

1930

Let's make it the Best Year
of our lives with plenty of hard, conscientious

SLANTS AT THE CROWD

waited for the unfortunate to break their necks when they fell down the Mess Hall steps. No necks, fortunately, were broken but other parts of our anatomy received punishment. The farmer boys, at the present time, are praying for more ice—they can save money for amusing themselves by not going to the movies, but skating and slipping on the ice deliriously.

If all of the clever remarks that were heard in the Assembly Hall

Saturday night could be put into a paper-backed joke book and offered for sale, no doubt it would soon be the "Book of the Month." One could hardly read the sub-titles for listening to the wit of the well-meaning young gentlemen. It was appreciated by the whole audience and sounded great. It would have sounded better, however, on the middle of the Atlantic ocean. Everyone is cordially invited to the Assembly Hall Wednesday night where, in addition to the feature picture, "The Pagan," you can hear the latest (and most foolish) of college cracks. Be on time or you will miss part of it.

1855 • SEVENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY • 1930

Measuring the progress of 75 years

From small shops to vast factories . . . from blacksmith's forge to six-ton electric furnaces . . . from Joule's theory of heat to superheat . . . from guesswork to science . . . from waste to economy—these hint the revolution in industry since 1855.

The growth of Crane Co. through these years is a significant reflection of the growth of all industry. From a one-man shop founded three-quarters of a century ago, it has grown to a world organization, meeting in its own factories the power and production problems that have faced other manufacturers. Supplying the piping materials that have released power, effected economies, and increased production everywhere, it has of necessity met and solved piping problems as they have arisen in all industries.

Now in its 75th anniversary year, it serves all industries with the materials developed, the knowledge and experience gained. To engineering students, its customers of the future, it offers a valuable reference book and research manual on metal reactions under high pressure and superheat: "Pioneering in Science." Write for it.
