trees and hedges, secluded effect will be developed. The front of the park will face Dr. Walton's home.

In order to supply the demand for plants and evergreens, the department is putting approximately seven acres in the cultivation of young nursery stock, evergreen cuttings and trees. At present 15,000 shrubs and 3,500 live oak seedlings have been planted and as these mature they will be placed on the campus.

An increase also is being made in the number of potted plants at the green house for the purpose of interior decoration of the chapel during meetings, and on special occasions.

A certain fact lies festering in our heads for which we have failed dimly to find any dire significance. It must mean something pretty startling, but just what is beyond our Special Suspectors. The fact is that Benarr Macfadden sent out 22,000 Christmas cards.—North American Review.

Striking Students Return To Classes

WASHINGTON, Pa.— Convinced that the strike of two days had displayed appropriately the sincerity of their demand that President Simon S. Baker be removed, students at Washington and Jefferson college have returned to their classes.

The strike began Wednesday morning, March 18, when the students walked out of chapel service as Dr. Baker rose to make his customary announcements.

A petition, signed by about 350 of the 412 students enrolled, demanding the removal of Dr. Baker, and citing ten reasons, was presented by the students to a member of the board of trustees. One of the reasons was the president's "Childish" rules, citing a rule forbidding the wearing of corduroy trousers.

Dr. Baker said the strike undoubtedly was the result of the arrest the day before of two football men following an altercation with policemen.

"I have not said I would dismiss those fellows," Dr. Baker said at the time, "and from what I hear of the case I don't feel that they should be expelled."

Student leaders claimed their strike had the support of the faculty.

Fair 1, Good 2, Excellent 3.

John Mack Brown, gives the show of his life in "Billy the Kid." This story of a boy outlaw, boasts an excellent cast: Kay Johnson, Wallace Beery and the big swede, Karl Dane.—2.

Now, we have the little Swede, El Brendel, in the uproarious adventure of a toy salesman, who is mistaken for a notorious gangster when he takes a night off in a night club. The "moll," Fifi Dorsay, and the talent of El for doing the wrong thing at the right time, make this a really funny comedy.—2.

"Her Wedding Night" gives Clara Bowen negligee in Paris, with bedrooms and boy friends, in a light but possibly cute picture.—1.

The most popular actress on the screen, Marlene Dietrich, is teamed with Victor McLaglen, in "Dishonored." The story is of an Austrian woman spy, in a series of thrilling episodes through Austria and behind the Russian lines. X27, the spy is crossed by a Russian lieutenant, with whom she falls in love. Love overshadows duty, and she allows him to escape, and is court martialed, and sentenced to be shot. Do they shoot the heroine in the movies? Not really? Well, I won't tell.—3.

Playground Baseball To Start Friday Aft.

Playground baseball, with twenty-three teams entered in class A and twenty-one in class B competition, is scheduled to get under way Friday afternoon.

The teams have been divided into eight different leagues, four in each class, and the games are scheduled on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays only, in order to prevent any conflicts because of drill on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Differing from the policy used in former years, in which two games were played daily in each of the eight leagues, only one game daily is to be played in each league this year. The contests will begin promptly at 4:15.

The schedules have been arranged so as to complete the regular season of official games by May 22, after which the semi-finals and finals will be run off as soon as possible. Games postponed in this sport because of rainy weather will be played on Saturday afternoons as soon after their postponement as possible, in order not to delay the completion of the season.
