BONE—
 has been spent in contact with students and their problems. He was born in Topeka, Kansas, graduating from Washburn College, which is located there, in 1922, having majored in social science. After his graduation, Mr. Bone was resident secretary of the Student Association at the University of Vermont, Burlington, Vermont, at which position he had considerable success in establishing voluntary student discussion groups in dormitories and fraternity houses. The following two years he spent as secretary on the national staff of the Student Christian Movement, traveling to the colleges of Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Missouri. Then Mr. Bone spent two years in graduate study at Union Theological Seminary at Columbia University, New York, studying particularly religion, psychology and philosophy. He then became a fellow of the National Council on Religion in Higher Education traveling out of New York City to the colleges of the United States at large.

The picture of a picture in the making, and the story of a mad director who would sacrifice lives for air thrills for the screen, is "The Lost Squadron." An excellent drama, a real thriller and what a cast—Richard Dix, Mary Astor, Erick Von Stroheim, Dorothy Jordan, Joel McCrea, and Robert Armstrong.

"Polly of the Circus" presents Marion Davies as a charming trapeze artist in a travelling show, and Clark Gable as a minister of the church. An excellent love drama follows.

"The Unholy Garden" is the story of fugitives from the law who have gathered together in the only place where they are safe from justice. Here, they prey upon one another, adventurers from every country, and here also are strange, beautiful women who prey upon the adventurers. Ronald Coleman plays the part of the man who escaped the arm of the law, but not the arms of his woman. Fay Wray, Estelle Taylor, and Warren Hymer lead the support cast.

If you want to see one of the best performances on the screen, don't fail to see George Arliss in "Alexander Hamilton." This picture has been hailed as one of his best performances. Others in the splendid cast are Doris Kenyon and June Collyer.

Maurice Chevalier as a hero of the boudoir smiles his way through his latest romantic comedy, "One Hour With You." To hear Jeanette and Maurice sing is in itself a treat. If you like Chevalier, you'll like him in this picture with Jeanette MacDonald, Genevieve Tobin, Charley Ruggles, and Ronald Young.

Jack Oakie, William Collier, Jr., Mariam Hopkins, and Eugene Pallette give excellent performances in "Dancers in the Dark," a story of gangs and dance halls, with Oakie leading an orchestra. There is plenty of action and humor throughout.

 lore Society and was its first secretary.
 In his collection of songs of the cowboys and ballads of the frontier he instigated the original movement to save the folk-lore of America and was encouraged in this work by Theodore Roosevelt. While at A and M College, Mr. Lomax collected many songs. The following quotation is taken from a recent interview which appeared in the Dallas Times Herald:
 "Many songs were given to me," he is quoted as saying, "by my students at the A and M College. The only 'author' of a cowboy ballad cited in his first book in one of his students, Harry Stevens, bronco buster and poet, who came to A and M from Denison. Mr. Lomax said, 'this student brought all his cowboy accoutrements, except his horse, and kept them in his rooms at the college.'"
 Mr. Lomax has appeared in forty-three states and lectured at most of the important universities and through these lectures he has achieved a most enviable reputation as an interpreter of native American folk-lore. His appearance at the college is being looked forward to with much interest.

 ities will begin clearing the site immediately, which is now occupied by several buildings belonging to the department of veterinary medicine. The new structure probably will be completed within nine months from the time actual construction begins, which will open the building for occupancy by September 1934.
 The building will consist of three parts. The main unit will be used for offices and class rooms, the second for the lecture rooms, and the third for the warehouse and laboratories. The first two sections will be approximately similar in structure to the chemistry building. The laboratory unit will have few partitions and will be heavily constructed to accommodate the heavy machinery used in the Agricultural Engineering department.
 The estimated cost of the building, including equipment, will be approximately $200,000. At this time there is also the announcement that work on the new Geology-Petroleum Engineering and Engineering Experiment Station will be started within thirty days.

$25,000 IN PRIZES!
 and may the best "Blurbs" win
 464 cash prizes each month—2 first prizes of $500 each

GET into this shaving cream "blurb" contest, men! Who are you for—Walt or Bill? Palmolive or Colgate's?
 We've discovered that men are rabid on the subject of shaving creams. Just try to tell a Colgate user there's anything better! Or try to convert a Palmolive user to anything else. You'll soon find out!

Come on you shavers—Get in on this $25,000 argument
 Walt wants you Palmolive users to say your say. Bill says "Stick with me, you Colgate users." If you don't use either, start now and take a shot at this real money. And, don't forget, give your dealer's name!

These are the two leading sellers among all shaving creams. Think of that—in a field of 176 competing brands! What we want to know is—why do you like Palmolive? Or why do you swear by Colgate's? Tell us!
 Hence this little contest. There's money in it—lots of money. Get some of it! Help Walt out. Or help Bill out. Notice the two empty "blurb" spaces in the picture at the right. In ONE of these spaces (or on a separate sheet of paper) write what you'd say in favor of Palmolive—or what you'd say in favor of Colgate's. Write it now! And note! Mention your dealer's name. Then if you win, he'll win a prize, too.

CONTEST RULES
MAIL your "blurb" with name and address to Contest Editors, Dept. CN4, P. O. Box 1133, Champaign, Ill.
 The prize money (totaling $25,000) is divided into six sets of monthly prizes (each set totaling $4200). At the end of each month prizes are awarded (see list at right) for the best "blurbs" received during that month, as follows:
 Feb. 29, $4200 Mar. 31, $4200
 April 30, $4200 May 31, $4200
 June 30, $4200 July 31, $4200
 (Contest closes July 31, 1932)
 Contest is open only to residents of the United States and Canada. Employees of the manufacturers and their families are not eligible to compete.
 In event of a tie, each tying
