

SQUAD WEIGHTS.

Showing fifty-two men who tip the scales for a total of nearly four and a half tons, Coach Dana X. Bible's 1927 Texas Aggie squad is heavier than the usual run of teams. None of the men weigh more than 195 and only five less than 150 pounds.

Five players, four of them members of last year's varsity team, weigh 190 or more, and eleven of the men will tip the scales for more than 180, making a total of sixteen who weigh more than 180 pounds. There are nine men in the 170-180 class, seventeen who weigh between 160 and 170, and only ten who show below 160.

The average weight of all the men out for backfield positions is around 160 pounds and that of the linemen is close to 180 pounds with an average of about 170 pounds for both line and backfield.

The five heavyweights of the squad are Z. W. Bartlett, Marlin, 190; W. S. Lister, Livingston, 194; A. C. Sprott, Livingston, 195; H. P. Wylie, Dallas, 190; all of whom were lettermen in the last year's line; and W. K. Holleron, San Antonio, 191, husky tackle from the freshman team of last fall.

Those weighing between 180 and 190 pounds include: R. E. Gnauck, El Paso, 188; J. U. Stranskey, Savana, (Continued on Page 9)

LARGE NUMBER OF STUDENTS MAKE NOTES

Many Boys Working in Mess Hall to Help Defray Expenses.

With approximately 800 notes made on the campus by boys attending school this year, and about 500 of these notes being worked out by their signers, the old adage that says a poor boy has no chance at an education, is making its last bow. These notes are two and three signature papers with no tangible security.

The majority of the notes are carried by the College, the number out at present being estimated at 500. A credit system and loan fund are being used to finance the loans.

A total of 310 loans have been made by the Ex-Students Association, amounting to approximately $35,000. Last year this organization loaned 910 students a total of $70,000. These loans are financed by a number of special loan funds, including the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Student Loan Fund, the General Loan Fund, the Class of 1922 Loan Fund, the Ross Volunteer Loan Fund, The Casey-Sparks Loan Fund, The Dallas A. and M. Mothers Club Fund, The Ft. Worth A. and M. Mothers Club Fund, the San Antonio A. and M. Mothers Club Fund, Campus Study Club Fund, the Waco A. and M. Club Fund, the Engineers Loan Fund, the Stone & Webster Loan Fund, the Central and Southwestern Utilities Loan Fund, the Beulah Templeton Fund, the J. H. Nussbaum Fund and the E. J. West Fund.

Of the total number working out their notes, 120 are employed in Sbisa Hall, a large number are working on the campus under the direction of Sergeant Tyler, and the rest are in the employ of the various departments and campus residents.

SENIOR ELECTION COMMITTEE NAMED

Sprott to be Representative on Athletic Council.

The senior class held its second meeting of the year Sunday afternoon for the purpose of electing the remaining class officers. Allen Peoples and Joel Hunt urged the class to try to obtain more cooperation within the class and to get the other classes to play fair with the yelling staff and team.

A. C. Sprott was chosen as the representative on the Athletic Council. The council is composed of one student and several members of the faculty and rules the athletic activities of the school.

Jed Robinson, Leo Parten, and C. R. Smith were elected as the members of the election committee, with Robinson the chairman. The election committee supervises the elections of the other classes and the general elections at the end of school.
