

A AND M STOCK JUDGERS FINISH CONTEST TOUR

Livestock Judging Team Places Eleventh in International Meet.

Information was received by D. W. Williams, Head of the Animal Husbandry department, that the A and M Livestock Judging team placed eleventh in the thirty-second annual contest. The International Livestock Judging Contest was inaugurated in 1900 and Texas A and M has been represented by a team every year since 1904 with the exception of 1918. Texas A and M won first place in the competition in 1913 and again in 1919, and placed fifth last year.

Of the twenty teams entered, Ohio took first place; Kansas, second; and Illinois, third. The Ohio team previously won first place in the American Royal Contest held this year at Kansas City.

In the various classes of livestock judging, Texas A and M placed sixth in cattle judging, seventh in hogs, eleventh in sheep, and fourteenth in horses. The team that represented A and M was composed of the following senior animal husbandry students: H. A. Fitzhugh, Tolar; J. W. Richards, New Willard; W. D. Russell, Granbury; E. H. Hodgins, Hungerford; E. L. Williams, Carrizo Springs; and A. P. Goforth, Tolar, alternate.

Colored Football Teams Play Game At Aggie Stadium

Coming back for their second game on Kyle Field, the Prairie View Panthers will meet the strong Texas College eleven of Tyler on the Aggie stadium at 3:00 p. m., December 2.

The Prairie View squad will be accompanied by their brass band and the Prairie View student body. This means the Panthers will not be without moral support.

Last year the Panthers met and defeated a team from Arkansas College and those who saw the game were as greatly impressed with the Prairie View rooting section as they were with the football team. The co-eds, from the "colored A and M" put on several novel stunts and their battle cry of "Touchdown Prairie View, Touchdown Prairie View" has become a humorous byword on the Aggie campus.

Prairie View always boasts a strong eleven and usually wins the colored championship of the state. This year five players formerly on the much talked of Bryan High colored team are members of the squad and probably will be out to live up to their reputations before the home town folks.

College Dailies Are Fostering Movement To Pay Football Men

Minneapolis—(IP)—The University of Minnesota Daily has fallen in line with those college newspapers of the country which this year have begun to suggest open and acknowledged policies of paying football players for the work they do for their colleges.

"Coaches are shifted as soon as a team has a losing streak," says the Daily. "Everything is done to keep the team winning and maintain gate receipts."

"The most important cog in the moneymaking machine is the football player, and his only return is 'that tired aching feeling' and a lot of slush about 'fighting for the dear old alma mater.' Why not pay the deserving workers?"

President Walton Is Confined To Hospital As Result of Attack

Dr. T. O. Walton, president of the college, suffered a severe attack of erysipelas Monday morning, that necessitated his removal from the college hospital to the Wilson Memorial Clinic in Bryan. He is under the care of Dr. J. E. Marsh, college physician, and Dr. Turner Walton, his son.

An extreme rigor which set in at eight o'clock Monday morning and lasted until eleven o'clock, forced Dr. Walton to stop work. As this article went to press, he was convalescing and was expected to be able to return to his home soon.

Twenty-One Aggie Gridsters To Get Coveted T Awards

Fire Destroys Co-Ed Dormitory At Alfred

ALFRED, N. Y.—(IP)—Some 110 women students at Alfred University were driven out into a snow storm last week when a five-story co-ed dormitory was gutted by flames. Many of the co-eds managed to save a few of their personal belongings, but most of the women lost all they owned at school.

Co-Ed Injured After Brown-Columbia Tilt

NEW YORK.—(IP)—Miss June Joseph, 24, was painfully injured here when she was struck on the head by one of the falling uprights of Columbia's football field goal posts when the Brown University fans, overjoyed at Brown's 7 to 6 defeat of the New York team swept out on the field to tear down the goals.

Texas Leads Nation With Largest Number of Public Schools

Washington, D. C.—(IP)—Texas has more high schools than any other state in the Union, it was revealed last week by the Federal Office of Education.

Texas has 1,400 high schools, Ohio has 1,322, Pennsylvania has 1,185, Missouri has 1,063 and Illinois 1,065. These states have more than a fourth of the 23,939 high schools in the United States.

To New York City goes the honor of having the largest high school in the country. It is De Witt Clinton, with 10,059 students. Second largest is New Utrecht in Brooklyn, N. Y., with 9,944.

The total enrollment in all types of high schools in the country is 5,465,932. More than a half million graduate from American high schools each year.

"TEX." FAMOUS AIRDALE, KILLED

A familiar sight will be missing from the campus as "Texas Aggie II", famous airdale dog owned by E. J. Dunn, Director of the Aggie Band, was killed on the highway in front of the College last week-end.

"Tex" was conceded to be one of the finest specimens of the Airdale in the Southwest, having won a number of grand prizes in various Southwest Kennel competitions.

In 1926, when "Tex" was named Reserve Winner at the State Fair in Dallas, Mr. Dunn refused an offer of five hundred dollars for the dog.

"Tex" was seven years old this month.

