Sullivan, an untiring worker in the cause of Aggieland." That is exactly the way the student body feels towards Sully.

It will be many a moon before a man can be found who is able to handle the business end of athletics as well as he has. And it will be longer still until a man is found who will have the love and respect of student body as he does. Wherever he goes, and what ever he does, he will always be remembered for "his untiring work in the cause of Aggie-land."

Some idea of the esteem in which Sully was held by sports scribes all over the state may be gained from the following editorial comment:

"It was with real regret we learned Jimmy Sullivan had resigned as business manager of athletics at Texas A & M college.

"In our opinion you could search this country over and not find a more capable business manager of athletics than Jimmy Sullivan. The part he played in building for the Aggies one of the most complete athletic plants in the South stamped him an executive of notable ability.

"Reports from Dallas stated Sullivan's resignation was caused largely by pressure exerted by the State Fair Association of Texas, following his severance of football relations with that group.

"We hate to believe that story. We can't believe the members of the athletic council of Texas A & M College are weak-kneed enough to sacrifice Jimmy Sullivan on such a flimsy pretext.

"Athletics in this state have come to a pretty pass if an outside organization can tell a great state school who shall run its athletics.

"We believe that the Aggie athletic council should tell the sport fans of the state just why Mr. Sullivan felt impelled to tender his resignation, and why his resignation was accepted." — Lloyd Gregory in The Houston Post-Dispatch.

"Sullivan is recognized as one of the most astute managers of college athletics in the South. It is chiefly to him that the College Station school owes the modern athletic plant it boasts today. The plant . . . was produced without a cent of state appropriation and without a drive such as the University of Texas staged among ex-students to build Memorial Stadium."—Victor Emmanuel, The Galveston News.

wildering the First Artillery with a strong running and passing attack, which enabled them to twice cross the Artillery's goal line. The Engineers proved themselves equally effective on the defensive when, after fumbling on their own 2-yard line, on which the Wagon Soldiers recovered, four attempts to score were thwarted by the near immovable Engineer forward wall.

A forty-yard run by Billimek, Second Infantry fullback, after intercepting a long pass, turned what appeared to be a tie game into victory for the Second Infantry, Monday afternoon, when they downed the Cavalry 6 to 0. The game was close from the start, although the Infantrymen had a slight edge and several times carried the ball deep into their opponent's territory but were never able to carry it across. The Cavalry made only one serious threat to score, that in the last minute of play. A fumble ended that chance.

Most PRINCETON men smoke—

If you walk along Prospect Street in Princeton you'll notice how many men load their pipes from the familiar blue Edgeworth tin. At Senior Singing on the steps of Nassau Hall this spring the pipes will glow with Edgeworth.

A pipe and Edgeworth—this is the smoking combination that has won the college man. Yale, Dartmouth, Cornell, Illinois, Stanford . . . all agree with Princeton.

College men everywhere respond to the appeal of pipes—packed with cool, slow-burning Edgeworth. Be guided by their choice: Try Edgeworth yourself. Taste its rich natural savor that is enhanced immeasurably by Edgeworth's distinctive eleventh process.

You will find Edgeworth at your nearest tobacco shop—15¢ the tin. Or, for generous free sample, address Larus & Bro. Co., 105 S. 22d St., Richmond, Va.
