Indications are that the Aggies' line will be one of a fairly heavy average, Bassett having expressed the belief that it will show 180 to 185 pounds to the man.

A few men have already dropped off the squad for various reasons. Maufrais, one of the most promising candidates for guard, could not get the courses he wanted, so he withdrew from school. Wrenn, the sheik of College Station, had to drop off the squad due to scholastic difficulties. He was a good man.

Scoville, the husky athlete from Dallas, has been switched from end to guard where advantage may be taken of his weight. Holmes has been changed from the backfield to the line, where he is showing up good.

While you are watching the Varsity athletes performing on Kyle Field don't forget that the intramural sport program offers a chance for everyone to be an athlete. There is a sport to fit any size, shape or figure. Sophomores are wanted to try out for intramural managers.

We have a swimming team here that holds the Southwest Coast Championship. Anyone having "fishy" tendencies is urged to get in touch with Herman Cox, the coach, or Drexel Turner, the captain.

Don't forget, the game starts promptly at 3 o'clock Saturday. Get right, gang, get right, and let's start that THOUSAND MILE WALK.

Aggies Coaches

trying to teach. Higginbotham will coach freshman football and baseball.

Assisting Coach Higginbotham with freshman football will be Track Coach Anderson, former Mississippi College star, and D. C. McIntosh of Minnesota. Henry Eitt, former Aggie star, will also help with the Freshmen.

With an array of coaches of so much ability it is little wonder that they are passing the word around to "Watch out for the Aggies."

"Fadder, dose goldfishes are fakes; I just bit one of dem in two!"

FOOTBALL TEAM

Wylie, Rektorik, are letter men working for tackle and guard positions, and Big Willie Bartlett, veteran center of last year, is back to protect that position. None of these men, as good as we know them to be, are assured by any means of his position, as the candidates from the last year's Fresman, Battalion and Varsity Squad teams are giving them plenty of competition. Indications are that the Aggie line of this year will average 180 pounds to 185 pounds to the man, according to the tentative analysis of Bassett, line coach.

Coach Bible will have this "Great Aggie Machine" ready for the invaders from Trinity Saturday, but the line-up that plays that day will have no special significance as to the permanent line-up for the season.

Below is the list of players working out, old men, look them up; Freshmen, meet them—they are our gang, and we love 'em!

"You gave me a narsty look," declared the first cockney, belligerently. "Well, you blighter," snarled the second cockney, "so did nature!"
