

Aggies Determined—

 showings made last Saturday by Pete Hewitt, left half; Walter Davis, right half; and Harry Stiteler, 137 pound ball totter, who sprang into prominence with his running and passing game at quarter, it is probable that these changes will remain permanent.

In the event that Captain Bull Floyd should be unable to enter the game because of an injured knee received in the Centenary game, it is likely that the position of fullback will fall to Jelly Woodman, who has alternated with Floyd most of the season.

George Lord, flashing sophomore guard, sustained an injured ankle as a result of the recent game, but is expected to be in shape for the opening kick-off.

Although the Mustangs haven't recovered from their 25-7 licking at the hands of the Longhorns last Saturday, they will be in shape for the Aggies. Incidentally, that defeat is the worst they have suffered since the 39-13 defeat on Kyle Field in 1927.

This season the Mustangs were rated as having the best shot at the conference title, but a tie and a loss have knocked them from the running. However, the Ponies have a powerful, ever-dangerous team that is not to be overlooked for a second. Their passing combination of Gilbert and Koontz is one of the best in the conference, while Weldon Mason is a ball carrier of very well-known ability.

 yard line, and romped through the entire Aggie team for a run of 96 yards and touchdown. Centenary missed a chance to win the game by inches when an attempted field goal in the fourth quarter went under the bar.

Harry Stiteler and Pete Hewitt found themselves in this game, tearing through the opposition line almost at will for nice gains. Rube Tracy played one of the greatest games of his career at end, while Lord, Moore, and Hornsby, guards; Abbey, center, and Magrill and Moulden were shining lights in the rest of the line. McFadden kept up his record punting, and got one off for 62 yards in the third quarter.

The new backfield combination of Stiteler, Hewitt, Floyd, Davis, and Woodman played almost perfect ball throughout the game, and proved themselves to be the most effective crew of this season.

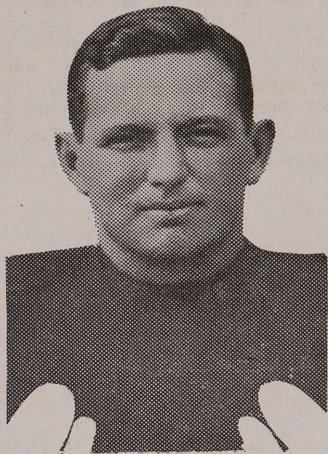

George Lord and Captain Bull Floyd were taken from the game because of injuries, but will probably be back in the game for the coming contest with S M U.

 championship climax yet but there is a great deal of enthusiasm being shown over it. Last Sunday there was an extremely closely contested game between Battery A and Company C, Engineers. At the end of the game the score was tied 12 to 12. Five extra periods were played, one after the other with still no change in the score. The game was called on account of darkness and the tie will be played off at a later date.

All except one league in Class "B" has finished their playings. Company A, Infantry; Company H, Infantry; and Troop D, and the winner of League C will play for the championship of the "B" class in the near future.

INJURED

DANSBY

An injury to his shoulder will likely keep Dansby out of the game the remainder of the season. Coming just when the stocky little quarter was looking his best, the injury is an unusually tough break for the Bryan boy.

SCRAPPY GUARD

MOORE

"Bus the Mighty" turned in what was probably the best game of his college career against the Centenary Gentlemen last week. Fans may have seen ball-toters get hit just as hard, but never any harder than the hefty Aggie guard was cracking them.

ALL-SOUTHWEST MATERIAL

TRACY

The sterling play of Tracy against the Centenary Gents last week, both on the offense and defense, marks him as one of the outstanding contenders for an all-conference wing berth this year.

March 8-14, University of Maine; March 15-21, University of California of Los Angeles.

In order that the college may have a permanent record of the team's achievement, the national intercollegiate trophy cup won last year has been sent to Washington, D. C., for duplication.

 held, and organization attempted on the Monday after the holidays.

There is a possibility that Captain Bull Floyd will be out for the rest of the season with an injured knee, hurt in the last game. Bull's loss to the team would be a hard blow, for his fighting aggressiveness is one of the mainstays of the team.

 made a sensational 47 yard return, thus placing the ball on Allen's 3 yard line. Domingue was hurt in the play and was replaced by Brown. After two line plunges by Barfield and Spencer had placed the ball on Allen's 1 yard line, Brown went around end for the touchdown and Spencer converted for the extra point.

Domingue's 47 yard return of the punt, a 37 yard run around end and a 20 yard run off tackle, coupled with a 37 yard run by Barfield, former high school team mate of Domingue, were the features of the game.

Rudder, center; Von Minden, tackle, and Roberts, Murray, and Watson, ends, featured in the freshman line. Allen, quarter, and Lewis, half, turned in an excellent game for the Allen eleven. Every man on "A" squad took part in the game, the total number used by Coach Higginbotham, freshman coach, being 32.
