

AGGIES CLASH WITH SEWANEE TIGERS SATURDAY

DROP-KICKS

Remember gang, lest we forget, that one reason that we did not do so well last year was overconfidence. Fight every game as it comes and look upon every opponent as a most worthy foe, because they are that and more. The season for easy games is over and for everything we get from now on we have to fight and fight hard. That long THOUSAND MILE WALK is two games gone, and the hill is getting steeper all the time.

According to dope reports that have been trickling down from the Mountain, Doctor Mike Bennet's Sewanee warriors are bent on getting on the big side of the score this year. For four years they have been trying to do this and during that period, in 1925, they managed to stage a tie game, 6 to 6.

Coach Bible is going to take twenty-five players to Dallas and all of them will probably see service in the game. The Sewanee coaches are bringing thirty-three players as he has always been handicapped in the past games by lack of reserve strength.

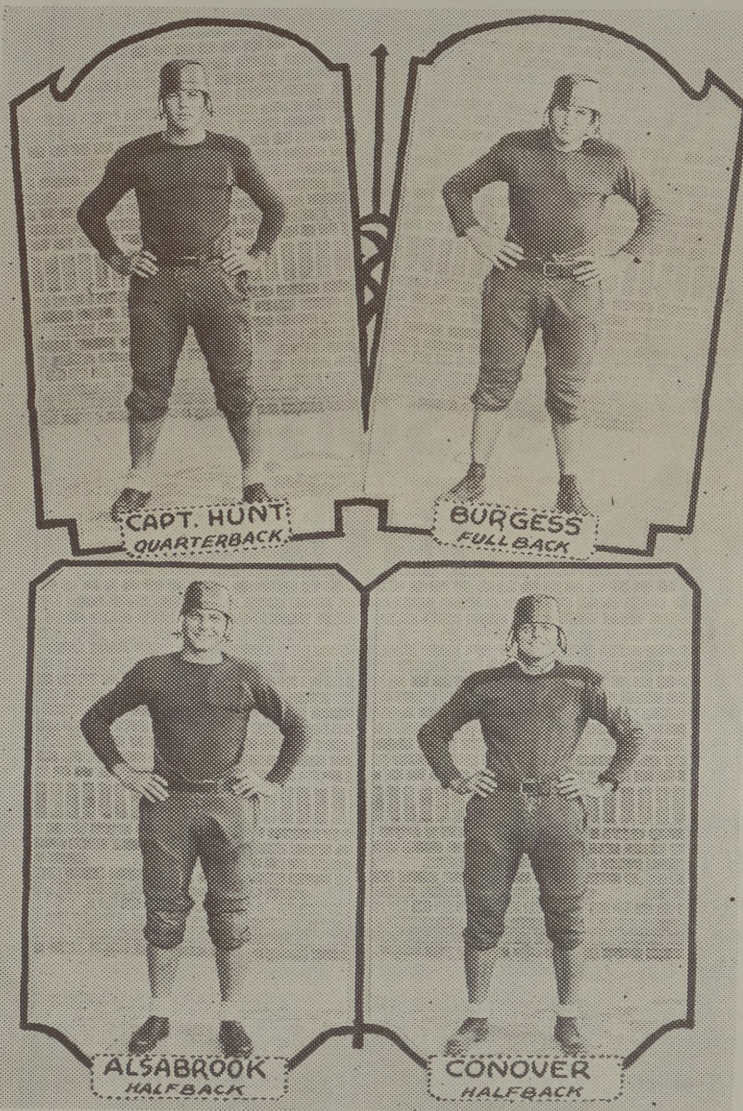

We notice by the Austin newspapers that the conference title will be decided in the Texas -S. M. U. game. According to one of the papers the Aggies have too weak a line to clear the way for the Four Horsemen in the backfield. That line did not look very weak in the Southwestern game.

Southwestern had a good opportunity to score once when the ball was on the one-yard line, but that Aggie line was in the way and the backfield proved their alertness by breaking up the Southwestern passes.

The Aggies showed a wonderful improvement over the previous week's performance. If the team continues to show the same improvement in each game we shall have another one of those 28-0 victories on Turkey Day.

Incidentally the Cadet Corps showed improvement also. It was behind the team just as strong at the finish

(Continued on Page 14)

The Aggie backfield that will start the Sewanee game. Varnell may start in place of Alsabrook.

SEWANEE COMES FOR VENGEANCE

Hailed as the Greatest Intersectional Classic of the Season. An Aerial Battle to be Main Feature.

The Texas Aggies will receive their first real competition of the season next Saturday in Dallas when they meet the Sewanee Tigers of the Tennessee mountains. Yearly this battle has been looked forward to by Aggie followers as it is from the result of this game that they make estimation of the teams strength. Each year in the past has produced favorable results, but from vague reports from the mountainous regions the result of this year's battle will be much more questionable than the previous ones.

For the past four years the Tigers have shown improvement, the scores being 14 to 0 in favor of the Farmers in 1923, the next year the Aggies had a tough battle but managed to win by the score of 7-0. In 1925 the Tigers clearly outplayed the Farmers and up to the last few minutes of the game had a six point lead, but the Aggies, assisted by that spirit of Aggieland and boy friend, the little group of Aggies that were there that memorable day WERE PUTTING IT OUT!—held them for downs and Dansby blocked a punt and raced for a touchdown, tying the score 6-6 as the last whistle blew. Last year was a near repetition of the year before. The Lucky Tigers had a new basketball, soccer, and football combination that puzzled Bible's disciples throughout the game and in the first few minutes of play they pulled a fluke kick, couldn't be called a drop-kick because it was fumbled and kicked squarely between the posts, hence the term of Lucky Tigers. Again in the last minute of the game the Farmers came from behind and won 6-3, little Joel Hunt got loose in midfield and ran through the entire Tiger team for a touchdown.

This year the Tigers are going to be harder to defeat than ever before. They consider that they have had a successful season if they defeat the Texas Aggies and this year they are spurred on by the past years' results and are determined "to chase the

(Continued on Page 14)

LAST WEEK'S CONFERENCE SCORES.

Arkansas 32 College of the Ozarks 0
 S. M. U. 32 Howard Payne 0
 A. & M. 31, Southwestern 0
 Baylor 20, Trinity 12
 Rice 20, Sam Houston Normal 13.
 Texas 0, T. C. U. 0.

WHERE THEY PLAY THIS WEEK.

S. M. U. vs. Centenary at Shreveport.
 Texas U. vs. Trinity at Austin.
 A. & M. vs. Sewanee at Dallas.
 Baylor vs. Arkansas at Fayetteville.
 T. C. U. vs. Texas Tech at Ft. Worth.
 Rice vs. St. Edwards at Houston.