largest one in the South. All other courses also show a substantial enrollment. Dean Friley requests the Freshmen to call on the faculty for help if any difficulty arises.

The expected enrollments in the other classes are: 350 Seniors; 500 Juniors, 675 Sophomores, and 60 graduate students. An expected total enrollment of 2,600 gives indications of a very successful year.

"I got a cracked rib."
"Pretty tough."
"I'll say she was."

An optimist is a fellow who thinks that the sweet little girl he is taking out for the first time is pure but hopes she isn't.

She: I'll run up to see you.
He: Do, and wear a track suit.

PRINCE ALBERT is the kind of a smoke you get clubby with, right off the bat. You'll be calling each other by your first names after the very first pipe-load. It is so genuinely friendly, in spirit and in fact.

P. A. treats your tongue and throat as gently as a mother handles a new-born baby. Never a bite. Never a parch. These are details, of course. The thing you'll remember longest is that wonderful taste! So cool, so sweet, so soothing.

No matter how hard you hit it up, this long-burning tobacco never hits back. You can go to it before classes, and right through to Lights Out. Get yourself a tidy red tin of Prince Albert today. The School of Experience has never produced a greater smoke than good old P. A.

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

PRINCE ALBERT

—no other tobacco is like it!
