The stars are not always invisible in the day time. If a person stands at the bottom of a dark hole and looks straight up at the sky in broad daylight, he can see the stars shining brightly.

THE TAKING OF CELIA

"Such obscene veniality"
Was the pretty maid's retort,
"Why, what, when, where—
It warn't nothing of tha sort!"

Such impecuniosity
And overweening pride,
Your boundless overconfidence
Is what we girls deride.

Your ego and your person,
We are only passing thrills,
Why you booming, braying donkey,
Cawn't you see we're more than frills

"Aw say sister, I don't getcha,
If one kiss hurts you like that,
My god what would a hug do,
I better get my hat."

"Why cawn't you sit and converse Intellectuallike a while Find there's more to life than petting,
More to girls than just a smile?"

"Dawgonnit woman, looka here,
You talk like Bloody Morgan.
Emote, and rave, and rant, and shout,
Just like a wheezy organ."

"Oh have you read that awful book?
The name is 'Elmer Gantry,' I hid it from the folks at home and Read it in the pantry."

"Your pretty eyes, just like the skies,
Your throat, like plastic marble."
In six months time we find the lad
Had so learned how to warble.

In the dark their soul communes,
And when their breath runs hot,

Its closer love, Oh closer, closer,
And not that touch me not.

And when the song the Sirens sang
Is whispered in her ear
It's obscene veniality,
Is quite forgot I fear.

RIGHT FORMATION.

The football game was over and at the parlor grate
A maid and long-haired youth were lingering rather late.
They talked of goals and touchdowns, but found it rather tame, Till Cupid put his nose-guard on and butted in the game.
Quoth he, "It's mighty funny if I don't arrange a match,
So he lined the couple up, and made them toe the scratch.
The youth was growing nervous,
'neath the weight of new-found
bliss,

And he kinda thought the scrimmage ought to end up with a kiss.
He charged upon the center, he tackled left and right,
And the way they held that chair
for downs was simply out of sight.
He tried an osculation, just an amateur affair,
But lost it on a fumble and instead it struck the air.

Then as he landed on his ear, he heard the maiden say,
"You're penalized for holding, Pete;
likewise for offside play."
With set teeth he tried another;
this time succeeded fine,
For he scored an easy touchdown on the crimson two-inch line.
And as they sat there by the grate,
communing soul to soul,
The parlor door swung open and father kicked the goal.
