the Conference. The Porkers have found time to schedule three games with the Texans. Texas took the Gentlemen in camp last week and T. C. U. will attempt the same trick in Shreveport this week. On October 26, Baylor makes another trip to Centenary and then on Nov. 16 Arkansas meets them on their home lot.

Did you know that the Aggies faced a complete blonde backfield when they played Tulane last week.

DROP-DICKS

Only one of Matty's teams has ever met that of his friendly rival, that being back in '23 when Centenary trounced the Christians 21-0. It was Bell's first year as mentor at T. C. U.

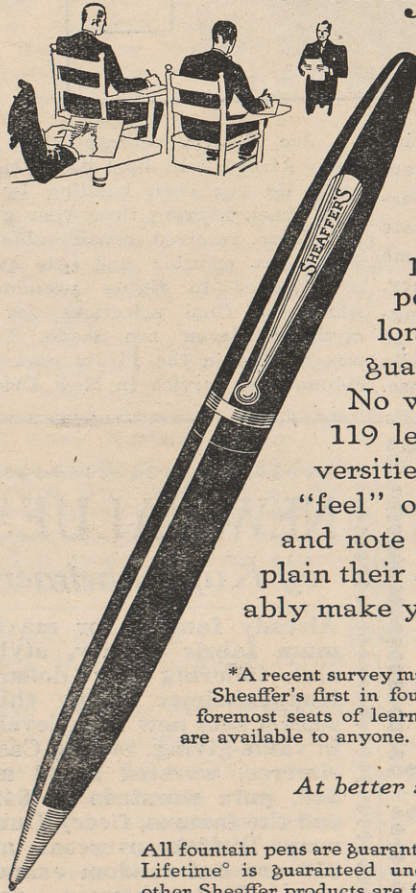

The Tulane "Pep" squad is the closest thing that this writer has seen that can come close to the Aggies as 12th men. These staunch backers of the Green Wave seldom took their seats, in fact, the deluge of water could not make them sit down, much less leave the stadium for shelter. Another interesting thing noted was the fact that about half of the end seats were filled by high school and grade children who had their own yell leaders and were making enough noise to be heard over the Aggies and Tulane's outbursts of enthusiasm.

"When in Rome, do as the Romans do" may be old and trite, but had the Aggies adhered to the principles of the River Folks they would not have had to stand in a barrel until their suits were dried. Never before a Texan's eyes have so many umbrellas been flashed in one place. One moment the whole huge Tulane stands was one mass of humans, and the next, nothing but umbrellas, the entire Tulane side being completely covered.

The Centenary Gentlemen, powerful Louisiana team that has been knocking at the Southwestern door for the last few years, continues to schedule games with the teams of this conference. Last year they knocked a couple of the big timers of Texas down, the Aggies being one of the sufferers. This year they will meet four of the Southwest teams, this being more than the University of Arkansas meets and they are in
