partment; N. F. Rode of the Electrical Engineering, and Ernest Langford of the Architectural Departments.

The business staff of the "Technoscope" includes L. B. Dunlap, business manager; E. R. Rankin and W. O. Ray, as associate business managers; W. D. Staples and J. Burks, as assistant business managers.

In charge of the circulation of the magazine will be J. M. Tommie, Jr. manager, and E. C. Miller as his associate in the task.

The art staff is composed of the largest number of representatives, J. L. Keith being the head and the associate head of this department.

This list includes only the senior members; each of these however, has a junior assistant or is desiring one. The staff as a whole is also desirous of obtaining junior members in order to have a competent senior staff for the four publications next year and they wish the point to be stressed that anyone interested in such work for the benefits they derive therefrom should let such be known to some member of the staff listed above.

The Executive Board of the publication is the same as the Executive Committee for Engineers Day and are the presidents of the many student engineering societies on the campus.

The first and only issue of the "Technoscope" for the 1930 class will be for sale on Engineers' Day and the fifty-page edition will sell for twenty-five cents.

of the Dairy Department of the Fat Stock Show.

The dairy judging contest was organized by Mr. Darnell in 1923, and since that time Texas A. and M. has won every contest except two. One set of the permanent trophies offered now rests at A. and M. Oklahoma A. and M. and Texas A. and M. have each won the second set twice, and a win by either this year means permanent possession of the coveted cups.

Four teams are already entered in the contest, Oklahoma, Louisiana, New Mexico and Texas are all represented. Over two hundred and fifty dollars is offered in cash prizes in addition to the beautiful trophies.

each edition but the classes of the last two years have proven that by dint of hard work the publication will not only pay for itself but will place a nice surplus in the class treasury as well.

A woman in Los Angeles won a battle royal for the recovery of a cigar stub thrown away by former president Calvin Coolidge.

She put the stub in her hand bag and hurried away without giving her name to reporters who rushed to get it.

Typing by wire—an adventure in communication

The telephone typewriter, a new Bell System service, has commercial possibilities as yet barely realized.

Forexample, a business house can type-write a message over telephone wires, and this is retyped instantaneously and simultaneously in any number of branch offices. The advantage is obvious—in knitting together far-flung organizations and in quickening the pace of business.

Here is still another extension of telephone service which has already proved its value. The telephone typewriter promises even greater things as industry discovers new uses for this instrument of convenient communication.
