

buyer working for a group of mills was sent to New York to watch the cotton market and after a few days' deliberations wired his firm to this effect: 'Some think it will go up, some think it will go down. I do, too. Whatever you do will be wrong. Act at once.'

"Cotton is planted in the spring, mortgaged in the summer and left in the field in winter."

OLDER BOYS' CONFERENCE

general meetings and the group discussions. Each general session opened with a song service under the leadership of R. S. Tate, General Secretary of the San Antonio Y. M. C. A. Secretaries of the "Y's" of different cities of the state led the discussion groups, in which the boys could bring up any subject that interested them.

After the banquet Saturday night, at which Dean Charles E. Friley presided, the boys were given a free show in the Assembly Hall. Included in the entertainment during the conference were stunts by groups, songs, yells, and a visit over the campus, through the various departments of the college. And, while it was not on the official program, there was plenty of entertainment with pillow and water fights.

All of the boys had a good time and a helpful time. The discussion groups furnished instruction and inspiration. Many of the boys were heard expressing a desire to come back sometime.

ANNUAL SHORT COURSE.

1927, when between 3000 and 3500 people were present, is expected for the 1928 gathering. Two new dormitories now being erected at the college will be finished soon and as these will add 216 dormitory rooms to accommodations on the campus, the college will be better equipped for handling short course visitors.

Swating Song

Mary Mullins, lovely lass,
Had a fall and hurt herself,
Now she wears a skirt of brass—
Clever, scheming little elf!
Wasn't it a horrid shame?
Isn't it a bit unkind?
That this charming little dame
Had to land on—never mind.

He is assured of the highest possible grade for his grain, which means a higher price, because he can thresh every year when his grain is plump, sound and of good color. The Case steel machine threshes fast, cleans the grain and reduces dockage.

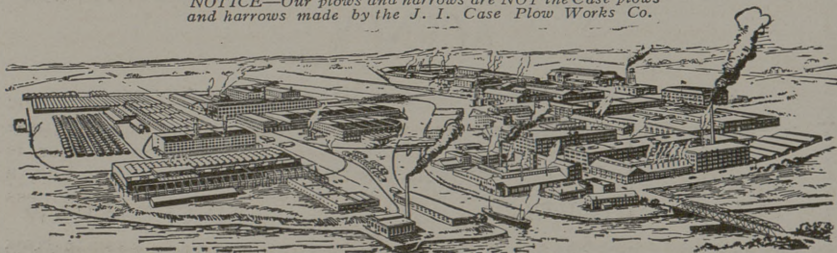

Being simple, light running and of large capacity, it effects a great saving in power and labor cost. This makes it economical to operate.

The cost per year of service is low because Case steel construction, developed by years of experience, makes the machine extremely durable.

This is Case efficiency, built into every Case machine. This is why the earning capacity of Case threshers is highest under all conditions.