Elliott Announces Corps Dances Have Shown Net Profit

Donald Elliott, social secretary of the senior class, when interviewed on the outcome of the corps dances so far this year, stated, "Of the five corps dances given so far this year, all have shown a profit with the exception of the one held on the night of October 29th. The crowds this year have been about one-half as large as they were last year. The dance following the T. C. U.-Aggie football game proved to draw the largest crowd, with more than twelve hundred in attendance."

There are no more big dances scheduled for the remainder of the school year, but it is hoped that some of the corps dances following the various club dances to be held in the Spring will prove to be unusual financial assets, Elliott said.

South Americans Go For Football Games

BUENOS AIRES.—(IP)—If Americans of the north think football is popular in the states, they should come down here. Two hundred and fifty thousand fans attempted to see a championship game here last week. Only 55,000 could get into the game.

River Platte won the Argentine professional championship by defeating Independiente 3 to 0.

Police were forced to fire over the heads of the huge crowd outside the field to keep order when a fight was started between supporters of the opposing teams.

College Football Star and Scholar Becomes Policeman

Chicago.—(IP)—The Chicago police force is to have the privilege of numbering among its patrolmen Kenneth A. Rouse, graduate of the University of Chicago and former captain of the university football team.

In the university Rouse received a medal for excellence in scholarship and athletics. Of more than 4,500 who took the police examination, Rouse stood third. It has been a long ambition of his to become a policeman.

Two Campus Buildings Damaged By Conflagrations Last Saturday; Damages Estimated At $1,050

The peace and quiet that prevailed on the campus during the Thanksgiving holidays was broken Saturday night by two fires, both of undetermined origin, which caused damage estimated at about $1050 to campus buildings.

The first fire occurred between 8:30 and 9:00 and destroyed the room of Charlie Cummings, Bryan, and Ike Lowenstein, Ysleta, which is located on the southwest corner of the third floor of Foster Hall. There was no one in the room at the time of the fire, but Lowenstein was on the first floor of the building listening to the radio with Carl Taylor and Hollis Mustain. Attention was first attracted to the blaze by someone on the outside who saw the flames pouring from the windows. Taylor stepped out into the hall and saw the blaze shooting over the transom of the burning room. He called Lowenstein and with him ran to the top floor of the building where they secured some fire extinguishers and started fighting the fire. In the meantime Mustain had gone to notify the fire department but before the apparatus reached the scene the blaze was under control.

Taylor, the only person injured, suffered a badly burned hand when he caught hold of the red hot door knob in trying to gain entrance to the burning room.

The total loss was estimated at approximately $800.00, of which $300.00 was lost by the room occupants in personal property.

The second fire of the week-end occurred in the linen room of the Y. M. C. A. and was discovered about 4:00 a. m. Sunday morning by Professors V. K. Sogareff and C. J. Finney.

The tenants and employees of the Y. M. C. A. were able to control the flame until the college apparatus arrived and the damage was confined to the contents of the linen room which included linen and vacuum cleaners. According to J. G. Gay, Associate Secretary of the Y. M. C. A., the loss was about $250.00, and was covered by insurance.

Technoscope Staff Plans Revision Of Engineering Paper

So enthusiastic was the reception tendered the initial issue of the Technoscope, student publication of the Engineering School under the editorship of George H. Samuels, that it was necessary to print extra copies to satisfy the demand. With the success of this issue in mind, the members of the Technoscope staff have completed plans for the future issues by means of which they intend to make the publication prove beneficial to those students supporting it.

According to C. C. Johnston, circulation manager, present plans are that the second issue will be distributed on January 10. The policy of the staff to devote each issue to one particular department of the engineering school has been discontinued at the requests of several engineering students. The January issue will include articles from students in Architectural, Chemical, Civil, Electrical, Mechanical, and Petroleum Engineering written along a technical line as well as those contributions of a literary nature. Samuels stressed the point that any student that desires to submit an article for publication should remember that they will be eligible for the Press Club Award, as technical articles are not barred from competition.

Waco Rabbi Speaks Illinois Musicians Bequeathed Sousa's Band Music Library

Waco, Texas.—(IP)—Rabbi Charles Blumenthal, Waco, will speak before members of the Hillel Club, Sunday night at 7:30 p. m. in the Asbury Room of the Library. A supper will be given Sunday evening for Dr. Blumenthal and members of the club from Waco by Dr. and Mrs. Tabenhaus of College Station.

URBANA, Ill.—(IP)—The University of Illinois has been chosen to receive the vast library of music which belonged to the late great bandmaster and composer, John Philip Sousa.

Nine tons of musical compositions—enough to fill 42 large trucks—compose the Sousa library which has been bequeathed to the Illinois bands.

There is enough music in the collection to last the average college band ten years without ever repeating a composition. The three Illinois bands normally play about 300 compositions each year.

The name of Sousa is distinctive on the University of Illinois band roll, for he was its honorary conductor, Prof. A. A. Harding has been its active director for years.

Prof. Harding was a close friend of Sousa, and it is this friendship, it is said, which resulted in the bequest of the band music library to the university.

