

STUDENT MEMBERS AND BUSINESS MANAGER OF PUBLICATIONS BOARD

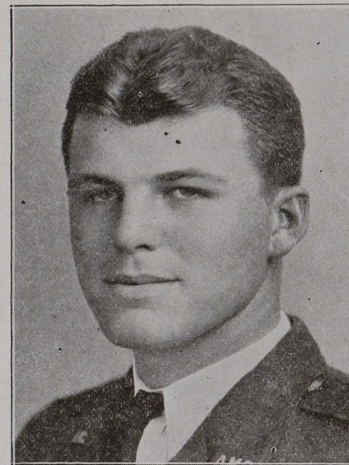

A. O. SAENGER
Editor, Longhorn.

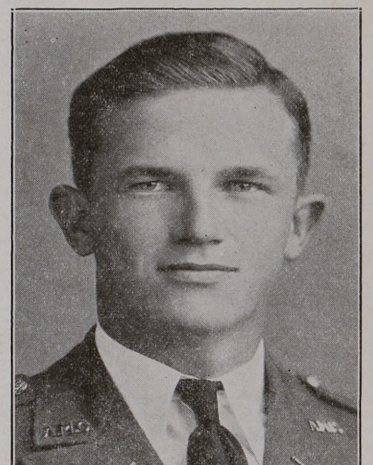

F. B. LESTER
Editor, Texas Aggie Countryman.

J. E. ANGELL
Executive of the Board, Business
Manager of Student Publications.

E. P. FORTSON
Editor, The Technoscope.

C. M. EVANS
Editor, The Battalion.

L. B. JONES
Senior Student Representative,
Secretary of the Board.

Experiments Conducted
On Non-Sleeping Ability

(By The Intercollegiate Press)

ATLANTA, Ga.—Remaining awake for long periods of time isn't unusual in college, but remaining awake 100 hours for science is. Two University of Georgia students did it so one could write a thesis for an advanced degree and to allow Dr. A. S. Edwards, head of the psychology department, to make observations on the results.

Harry Gerofsky, Trenton, N. J., and Wendall Morris, Pensacola, Fla., were the students. They stayed awake from Monday, March 23, until Friday noon, March 27. Gerofsky then slept for an hour and rose again to attend a wedding in Atlanta. Morris remained in bed until midnight, Friday, rose to get something to eat, and was back in bed again after 15 minutes.

Tests were made during the week to ascertain the effects. Both lost weight and complained of headaches and sore eyes, but neither suffered any lasting effects. Morris, in fact, gained strength on the last day.

Conversation, cold water, cigarettes and coffee were used to keep from falling asleep. They wandered about the campus for exercise, ate in local restaurants and attended classes regularly and tried to keep up with their work.

Morris is a graduate student in the psychology department and Gerofsky a freshman taking the regular first year course. Both have fully recovered and complain of no evil effects from their ordeal.

More than a hundred thousand Finnish women recently signed a petition asking that an end be put to Prohibition in Finland on the grounds that it was in opposition to true temperance.

Best Drilled Men
Selected Saturday

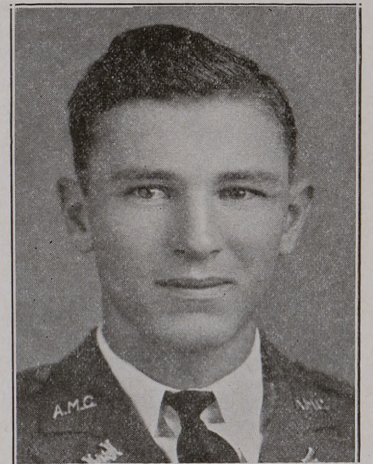

Medals for the best drilled man in each company, battery, and troop were awarded by their captains during the last two weeks. The award is made annually to the man in each organization whom the seniors select as the one having maintained the highest standards in conduct and military proficiency throughout the year. This year the medals went to sixteen sophomores and seven juniors.

