The way to increase a vocabulary is very like the way to increase your personal acquaintance. Put yourself in the way of meeting as many different phases of expression as you can—read widely, talk with clever people — and whenever you come across a new word or expression train yourself so far as possible to understand it, just as you would train yourself to classify and remember people you meet, gentle and vulgar, good, bad or indifferent.—Barrett Wendell.

Investigate Secret Society At Okla. U.

NORMAN, Okla.—Once more the authorities of the University of Oklahoma are investigating into the activities of a secret order on the campus, known since its organization in 1907 as The D D M C.

For years the purpose of the organization seemed to be that of playing harmless campus pranks, but in 1918 the society set out to prevent cheating in examinations. A few years later when the society, masked, was attempting to discipline a student, he shot two of its members. University authorities immediately outlawed the order.

But the secret order seems to have flourished in spite of the authorities.

In 1925 Lee Thompson, leader of the secret order, and now the son-in-law of President W. B. Bizzell, was beaten up by a student being disciplined. Thompson was arrested and convicted of breaking the state anti-mask law, and was sentenced to pay a fine of $500 and to a term in jail. His fine later was reduced to $50 and his prison sentence suspended by Gov. Trapp.

Recently a sophomore, Sam Kaplan, was flogged by the organization and the university is stirred up once more.

Man Not Final Word In Evolutionary Process

CLEVELAND, O.—There is no reason for believing that man is the last word in evolution, Julian Huxley, English scientist, said here in a recent address.

"There is no reason for not thinking," he said, "that something may evolve out of man as far superior to man as man is superior to goldfish."

A photo of the human embryo which Huxley used showed a very marked tail curling down its back.

"Even William Jennings Bryan probably had a tail when he was that age," Huxley said.

Huxley is a son of the famous Thomas Huxley, and brother of Aldous Huxley.

The scientist said that the earth has now existed about half its allotted existence, or namely 2,000,000,000 years. Showing what has happened to the human race in a century, he challenged his audience to judge what might happen in two billion years more.

Girls Suggest Riots As Publicity Stunts

NEW YORK—That an occasional riot in the public would be a good manner of attracting money to the college is the belief of the Bulletin, undergraduate publication of Barnard College for Women here.

"If we, by bursting the bonds of convention, can gain a little profitable publicity," the Bulletin said, "let us imitate the noble example our brothers have set for us . . . Let us be Amazons, oh my sisters! Let us riot—in the public eye."

Albert S. Tousley, of St. Paul, Minn. traveling secretary of Delta Chi, now retiring, declares that so long as alumni drink, fraternity men will drink and make no bones about it.

Sport experts are declaring that this year's football team at the University of Utah is the best ever put in the field by a Rocky Mountain Conference team. The team is seeking intersectional games for next year.

You can become as well educated as you like in America without spending a cent.—McInnes.

We must always beware of simply substituting a new and possibly worse tyranny for an old, as has so often happened in the sad annals of human progress.—Howard Madison Parshley.

The teacher is justified by his scholars.—Christopher Morley.

Road Trip Proves—

Moody both turned in excellent games. The final score was 47-35.

Staging a strong finish, the Texas Aggie cagers came from behind to win the first game played with the San Marcos Teachers on the academy floor 23-20. It was the first defeat of the season for the Bobcats. In the first period the San Marcos boys held an advantage over the Aggies, with the score being 14-9 at the half. The Maroon and White jerseyed team came back after the half to even up the score and went into the lead in the final minutes of play. Beau Bell was outstanding with his defensive work. Veltman led the Aggie scoring, gathering 8 points, and followed by Bell with 7 points. The score at the end was 23-20.

The second game, held Saturday night, was a more decided A & M victory, although the Bobcats were ahead at the half with a 17-16 score. As in the preceding game, the Aggies came back strong to roll up a 38-25 victory. In practically every game thus far played, the Maroon and White has waited until the closing minutes to break loose and run up the score. In this game Captain Shiro Hoke led the scoring with 12 points, Bell was second with 10. Again, Veltman was outstanding with his defensive playing and goal shooting ability.

Conference Basketball--

Frogs their greatest chance of all times.

The Rice Owls are stronger than last year, and are rated in the contender class. The feathered tribe is in the same position as the Frogs, having a number of promising sophomores on the team. Blake Sellers, sophomore center, showed up well during the recent Rice invasion of the Mid-west where they gathered three out of the four games played. Ray Hart, forward, is reported to be a goal shooter with unerring aim.

The Southern Methodist Mustangs and Baylor University are of rather unknown quality, both being about the same strength as last year. Thus far this season, the Ponies have lost but three games, and two of them were to the powerful Oklahoma quintet.

The Owls meet the Mustangs in Dallas Friday night, and the T C U Horned Frogs the next night in Dallas for the only other conference games scheduled.

In all the Southland there is no state more favored by nature as a harbor for wild game than Mississippi, the American Game Protective Association reports.

At Virginia and Kentucky . . . down where tobacco grows college men choose this one outstanding SMOKING TOBACCO

THE men who go to the universities of Virginia and Kentucky know tobacco . . . they see how it grows and what makes it good.

So when Virginia students, and the men who stroll down old South Limestone Street in Lexington, pack their pipes with Edgeworth, their choice tells volumes about the cool, slow-burning quality of this favorite smoking tobacco.

It's the same story everywhere—North, South, East and West. In 42 out of 54 leading colleges and universities, college men prefer the smooth, fragrant burley blend of Edgeworth. Try Edgeworth yourself. You'll find more pleasure in a pipe than you ever knew before. Every tobacco store has Edgeworth, 15¢ the tin. Or, for generous free sample, write to Larus & Bro. Co., 105 S. 22d St., Richmond, Va.

EDGEWORTH SMOKING TOBACCO

Edgeworth is a blend of fine old burleys, with its natural savor enhanced by Edgeworth's distinctive eleventh process. Buy Edgeworth anywhere in two forms—"Ready-Rubbed" and "Plug Slice." All sizes, 15¢ pocket package to pound humidior tin.
