

Progress through co-ordination

Getting out a college paper and making telephones have one point in common. Careful planning, persistent search for men and material, whole-hearted cooperation among the entire staff—that's the spirit that means better editing and more skilful telephone making.

This spirit is characteristic of every phase of telephone production at Western Electric. In the laboratory work, in machine design, in the cable plant and in every other department of the great factory—men are working together to set up new standards and to devise more exact methods of attaining those standards. The result is the inevitable improvement which marks this great industry.

prerogative was to enforce them. The parleying with faculty heads, however, resulted in revision of the students' demands to a mild semblance of their original form.

The petition now asks for discrimination between upper and lower classes in the rule governing dates, and revision of the rules regarding the maintenance of motor cars by students.

It is rumored that not a single hatless sheik is to be found among the forty men comprising the current season's football squad of the New York University, a team that is battling its way to high honors among the football teams of the east. An iron-clad rule—"Keep your hats on!"

—has been issued by Chick Meehan, who as coach for the N. Y. U. men, has been largely responsible for the remarkable football history made by that organization.

It seems that some of the football men, having observed other collegiate lads appearing on the street with nothing on the head but a slick hair-comb, had thoughtlessly done likewise. The result was an epidemic of coughs and sneezes, and some of the best men on the team were confined to bed. At the next football meeting the bomb was exploded. Said Chick, "Any sane and adult person, who wants to keep his health, ought to know enough to wear a hat out of doors. If these other lads want to plaster themselves with bear's grease and look like comic-strip sheiks, we can't stop them. But you can't do it and stay on this team!"

Chick meant it, too, and now any man appearing at training quarters without a hat "catches hell."

Is Love a Mental Paralysis?

"To be in love is to be mentally paralyzed," Dr. J. U. Yarborough of Southern Methodist University declared in his address at T. C. U. last Thursday night. "A man on trial for murder pleads that he acted in the heat of passion, and is granted clemency; a man pleads that he married in the heat of passion, and is not excused. Falling in love is as irrational as falling into anger."

Submission to emotion was denounced by the speaker as a barrier to intellectual activity and development. Emotional experience is usually not connected with the brain itself, he declared, as it is evidenced by the fact that dogs and cats will still express emotion after removal of the cerebrum.

First Survey of U. S. Land Grant Colleges to Be Made

Dean E. J. Kyle, of the school of agriculture, who was selected by the United States Bureau of Education as one of the six specialists to assist in the survey of land grant colleges authorized by the Sixty-Ninth Congress, has pointed out that this survey will be the first complete interpretative study of such institutions in the half century or more of their existence.

The selection of Dean Kyle as one of the specialists to assist in the survey is considered a signal recognition not only of the place of the A. and M. College in the ranks of land grant colleges, but of his work in agricultural education as well. The survey of the land grant colleges was authorized by Congress following the request of the Association of Land Grant Colleges and the Secretary of Agriculture. It provides for a study of the organization, administration, and work of the institutions and is being conducted officially by the Secretary of the Interior through the United States Bureau of Education. Congress made an initial appropriation of $117,000 for the survey.

The Y. M. C. A. is presenting Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Nov. 23-25, the picture, Ben Hur. This is one of the best shows of the season. Admission 35 and 50c.

The Y. M. C. A. is making an attempt to bring as good pictures as possible, and have on the program for December, Rookies, Frisco Salley Levy, and Legionaire. Stella Dallas will be the first L. C. Show after the Thanksgiving holidays.
