A. H. TEAM AWARDED MEDALS

Sixty Men Receive Medals for International Stock Judging Team

Tuesday evening the Saddle and Sirloin Club presented the International Stock Judging medals to the men making the team. The team was composed of W. S. Amend, J. M. Bird, T. G. Greenwade, H. E. Howard, R. R. Peeples, and N. E. Ryall. This was an exceptionally well balanced team and made a remarkable showing at the three contests in which they participated, namely: Wichita, Kansas City, and the International at Chicago. The much coveted Bronze Bull was not brought back, but it was not taken by any other school, as permanent property, either; so A. & M. still has as good a chance to win as any one else.

The medals were presented by Mr. D. W. Williams, head of the A. H. department. Mr. Williams told of some particular secrets that each man wanted to keep, before handing the medal to the man to whom it was to be awarded; this made the occasion a very humorous one, for the happenings of the trip had been kept very close heretofore. The Saddle and Sirloin Club is very proud of the men that made the team, for it was truly a representative group.

BIBLE LEAVES FOR RULES COMMITTEE MEET

D. X. Bible, director of Athletics, left here Tuesday for New York, where he will represent the Southwest in the meeting of the National Football Rules Committee. Tuesday evening he was the guest of the Waco A. & M. Club, at a banquet given in his honor. In accordance with plans, he left Ft. Worth Wednesday morning for New York.

With but few exceptions, the Rules for 1928, which are to be set by this committee, will be very much the same as they are at present, according to all reports.

SPECIAL SHOWS DURING MID-TERM HOLIDAYS

Plenty of entertainment is promised those who choose or who find it necessary to stay on the campus during the mid-term holidays. The "Y" will have a series of good pictures in the Assembly Hall, and there will be three dances in the Mess Hall Annex.

The picture for Wednesday is "Beau Geste," with Ronald Coleman and Alice Joyce. An especially good program is offered for Thursday, Clara Bow in "It," followed by the first of the One Buttonneers' annual dances.

The pictures in the Assembly Hall for Friday and Saturday are "Drums of the Desert" with Warner Baxter and Ford Sterling, and "The Birth of a Nation." Don't forget that the Barnyard Dance and a Corps Dance come on these same nights.

PANDEMONIUM BREAKS LOOSE

Fanned by a stiff north breeze and the panting exhalations of half the cadet corps, a burning combination cow shed and poultry roost, together with the strong arm of the power plant engineer, Friday night served as the flaming sensation of the year at Aggieland.

BOWERY DANCE TONIGHT

"Oh the Bowery, the Bowery, We won't go there any more."

But they will, Thursday evening, from 9 till 2, when the Ancient and Royal Order of One Buttonneers give their first dance. The costumes are all to be taken from Bowery and Apache types, and the Toughs from the Hobohemia of Old New Yawk will mingle peaceably with the Big Bad Bozos from Chicago. Music for the struggle is to be furnished by the Aggieland Orchestra.

The One Buttonneers, the big strong silent men of the campus, who are so strong and silent they can't even be prevailed upon to give many orders, will be there in full force, and through their kindness, members of the Junior class are also to be granted admittance. Sophomores who have dates here may also bring them, but they may not come as stags.

Hizzoner, Henry Grammer, Chancellor of the Exchequer, states that anyone desiring to purchase bids before the dance may secure them from him at 7 Hollywood—for two dollars. Bids may also be purchased at the entrance on the evening of the affair.

A midnight luncheon is to be served, through the courtesy of Mr. Duncan.

SCHATTENBURG AND SERVELLO GIVEN BANQUET BY FELLOW CLUB MEMBERS

Amidst wild applause that cracked the plaster on the roof of dear old Sbis Hall, and also amidst the usual song of the soup, or vocal attainments reached by the cadets in their soup guzzling attempts, G. A. "Gus" Schattenburg and T. A. "Angel" Servello were honored by their fellow waiters with a banquet Tuesday night at the usual mealtime. Servello and Schattenburg are admittedly Deans of the School of Waiting at the Texas Athletic and Military College.

The festive board was attractively decorated with the most exquisite wood and paper effect which shed a mellow glow over the whole room. G. I. Terrell, lending his artistic tastes to the occasion, graced the room as the toastmaster.

After appropriate words had been spoken by many, the incomparable Gus arose. Unaccustomed as he was to public speaking, or speaking of any kind, he made a noble effort—an
