

Then there was the owner of the campus laundry who, when he found all the buttons torn off his shirts called himself up, gave himself a bawling out and refused to pay his bill.

—Punch Bowl.

Co-ed—Oh, darling it thrills me to know you love me so much. How can you live without me?

Ed—Cheaper.

—Pup.

Yes, I heard a noise and got up in my nightgown, and there under the bed I saw a man's leg.

Good heavens! The burglar's?

No, my husband's; he heard the noise, too.

—Jester.

He—I go swimming every morning without a bathing suit.

She—That's nothing.

He—I'd like to see you do it.

—Longhorn.

Cop—What is your trade?

Arrest—I'm a locksmith.

Cop—Well what were you doing in that saloon?

Arrest—When you came in I was making a bolt for the door.

—Pup.

Dancer—The dancing instructor showed me something new today.

Boy Friend—Is that right?

Dancer—No, but it's lots of fun.

—Rice Owl.

Cora—You were a darling to ask me down.

Carl—Quite.

Cora—Who are you going to have down to the next Prom?

Carl—I think I'll have somebody get me a "blind" date.

Cora—Why?

Carl—I don't trust my own judgment any longer.

—Tiger.

I let my hands slide over the cool contour. This must lead to something. What would be the consequence? Heaven help me. I groped on further. My brow became feverish—my fingers grew numb. Finally, I reached a bump. Congratulations! At last I had found that damned bed room light!

—Bison.

Once—Was he surprised when you told him you wanted to marry his daughter?

Twice—Was he? The gun nearly fell out of his hand.

—Rice Owl.

Some claim that the shortest story in the world is "Adam had 'em." But an even shorter story is, "Eve had it."

—Lampoon.

Flap—Did they bury your old man when he died?

Jack—Naw; they poured him back in de barrel.

—Yale Record.

Kind sir, will you hold my baby for a moment?

Well, lady, it depends. Is it a Democrat or a Republican?

—Kitty Kat.

Quick doctor, do something! I was playing a mouth organ and swallowed it.

Keep calm, sir, and be thankful you weren't playing a piano.

—The Log.

"Watt's my name and i'm sticking to it."
