AGGIES TRIM BEARCATS 26-0

A. & M. SHOWN IN ACTION WITH TULANE

In the pictures: (above) Stringfellow eluding tacklers after catching a pass in dangerous territory. This play marked the beginning of the Aggie drive which culminated in the second touchdown against Tulane Saturday. The picture was snapped just as the ball started to leave his arm.

Greenies Win 26-14 Victory Over Farmers

Aston and Stringfellow Score for Aggies in Hard-Fought Tilt With Tulane.

The swiftly charging, powerful line of Tulane University, fighting harder because their captain, Nollie Felts, was ousted on charges of professionalism in baseball several years ago, proved to be much of an obstacle to the lighter and less experienced forward wall of the Texas Aggies, which was also weakened by injuries.

20,000 people watched the Green Wave open its 1932 grid season in New Orleans Saturday with a smashing 26-14 victory over Texas A and M. The Tulane line seemed to be an avalanche of destructive power as it cleared the way for Don Zimmerman, the "Flying Dutchman", and his scintillating backfield cohorts. Unlike last year when the Aggies held Tulane to a 7-0 score on a muddy field, and outplayed Tulane by making more first downs and twice as much yardage, the field was dry and the weather practically ideal for football. The Wave marked up 18 first downs to 7 for the Texans, and lost 57 yards in penalties while the Aggies lost only 15.

The three-year Southern Conference champions, undefeated in the South since 1928, used straight running plays to score their four touchdowns. The absence of Dalrymple and Haynes, All-American ends last year, and the watchfulness of the Aggie defense, kept them from using their vaunted aerial attack with any telling effect.

The Aggies took to the air to score their first touchdown while the second was the direct result of Hewitt's sensational 40-yard run in the last quarter.

Twice were the Aggies held for downs within the shadow of the Tulane goal, while Captain Jimmy Aston and Frenchy Domingue made a mad effort to score, but the strong Tulane line held intact. With the exception of the two sophomore ends who took the places of Haynes and Dalrymple, Tulane's line was the same that played against Southern California last year.

The first quarter might be considered a contest between Tulane's Flying Dutchman, Don Zimmerman, and the Aggies Flying Frenchman, Clifford Domingue, but with the help of a more powerful line Zimmerman came out on top.

Honors for making the first touchdown went to the Aggies as the powerful Aggie pair, Aston and Domingue, unleashed a combination passing and running attack group.

A & M CRUSHES SAM HOUSTON IN ONE-SIDED TILT

Farmers Pile Up 17 First Downs To 4 For San Houston.

As if saddened by the sight of the bright orange and white flaunted in their faces by the Sam Houston State Teachers College Bearcats, the Bellmen ran over the weaker Lone Star conference team in a very convincing manner last night, when they defeated the Bearcats 26-0 in the first night game of the Aggies' career.

An estimated crowd of 5,000 watched the dedication game of the new flood lights recently installed on Priddett Field, the home of the Bearcats. Many notables sat in the beautiful pine surrounded stadium to witness the first invasion of a strong Southwest conference team in Huntsville, the home and burial place of the immortal Texan, Sam Houston.

Flashing a brilliant offense that could not be stopped, the Bellmen tore through the lighter line and around the ends of the Bearcats to mark up 20 points in the first half. From the very start it was apparent that Sam Houston was fighting a losing battle, but Coach Jim Jones' fighting 'Cats did not stop until the last whistle had blown. The Aggies made 17 first downs against four for the Bearcats, and gained 335 yards from scrimmage to only 67 for the Cats.

The heavier Aggie team was slow to get started, and the first few minutes of the game was played in their own territory, during which time the fighting Teachers made desperate efforts to score against the Farmers. The Aggie offense tore the lighter Bearcat line to pieces after the team got under way, and resorted to running plays to score all four touchdowns.

"Frenchy" Domingue and "Dub" Williams furnished most of the thrills for A. & M. Frenchy played only during part of the first half, but stayed in long enough to score two touchdowns. Getting through the Bearcat line behind perfect interference, he twisted and slipped through the Teachers' secondary defense for long gains. Captain Jimmy Aston found the center of the line good for a few yards on each try. During the second half the wide end runs and off tackle plays by Dub Williams kept the Bearcats guessing.

