Twenty-five Men Report For Spring Basketball

Spring basketball, with twenty-five candidates, most of them squadmen and intramural stars of last season reporting for the initial workout to Coach John Reid, was begun early this week.
 Of the four returning lettermen from last season, three will be on hand for the spring practice before the end of the week. They are Charlie Beard, guard and captain elect for 1932; Clarence Marcum, another guard and J. C. Moody, forward. Lester Veltman, stellar guard of last season, will not take part in the spring training because of baseball.
 From the seven freshmen numeralmen, only three will be available for the extra practice sessions. They are C. O. Dalton, F. L. Webb and R. L. Murray. Three of them, Clifford Domingue, J. E. Robertson and C. L. Cobb are playing football, while C. M. White is trying for a numeral in baseball.

Students Hold Mock League Of Nations

WELLESLEY, Mass.—The "Mock" assembly of the League of Nations here recently, attended by 500 students from 30 New England colleges and universities, took the following action:
 Refused admission of Russia to the League, although the Norway delegation spoke for the Soviet.
 Saw the Italian delegation walk out in a body because Russia was not allowed in.
 Defeated the Brian "United States of Europe" plan following a brilliant speech against the proposal by Miss Helen Kirkpatrick, of Smith, leader of the English delegation.
 Received a telegram from George W. Wickersham, chairman of President Hoover's Law Enforcement Commission, congratulating the students upon their meeting.
 "Your intelligent and active interest is an asset to your country," Wickersham said.

and G. Hutchinson.
 The completion of these two sports leaves only golf, swimming, boxing and wrestling, track, and playground ball on the intramural program for the remainder of the current school year. The intramural golf tournament entering into the third round already, is well underway, while the finalists in wrestling have been determined and the initial bouts in the boxing tournament were held early this week. The final wrestling matches will be held Saturday night, April 11, along with the final boxing bouts as a feature of the ex-students reunion April 11 and 12.

and baseball games. Standing over six feet, and weighing over two hundred pounds, he placed fourth in a freshman hundred yard dash competition. His best performance is in the weights however, as he is easily the outstanding weight man on the field.

H. E. Laird, Plainview, and his twin, D. C., are both outstanding in their events. H. E. Laird is the most promising dash man, running it in 10:1, and his brother leads in the quarter milers.

In the runs, Fish H. Fuentes, Saltillo, Mexico, and C. D. Long, Roscoe, are most promising. Fuentes is an outstanding runner, holding a national record in the half and having given several exhibition runs. He ran a 1:58 in the half at Houston last year. Fish Long is very capable in the mile, fulfilling a long felt want on the Aggie track team.

Freshman T. B. Hamilton and Hester are the leading pole vaulters, each doing around 11:6. J. W. Herring looks best in the hurdles at the present time.

Student Golf Tourney At College Heights

Winners of a place on one of the three teams selected from the tournament held Saturday and Sunday at the College Heights golf course will be given prizes and awards, the management of the course announced early this week. Participants in the contest will be divided into three groups, the first prize will be given winners in each division. Students will shoot 18 holes for a place on the company team; professors and those connected with the college will strive for a place on their team, and a team open to the general public will compose the entrants.
 Following the qualifying rounds Saturday and Sunday, much interest will be taken in the results of the contest which will follow. The winning team over 72 holes of competition will get individual golf bags for the members, and the low score member of the team will be given a leather golf bag, valued at $25.00.
 All scores will be posted, and through later competition those that fail to make the team will be given a chance to try again.

Co-Captains Popular At Texas Christian

FORT WORTH.—For the third time within a period of three months, Texas Christian athletes have chosen two leaders to captain Horned Frog teams. The third double captaincy was voted when the track team elected Don Nugent, Maypearl, and Dan Salkeld, Abilene, co-captains of the 1931 track squad. Richard "Red" Oliver had been elected to the honor, but after scholastic difficulties prohibited his participation, another election was held.
 Nugent is serving his third year for T C U as a dash star and will be captain of the track men. Salkeld, is in his second year and has been the mainstay of the T C U representation in the weights since he became eligible. Salkeld will captain the field men.

Just three days previous to the election of the Nugent-Salkeld combination to captain the track team, the championship basketball team elected Ray McCulloch, stellar forward, and Wendell "Doc" Sumner, sensational scorer, to captain the 1932 cage team.

The 1931 football eleven will also be captained by two men. Harlos Green, senior fullback, and Johnny Vaught, junior guard, were voted the honor.

The idea of electing two captains was initiated in T C U at the close of the 1929 football campaign, when the champions elected Noble Atkins and Cy Leland as leaders. With the ice broken by the football champions, the idea has increased in popularity until every major athletic team in T C U, with the exception of baseball, has two captains.

The planet Uranus was discovered 150 years ago, on March 13, 1781, by William Herschel, an unknown organist in Berlin, who then leaped into world wide fame.