Aggies Defeated By Texas U Team Thanksgiving Day

The "even year" jinx held good in Austin Thanksgiving Day as the University of Texas Longhorns defeated the Aggies by a score of 21-0, closing the football season for both teams. By winning the Steers kept unbroken their string of Turkey Day victories on their home field and made it necessary for the Aggies to wait at least two more years for their first win in Austin since 1922.

Starting off with every promise of playing a nip-and-tuck game the teams treated the fans to some excellent football throughout the first quarter. The Aggie receiver fumbled the opening kickoff and Texas recovered on the A and M fourteen yard line. A gain of ten yards carried the Steers to a first down on the four yard line with goal to go. At this point the Aggie line braced and after four tries the Longhorns lacked inches of having crossed the zero marker and the ball went over to A and M. Graves punted from behind his goal line and got off a kick that carried sixty-five yards and the Aggies were out of danger for the remainder of the period.

In the second quarter the Longhorns opened up with an attack that netted them three touchdowns and the game. Texas carried the ball to the one yard line on straight football and Hilliard took it over A and M's left guard for the first score of the game. "Ox" Blanton kicked the extra point. The scorekeeper had hardly marked down the first touchdown when Koy passed thirty-five yards to Stafford for the second. Stafford crossed the Aggie goal line and in turning around to face the play slipped down and was on his knees when he caught the ball. Blanton again came out of the line and kicked the extra point. After the second touchdown A and M kicked off to Texas. The Steers carried the ball well into Aggie territory before losing it on downs. Running plays availed nothing and Fowler got off one of those touchdown punts to Hilliard.

The "Texas Flyer" received the ball on his own thirty-five yard line and escorted by Koy and Stafford ambled through the entire Aggie team for the Longhorn's third and last touchdown. For the third time Blanton's kick was good and the scoring for the day was over.

Turning on the steam in the third and fourth quarters the Aggies played on a par with the Steers but they never seriously threatened to score. During the closing minutes of the game a well organized passing attack netted the Farmers ten first downs but they all came with the ball at or near midfield.

People who live in cities where there are skyscrapers will be reasonably safe from poison gas, it is asserted by Dr. J. Mitchell Fain, because such gases do not rise far above the ground, and to get away from them in the next war people can climb up a few stories in the tall buildings of their cities.

FISH 'B' SQUAD GAME SLATED FOR THURSDAY

Second String First-Year Men Will Meet Stephen F. Austin High On Forrest Field.

The A and M Freshman B squad will engage the Stephen F. Austin Bronchos of Bryan in a football game to be played on Forrest Field Thursday night, December 1. The game is to be played for charity with the proceeds going to the Good Cheer Fund.

Stephen F. Austin boasts a strong high school club that has held its own throughout the past season with some of the most formidable squads in this section of the state and many of the fish players have seen service against the teams that the first year men have played and can be depended upon to give a good account of themselves.

With the two teams so nearly matched in strength the game should be worth seeing from the standpoint of football itself without considering the charitable aspect of the contest.

Vanderbilt Announces No 1933 Tulane Game

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—(IP)—Football relations between Vanderbilt and Tulane Universities have been broken for next year at least, it was announced by Vanderbilt, as a result of a boeing which Vanderbilt received early this season when Vanderbilt tied Tulane, the first blot on Tulane's football record since 1928 in the Southern Conference.

Louisiana State University will take Tulane's place on the Vanderbilt 1933 schedule, it was announced by Russ Cohen, member of Vanderbilt's coaching staff and a former coach at Louisiana State.

Last Day For Club Pictures Set By Longhorn Editor

All money for club section pictures of the Longhorn must be in by December 15. B. M. Gottlieb, editor of the yearbook, announced yesterday. Half payment at this date will be considered but unless the remainder is paid by March 1, club pictures not wholly paid for will not appear in the annual.

As an inducement to students to have their photographs placed in the various club sections, the Longhorn and the Aggie Studio are making a special offer of two club section pictures, a photograph in the class section, and a 5x7 portrait for two dollars and fifty cents. This offer is also open to sophomores and freshmen.

Payments for club sections are to be turned in to T. C. Morris at 27 Goodwin Hall.

New Iowa Tradition Falls Flat As Omen

IOWA CITY, Iowa.—(IP)—That new "tradition" which Ossie Solem brought with him when he became head football coach at the University of Iowa this year, is not entirely in favor with the students. Under the code of the "tradition" the captain of the Iowa team from a distance of twenty paces tossed a burning football shoe over his left shoulder toward a pile of straw. This was on the eve of the Iowa-Northwestern game.

If the straw caught fire, Iowa was to defeat Northwestern by a narrow margin. The straw caught fire. Score: Northwestern 44, Iowa 6.

BIG WHALE COMING

"Colossus," giant whale that weighs 68 tons and is 55 feet long, is to be exhibited in Bryan on a 100 foot railway car near the Southern Pacific depot, Tuesday, December 6, and Wednesday, December 7th.
