

FRESHMAN—

Coach Higginbotham and Walter Ewell had charge of A squad, B squad was coached by Anderson and Dutch Dillingham, and C squad was under the instruction of Red Dorsey. The A squad was composed of the best material of the fish team.

The team as a whole has gone through a fairly successful year. It is balanced and strong in every position, and should cause much competition next year among the varsity for a place on the team. Three games were played during the year.

They won from Bryan High, 19-0; and from Allen Academy, 9-0; and lost one to Brownsville Junior College, 19-0.

B SIGNAL—

B Signal Corps forward. Floyd scored 8 of his team's 16 points, six of which were made from near the center of the floor. The other two were the result of foul shots. L. P. Morgan, also of the Signal Corps played an excellent game, while A. C. Doche starred for the losers.

In the class B championship tilt, H. M. Starcke was the main cog in the Company H scoring machine, being credited with 14 of the 23 points scored by his team. R. E. Barfield, also of Company H, and B. F. Carter of the Signal Corps were the other outstanding men.

With the playing of these games the 1930 intramural basketball season was brought to a close.

GOAL!

FOURTH down! Seconds to play! Defending a slender one-point margin of victory, eleven husky bodies have valiantly repulsed three smashing attacks which have advanced the ball a scant foot to the fifteen-yard line. With success almost certainly within the defender's grasp, the field goal specialist drops far back behind his stalwart line. A crashing impact — a blur of rushing bodies — and his nimble foot sends the ball high between the goal posts for the winning points!

Shift this scene to a battle ground of modern business. The goal is an important contract . . . a substantial order for equipment or appliances. Salesmanship, backed by a product of established quality, plays its important part; but a Westinghouse representative is more than a salesman. The background of specialized engineering skill that enables him to serve his customers as a consultant in electrification is what supplies the necessary "punch" to win.

To many a younger college man with Westinghouse has come the opportunity to apply his talent toward the conclusion of a worthwhile transaction. The young men whose photographs appear on this page are but a few of the many who, with college only a few years behind them, are finding success with an organization offering such a variety of opportunities in the world's electrical work.
