PHYSICAL TRAINING.

An elective program in physical training which will permit the student to select some sport in which he is interested from a group of ten or more, is being introduced for the first time in the A. & M. College of Texas this year.

A four-fold purpose has been kept in mind in planning this elective program, according to W. L. Penberthy, associate professor of physical education and director of intramural sports, who will direct the work. The primary purpose is to allow the student to get the proper exercise in some sport in which he is interested. In addition it is intended to create an interest in sports among students, to teach them sports which they can play in the intramural contests during their college period, and to interest them in recreative activities which they will carry over into later life.

instructor in physical education, together with Mr. Penberthy, will instruct in the various sport classes.

The program, a comparatively new thing in physical training departments of schools of this state, will permit a student to take part in some game or athletic event for a period of about three months, at the end of which he will be given a chance to select the same or another sport for the second period. During the nine months of the school year the student will have the opportunity to become fairly proficient in three sports, although he may spend all nine months on the same sport if he so desires.

Sports which are offered for the term just opening are tennis, volleyball, handball, speedball, boxing, wrestling, basketball, cross country, tumbling and swimming. Basketball is offered in the fall term to those who expect to try for the varsity or freshman teams. Tumbling and swimming are open only to those students who are candidates for tumbling and swimming clubs.

During the second period, which will extend from January 1 to March 15, basketball, speedball, track, volleyball, tumbling, swimming, boxing and wrestling, with the possible addition of one or two other sports, will be open to all students, and in the third term, from March 15 to June 1, boxing, playground ball, volleyball, tennis, track, and swimming will be given.

In addition to classes in these sports there are classes open for the training of athletes who are interested in becoming teachers of physical education and for students who need corrective exercise because of some physical disability which prevents their taking part in the more strenuous games and exercises.

In the program outlined indoor sports are recommended for the winter and outdoor sports for the fall and spring. The physical training program includes all sports which are in the intramural sports program.

"Son, what are you doing home from school?"
 "We had a big fire down at school."
 "You did?"
 "Yeah, me and a couple of other guys were fired out."

SOCIAL SCIENCE SEMINAR HOLDS FIRST MEETING

Three Prominent Men to Be Brought Here During Year. V. K. Sugareff Elected President

At the opening banquet of the Social Science Seminar, given in the Mess Hall Annex Tuesday evening, October 11, the announcement was made that three well known writers and speakers, Will Durant, Lewis Browne, and Dr. Tsanott of Rice Institute, will be invited to appear this year on the campus, and lecture before the Science Seminar. These speakers will form a part of an extended program to be carried out by that organization this year, in an effort to bring to bear on the student body and their own group the best of intellectual influences obtainable.

After the banquet dinner had been