Other Aggie backs who deserved mention were Pete Hewitt, who again made a run similar to the one made last Saturday against Tulane, little Jack Stringfellow, Rue Barfield, Muggins Fowler, Henry Graves, and Bill Kimbrough. The touchdown combination of the first part of the game was removed at the half and an almost entirely new team was run in.

Though the Bearcats fought a losing battle all the way through, they boasted probably the best defensive man on the field in Shields, 196 pound right end from Trinity. He was in every play that came by his end and very little ground was made around this man unless several Aggies took him out of the play. Probably the longest consistent punting was done by Ginn, of Sam Houston, also a Trinity product.

A. & M.'s first touchdown came early in the first quarter when the Bearcat safety man let Fowler's punt roll too far down the field to stop on the Aggie 20-yard line. After a series of line plunges Frenchy Domingue carried the ball around right end for 12 yards and the touchdown. The try for extra point was unsuccessful.

Although the Bearcats fought gamely, the issue was never in any danger and the end saw another Aggie offensive drive threatening the Bearcat goal line.

STUDENT LOANS FOR ENTRANCE TOTAL $12,000

Former Students' Association Flooded With Applications For Loans Aggregating $100,000 At Beginning Of Session.

The Former Students' Association of the college disbursed in loans for the first term of the 1932-33 session a total of $12,000, according to E. E. McQuillen, secretary of the association. This sum falls considerably below the loans of previous years.

Applications for loans were not accepted until after August 1, and the passing of that dead-line marked the beginning of a flood of requests which would have necessitated the loaning of $100,000 had that amount been available for distribution. The present economic situation made it necessary for many students who anticipated continuing or beginning their college educations to seek financial aid, and the failure to find such aid no doubt prevented a large number from enrolling this year, McQuillen said.

One hundred and fifty-six students made notes with the association for sums varying between small amounts, and the maximum of $100.00. No notes were made for more than $100.00. Seniors and the men who had previously been financed by the association were given preference over the other applicants in the distribution of the loans.

The new system of monthly payments of the maintenance fee inaugurated by the college at the beginning of the present session will, Mr. McQuillen fears, deprive the Former Students' Association of its most prolific source of collection on loans. In the past, the men who had made notes with the association succeeded in paying them off, to a large extent, with the money earned from student labor. It is anticipated that under the new system most of the student labor payroll will go toward meeting the monthly payments of the maintenance fee, and that very little of it will be used in the payment of notes. If such a condition should develop the association will be unable to make any loans next term, Mr. McQuillen stated, as new loans are made possible largely through the prompt payment of the old ones.

WORK HELD UP ON ANIMAL INDUSTRIES BUILDING BY RAIN

Construction work on the Animal Industries building is being pushed rapidly forward after the delay caused by last week's rain. Footings, stub columns, and framing for the first floor will be completed by the end of this week, and final completion of the building is scheduled for the first of June.

The building will be of Modernized Classic architecture and was designed by S. C. P. Vesper of the College Architect's office. According to the plan, the building will consist of two wings connected by an auditorium which will be used as a lecture room. The main wing will be four stories high and will be used for classrooms, laboratories, and offices of the department with a small section reserved for a library. Facing of the main wing will consist of face brick made colorful with Mexican tile and a basing of cast stone.

A miniature packing house for instruction in slaughtering of animals and packing of meat products will be built in the smaller wing. Cold storage rooms are to be provided for the preservation of the products and to provide facilities for packing.

SEVEN INJURED IN AUTO WRECKS LAST SATURDAY

Cadet Suffers Broken Leg and Scalp Wounds When Run Over by Automobile.

Seven persons, including four A and M College students, one College official, and two Bryan business men, were injured in two automobile accidents which took place between seven and eight o'clock Saturday night.

J. R. Alexander, Bridgeport student, the most seriously injured of the seven crash victims, was struck by a car driven by H. T. Holland, also of A and M. Alexander walked around in front of the Bryan-College bus at the Experimental Sub-station and was not seen by Holland until it was too late to turn. Holland swerved his car to the left but was unable to miss Alexander. His car turned over twice and Holland was slightly injured. Alexander's injuries consisted of a broken left leg and three scalp wounds.

