

Scrip, successor to ink, makes all pens write better, and the Lifetime pen write best.

Identify the Lifetime pen by this white dot

What do you carry?

No matter how heavy a program you carry, the addition of a Lifetime pen will lighten it. Guaranteed to write—not for this school term merely, or until the four-year grind is done—but forever, as long as you live. It is the pen that spends the most days in the writing hand and the least in repair shops. It costs more because it is worth more. And the Titan pencil is a twin for dependable writing service. Both are favorites with college men and women everywhere.

"Lifetime" pen, $8.75    Lady "Lifetime", $7.50    Others lower
 "Lifetime" Titan oversize pencil to match, $4.25

LUNCHEON HELD FOR TEACHERS OF ENGINEERING

The first meeting of the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education was held in the Mess Hall Annex Tuesday, Oct. 11, at noon. A luncheon was had in place of the usual Tuesday afternoon conference. The local organization is a branch of the National Society, and has its meetings once a month, at which times problems related to the teaching of engineering are discussed.

Professor J. J. Richey, head of the Civil Engineering Department, is the local member of the National Council of the organization. After the luncheon Tuesday, particular attention was given to the discussion of engineering research.

O CRUEL WORLD!

The woman's slender body swayed back and forth as she gazed out upon the cold black night. She knew that in a moment the man would force her to leave her warm shelter and wander about in the cold of the sleet and snow.

Could her frail body withstand the impacts of the relentless December winds? She was terrified at the thought. Then the woman felt a cold blast of air and saw the man enter the room. He advanced toward her and placed a rough hand upon her shoulder. She gazed piteously into the stern face of the man who stood towering above her.

"Leave at once!" his deep harsh voice resounded; "this street car has reached the end of the line."
