

SHOW TALK

By Philip John

Wednesday—Assembly Hall—"The Bachelor Father".

Thursday, Friday, Saturday—Palace "Reaching for the Moon."

Saturday—Assembly Hall—"Reducing."

Saturday preview,—Palace— Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday—"The Devil to Pay".

Rating: 1 fair, 2 good, 3 excellent.

Belasco's stage hit, "Bachelor Father", is now in the talkies, with Marion Davies. The picture is a screamingly funny one, but nevertheless has its heart throbs. Ralph Forbes and C. Aubrey Smith are with Marion in this picture.—3—

Doug is back again with as much action as ever, but now in a modern role, and in the pursuit of love and fortune. The story is ultra-modern and sophisticated, and is full of brilliant settings and comedy. Bebe Daniels is co-starred with Fairbanks in this fast moving comedy. This brilliant combination carries the picture from a snappy start to a fast finish.—3—

Marie Dressler and Polly Moran are teamed in the comedy "Reducing". The picture moves a bit slowly in places, but has a few high spots, and even a bit of slap-stick. The story is of the strife of two sisters over the loves of their daughters. A bit of drama claims a part of the picture in the last reel, and all ends well.—2—

Ronald Colman has a chance to display some of his talent in his latest picture "The Devil to Pay". This comedy drama was written by an English dramatist, Frederick Lonsdale, who was finally induced to write for the pictures. Colman is the idle son son of old English nobleman who sends him to Africa for a new start, but in the picture, he becomes homesick, and returns to England intending to marry some rich heiress. No fatted calf is waiting for the prodigal son when he returns. Loretta Young stars with Colman.—2—

Announce Math Contest Winners

J. A. Nichols of Welbon, Iowa, and C. C. Johnston, of Victoria were declared winners for the annual freshman and sophomore math contest, in banquet at the mess hall Wednesday night. The runners-up in this contest were W. B. Logan of Dallas, for the sophomores, and H. W. Perkins, of Dallas, freshman.

Those placing first in both contest and the winner of second place in the freshman contest received gold watches, while the second prize for the sophomores is twenty dollars in cash. These prizes are all given by people interested in the work of the department but are not in any manner connected with it.

Rules of the contest provided for it being conducted in a strictly impartial manner, as all papers were given a number and the contestant's numbered being seconded separately off of the grading was done by members only, and no one actually knew the winner until during the banquet when the numbers of the winners were announced.

Newman Club Elects Next Year's Officers

D. B. McNerny, junior electrical engineering student from Dallas, has been selected as president of the Newman club for next year. The Newman club is composed of Catholic students here and informally is connected with Catholic groups in other colleges and universities throughout the country.

Other officers elected at a meeting held Sunday in the club room of St. Mary's chapel were F. J. Kana of La Grange, vice president; J. H. Flood, Waco, secretary; A. C. Moser, Dallas, treasurer; L. F. Wanja, Weimar, social secretary; and H. G. Seeligson, Dallas, club activities reporter.

tee will be around some time this week to collect yellow slips for room key past years, and with the card given deposits in following the custom in receipt for this plus an additional dollar and a half, admittance to the Final Ball will be attained.

A special attraction of this year's program is the orchestra which has been secured for the week end. Hogan Hancock and his orchestra, which have been playing at the Gunter Hotel in San Antonio, will furnish the syncopation for all of these entertainments. This orchestra comes on a high recommendation, and has a wide reputation in the southern part of the state.

CLEVELAND, O.—Krazy Kat, humble tickler of millions of movie fans' funnybones, may assume the role of teacher to learned doctors, accustomed to diagnosing in words of ten syllables.

Heartbeats, infections, rasping of the throat, or any number of other physiological phenomena which help a prospective physician in his diagnosis can be represented by expanding concentric circles, lightning bolts or any of the other comic strip exaggerations in order to impress important factors on the medical students' minds, they hold.

Through arrangements with the printer, bound volumes containing the eight issues of the feature edition of The Battalion are on sale at The Battalion Office. They are bound on order and delivery will be made the first of next week, or immediately following the placement of order. Anyone desiring one of these books should make arrangements at once. A copy is in The Battalion Office for examination. These sell for the following prices:

Magazines furnished by us $2.00
Or, we will have your copies bound in the same binding and style $1.00

In order to complete our files for the past year The Battalion will pay ten cents (10¢) per copy for ten copies of the following news issues. Dated as follows:

March 4, 1931

April 29, 1931

Preference in the purchase of these copies will be given to the ones that are the cleanest and are in the best condition.

Bring these copies to the office of The Battalion on the morning of Saturday, May 23rd between 10 and 11 o'clock.