The second accident occurred between Navasota and Millican when a party consisting of W. A. Duncan, supervisor of subsistence of the College, R. W. Howell and W. S. Howell, Bryan business men, collided with a cotton truck upon which five A and M students were riding. The cotton on top of the truck was thrown off, hurling the five students through the air. The Howell car, which was driven by R. W. Howell, overturned as a result of the collision. The injured were:

Several Trips To Be Made By Aggie Band During Year

First Jaunt Made To Huntsville Last Night for Aggie-Sam Houston Game.

The Aggie band, composed of 100 pieces, is rapidly being whipped into the form which for years has given it the reputation of being the best drilled college band in the South.

According to Mr. Dunn, director of the band, many of the thirty-eight freshmen who have been admitted to the band this year are accomplished musicians.

Several trips have been planned for the year. The first of which was to Huntsville, Wednesday night where the Aggies played the Sam Houston Bearcats.

Lieutenant L. R. Nachman is the tactical officer of the band for the year, succeeding Captain T. C. Harry. Richard J. Dunn is director of the band; F. L. Bryan, Dublin, cadet captain; W. S. Blodgett, Crane, second-in-command; and T. N. Gearald, Stephenville, cadet first sergeant.

Texas Aggie Team And Coaches Will Be Guests Of Palace

Saturday morning at 9:45 the 1932 Texas Aggie football team and coaches will be the guests of the Palace theatre at Bryan for a special showing of "All American", a football picture featuring the whole of 1931 football's All Americans. In the cast will be such stars as Jerry Dalrymple, Frank Carideo, and March Swartz.

This is an advance showing of the picture and will be its first release in Texas.

BOGEVOLD TO HEAD COLLEGE PRESS GROUP

Curtis Vinson Renamed Club Sponsor; Mayo Elected Honorary Member.

Trygve Bogevoid, Waco, Captain of Company "B" Engineers and Advertising Manager of the Battalion, was elected president of the Press Club at a meeting held in the Asbury Room of the Library Monday night. G. M. Dent, Galveston, Lieutenant of the First Battalion Infantry Staff, was chosen vice-president. The remaining office in the club, that of secretary-treasurer, is held by B. M. Gottlieb, Corsicana, Captain on the Corps Staff. In an election held at the close of school last year, Claude Evans was elected president and Bogevoid vice-president, but Evan's failure to return to school resulted in Bogevoid's elevation to the presidency and Dent's being elected to fill the vacant office of vice-president.

Curtis Vinson, Publicity Director of the College, was re-elected sponsor of the club and T. F. Mayo, College Librarian, was elected an honorary member. Both of these choices was by unanimous vote of the club members.

The major portion of the meetings of the college press group was devoted to the discussions of a program of activities for the year and of preliminary details for an award to be made by the club for the best literary endeavor during the ensuing year. Mr. Mayo was appointed to head a committee which will draw up the rules and choose faculty judges for the literary group.

Wendler Named President Of Junior Class

Officers Selected At Initial Meeting of Year.

H. C. Wendler, Boerne, Company "H" Infantry, was elected president of the Junior class at the first meeting of the year Saturday afternoon in the Assembly Hall. Other officers elected at the meeting were Joe A. Aston, Farmersville, Company "F" Infantry, vice-president; L. C. Zapp, Houston, "C" Troop Cavalry, secretary and treasurer; and W. A. McLeod, Cuero, Historian.

One representative from each of the corps regiments was elected to a place on the Student Welfare Committee. W. B. Logan, Dallas, Battery "E" was selected for the representative of the field artillery regiment; D. E. Alanis, Ennis, Company D, of the Infantry regiment; and R. E. White, representative of the Composite regiment.

Interest in the election ran high with several candidates for each office.

Bowling Alley To Offer Tournament To Cadet Bowlers

Student bowlers will have something to look forward to during the cold winter months if tentative plans are carried out.

It has been suggested that bowlers of the college form several different teams to participate in a tournament to be sponsored by the Bryan Bowling Alley, with a prize offered to the winning team.

The tournament will not be open only to student bowlers but it is hoped that the faculty of the college will form a team since there are many capable bowlers among that group.
