

REPEAT AFTER ME, ALOUD:

A skunk sat on a stump,
The stump thought the skunk stunk
And the skunk thought the stump stunk.
(. . . oh well, now try again.)

Stenog Number One: "Whenever I want a day off, my boss will let me have it if I give him a kiss."

Stenog Number Two: "What happens when you want a week's vacation?"

Question: "What makes you think that he was drunk?"

Answer: "Well, I saw him put a penny in the patrol box on Elm Street, then look up at the church clock and shout: 'Hell, I'she loshth fourteen pounds'."

Wife: "There is company at the door and we are not through with dinner yet."

Scotchman: "Quick, grab a toothpick."

Saint Peter was interviewing the fair damsel at the pearly gate. "did you, while on earth," he said, "indulge in necking, petting, smoking, drinking or dancing?"

"Never," she retorted emphatically.

"Then why haven't you reported sooner?" said Saint Peter. "You've been dead a long time."

"Wish there'd be another shipwreck. I feel like I need a dose of salts."

Mabel: John Smith proposed to me last night and I slapped his face.

Irene: Goodness; Why did you do that? You should have felt honored.

Mabel: You don't know what he proposed.

Bride: Who is the man in the blue coat, darling?

Groom: That's the umpire, dear.

Bride: Why does he wear that funny wire thing over his face?

Groom: To keep from biting the ball players, Precious.

Teacher: You bad boy! I wish I was your mother for about twenty-four hours.

Bad Boy: All right, teacher! I'll speak to dad about it and maybe we can fix it up.

"Have you ever driven a car before?" asked the license clerk to the lady applicant.

"A hundred and fifty thousand miles," spoke up the husband, "and never had her hands on the steering wheel."

The saying is that heaven will protect the working girl, but who will protect the guy she is working.

Rastus and Liza were roller-skating when suddenly Liza fell, but flopped over and came up again with remarkable agility. "Did you see how quick I recovered my equilibrium?" she asked.

"You sho did," Rastus answered, "almost before ah noticed it was uncovered."

Flapper niece: Do you always look under your bed before you say your prayers?

Old Maid Aunt: No, darling, first I say my prayers.

Rip: How was that dame you had at the dance the other night?

Van: Well, she wasn't much of a dancer, but oh boy, could she intermission!