Those who received the "best drilled" medals were: J. R. Montgomery, Dallas, Battery A; A. G. Nixon, Canton, Battery B; L. H. Jones, Corpus Christi, Battery C; R. H. McLemore, Dallas, Battery D; W. H. White, Dallas, Battery E; F. Hilsman, Orange, Battery F; H. R. Wofford, San Antonio, Troop A; J. B. Kidd, Katemey, Troop B; R. P. Marshall, Heindenheimer, Troop C; J. M. Winslow Menard, Troop D; J. A. DuPree, Houston, Company A Infantry; R. H. Young, Lockhart, Company B Infantry; T. A. Adams, Bryan, Company C Infantry; A. L. Gambrell, Farmersville, Company D. Infantry; W. H. McKenzie, New Orleans, Jr., Company E Infantry; D. L. Baker, Mathis, Company F Infantry; C. W. Smith, Amarillo, Company G Infantry; W. O. Lackie, San Antonio, Company H Infantry; G. H. Samuels, San Antonio, Company A Signal Corps; R. E. Diaz, San Antonio, Company B Signal Corps; J. B. Cornett, Waco, Company A Engineers; H. H. Critz, Teague, Company B Engineers; E. T. Shepherd, Port Arthur, Company C Engineers.

Saddle And Sirloin
Officers Elected

At a meeting of the Saddle and Sirloin Club held last week the following men were elected club officers for the coming year: R. J. Von Roeder, Yorktown, president; H. F. Kothmann, Mason, vice-president; J. W. Richards, New Willard, treasurer; and A. P. Goforth, Tolar, secretary.

Plans were made for the livestock show presented by the club each year. The show will be held in the animal husbandry pavillion at one thirty Friday afternoon, May 29. All livestock judging teams will be introduced and a short program will be given in connection with the work of the club. The show is open to everyone but is held especially for the parents of the club members.

BOB O'CONNELL
Junior Student Representative.

Publications Board
To Meet Thursday

Publication plans will be laid at at meeting of the advisory board, Thursday. The editors of the three publications and the members of the advisory committee will decide upon the tentative budget and policies for the ensuing year.

Arrangements will be made to make it possible to begin work with the start of school. Evans, editor of the Battalion, and Saenger, editor of the Longhorn, will make their offices at the summer camp in San Antonio, to work out the details for the next year publications, and handle the business that comes up in the vacation period.

Budget plans are being made, and contracts are to be soon let, so that the publications work may be begun immediately.

TO THE ADVERTISERS

Wednesday, May 27.

To the Battalion Advertisers:

Dear Sirs:

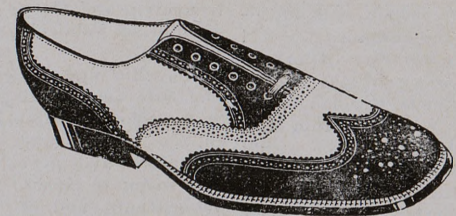

In this, the final issue of the Battalion, we want to thank you for your co-operation, that has made it possible for the Battalion to succeed. We are constantly growing with the school, and in this year, have received national recognition for the Battalion in which you have advertised.

Get your advertising in with us early, and rise with us to records that even surpass the results of the last year.

Confident that we can always give you the best of results, and again thanking you, we are

Yours for a greater '32,
THE BATTALION.

The first chapel services in three years were held last week at Western Reserve University. Up until three years ago the services had been compulsory at the university, but were dropped after student agitation against them. The new services, suggested by both faculty and students, are non-compulsory. Three hundred attended the first service under the new plan.

SPORT WEAR

We are showing the most attractive assortment of sport wear we have ever shown.

Beautiful patterns in knickers, and prices reasonable.

Eight patterns in sport oxfords for you to select from.

$5.00 — $6.00 — $6.50

Texas Aggie Belt Buckles made by Hickok will look good with anything you wear.

W. F. GIBBS & SON

Bryan, Texas

A 10 O'CLOCK SCHOLAR with a dime or a dollar can always gain
ADMISSION TO THE "BAR"

AT 10-2 & 4 O'CLOCK

Sincere Congratulations,
Seniors!

SO LONG "FISH"—
GOOD-BYE "SOPHS"—
ADIOS JUNIORS—

We have enjoyed your friendship and patronage in the past and hope that we can be of service to you in the future.

CALDWELL'S JEWELRY STORE

Bryan, Texas